UNPLEASANT FOR DRUGGISTS

Dope Law Reduces Sale of Narcotic Drugs 80 Per Cent

The question as to whether the Legislative Committee of the Pennsylvania Pharmaceutical Association shall have a bill drafted providing for State antinarcotic regulation to supplement the Harrison Federal Act and afford still further protection to the public, will doubtless come up for discussion at the annual meeting at Reading this year, especially in view of the statements recently made in the newspapers that the number of drug habitues has not decreased.

Declarations have been made by the jobbing and manufacturing interests thru whose hands these narcotic drugs originally pass, that the total amount imported and sold has been reduced about 80 per cent, therefore the conditions referred to must be local and not general.

As the Pennsylvania Pharmaceutical Association was prominently identified with the passage of the Pennsylvania Cocaine Law of 1909, one of the forerunners of the Harrison Act, and has energetically worked for years to aid in the passage of Federal legislation, it gives the members much satisfaction to learn from the First Annual Report of the Internal Revenue Commissioner on the administration of the Harrison Act, that out of 52,187 druggists registered in the United States under this Act, only 216 violations of the law were reported and most of these were of a technical character and not violations of the spirit of the law.

These figures show that over 99.6 per cent of pharmacists are found to be complying with a law, which, so far as they are concerned, is full of hardships, pitfalls and arbitrary requirements. For instance, it is perfectly legal and proper to sell over the counter to any customer certain household remedies or medicines containing minute amounts of narcotic drugs so small to become habit forming and, specifically permitted by the exemption clauses of the Act, but if a prescription is presented calling for any quantity, however small, of one of these preparations compounded with another medicine, that prescription is subject to all of the restrictions which a really habit forming prescription calls for and therefore cannot be renewed.

The multitudinous records and reports and the extraordinary care which must attend all handling of narcotic drugs falls with greater force upon pharmacists than upon physicians.

As the primary object of the law is the benefit of the public and as reports show that this object is being achieved, there is no disposition on the part of pharmacists to do more than protest against such inconsistent rulings as that of Treasury Decision No. 2213, the practical effect of which is explained above. The ruling should either be modified or withdrawn, or else all exemptions should be abolished. As the latter would necessitate the amending of the law itself, it would seem more practical to modify the ruling.

Mrs. Rebecca Hogentogler Well Preserved Old Lady

Mrs. Rebecca Hogentogler, who resides with her daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Cochenauer, in Kilmessville, Saturday celebrated her ninety-eighth birthday. Mrs. Hogentogler, though confined to her chair for a number of years, is remarkably well preserved. She is only slightly deaf and does not require glasses. Her memory of persons, places and things is remarkable, and the name of some old resident will at once bring up some story of the long ago. She is looked after entirely by her daughter, Mrs. Cochenauer, herself seventy-four years old. Mrs. Cochenauer is as remarkable as her mother and has the vigor and sprightliness of a woman twenty years younger than her real age. Both ladies are members of the First English Lutheran church, and a number of the members of that church went to Kilmessville in the afternoon to offer their congratulations and good wishes.

A Distinctive Reason
What is the chief reason for the superiority of Royal Baking Powder?
There are several good reasons, but there is one which distinguishes Royal from other baking powders.
This reason, which every woman should know, is that Royal Baking Powder is made from cream of tartar, which comes from grapes. This means a healthful fruit origin. It means natural food as distinguished from mineral substitutes used in other baking powders.
There is no alum nor phosphate in Royal Baking Powder.

KEYSTONE STATE FAIR
WILL OPEN A NEW ERA IN PENNSYLVANIA LIFE
This Map Shows the Wonderful Location, the Ideal Railroad and Trolley Connections, and the Enormous Population Within a Few Hours' Ride.
Will Be Open to the Public, Fall of 1916
Why Pennsylvania Needs This State Fair and Industrial Exposition
Every community, large or small, should bring its people together at certain intervals to see and discuss the general conditions of living. The same principle applies to a state at large, and Pennsylvania is no exception. Pennsylvania needs a State Fair to enable her people to study the great industries; to bring them in touch with the best and most modern methods of farming and stock raising; to have them see the enthusiastic movement on foot for the betterment of conditions in the field of poultry; and above all to arouse a universal anxiety for the further uplifting of education and art—two pronounced features alone that are worth millions of investment for future generations.
How Pennsylvania Is Preparing
Pennsylvania is preparing for this great Keystone State Fair and Industrial Exposition as no state ever prepared for a State Fair before. Huge sums of money are being expended for a magnificent 410-acre park, on the banks of the beautiful Susquehanna; for the most modern buildings noted architects know how to conceive, including one of the fastest two-mile auto speedways human genius has ever devised. Aside from these large sums of money have been appropriated for the heralding of this momentous event from one end of the State to the other—throughout every county, in every city, town and hamlet—all to firmly imbed in the minds of over seven millions of people the tremendous benefit that is bound to result from this, America's greatest State Fair.
