

CLARENCE SCHOCK
MOUNT JOY, PA.

WE ASK PATRONAGE WE GIVE SERVICE

LUMBER-COAL

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT!

Leinbach's Greatest June Sale Of White
Opened Saturday Morning, the 3rd of June

Very tempting money-saving values will be offered in Women's Dainty Undermuslins, White Goods, Laces Embroideries, Bed Wear, Corsets and other reasonable merchandise.

Double "S. & H." Stamps Until Noon

June Sale Of STATIONERY!
The Greatest Values Ever Offered Here
or in Any Other Store

GOLD INITIAL STATIONERY SPECIAL 29c ACTUAL VALUE 39c High grade white linen finished stationery, new shape envelopes, embossed with heavy gold Old English initial, 24 sheets or 34 correspondence cards with 24 envelopes.	GOLD EDGE STATIONERY SPECIAL 29c ACTUAL VALUE 39c Extra big offering. Superior quality stock, white, pink, lavender, and light blue; new shape envelopes; gold edge envelopes; paper of correspondence cards.
DELFT INITIAL STATIONERY SPECIAL 29c ACTUAL VALUE 39c Delft Blue border and medallion initial; dainty long shape envelopes; excellent quality stock; 24 sheets or 24 correspondence cards, with 24 envelopes.	GOLD INITIAL STATIONERY SPECIAL 19c ACTUAL VALUE 25c Paper or correspondence cards, with 24 envelopes, prettily boxed. Extra good quality stock, gold Old English initials; newest shape, while the lot lasts, 19c.

For Graduation Gifts

Nothing more appropriate, or more acceptable than a box of high class stationery—For the Graduation Gift. Here are all the new things in stationery, white and colors, as well as many lovely novelties, 29c, 50c to $1.00.

Leinbach & Company
LANCASTER, PENNA.

ENJOY your MEALS

Can't, if you're too done up to eat. And you're bound to tire, after a morning in the kitchen, over a coal range. For it's wearing, beyond a woman's strength, to carry wood and haul coal from bin to kitchen.

And you can't control the heat of a coal range. Most times you've far more heat than you need—a waste of fuel—that turns the kitchen into a nerve-racking furnace.

A New Perfection Oil Cook Stove offers you a way to end kitchen drudgery and at the same time to economize, for the Perfection burns kerosene, the cheapest fuel. Think—no coal, no wood, no shaking, no ashes, no fear of the fire going cold. Instead, heat when you want it and exactly as much as you want.

A New Perfection is inexpensive. Ask your dealer to show you its fireless cooker, its separate oven, its combustion chimney, its long-lasting wick. Be sure, though, you use Atlantic Rayolight Oil in your Perfection. That's essential. For it is just as necessary to discriminate in buying kerosene as it is in selecting flour. It takes use to prove either. You don't have to buy a flour on trust; neither need you take a chance on kerosene.

For you can ask for Rayolight with the positive assurance that every gallon will be like every other gallon. A kerosene that will burn without smoke or smell, but that will yield a great and a cheap heat.

With all its advantages Rayolight costs no more than ordinary, unreliable kerosene. Buy it by name, where you see this sign:

THE ATLANTIC REFINING CO.

Keep Out of Columbia Automobiles; Danger

(Continued from page 1)

You can sign on the back of copy and enclose money order for $4.86 costs and the matter will be closed. Yours respectfully,

H. H. HICKEY, Constable, Columbia, Pa.

Mr. Sheetz is charged with allowing his automobile to stand on the public highway, on Second street, in Columbia, without displaying two white lights on the front of his car. Without any objection whatever, Mr. Sheetz had his attorney-in-fact H. G. Carpenter send Squire McCracken, at Columbia, a check for the amount $4.86 of which amount Mr. McCracken received $2.70 and Constable Hickey $2.16, as per an itemized bill sent here by the Justice. Easy money. The fine of $10 was not collected and on the back of the letter was written the following:

I, hereby plead guilty to the with-in charge of violating Automobile Laws, and I also hereby appoint Harry H. Hickey, Attorney in fact to pay costs for me. Fine $10.00 Remitted. Costs, $4.86. Money order herewith for $4.86.

On May 26 or last week Mr. E. H. Zercher, of this place, received the following:

You will please appear before Samuel McCracken, Justice of the Peace, No. 18 N. 4th Street, Columbia, Pa., on Thursday, June 1st, 1916 at 7 o'clock P. M. to answer a charge of violating Auto Law as per copy of complaint enclosed.

In case you do not care to come here, or to save further expense, you can sign on the back of the copy and enclose money order for $4.86 costs and the matter will be closed.

Yours respectfully,
H. H. HICKEY, Constable, Columbia, Penna.

On the back of this letter was also a blank form, identical to the one of Sheetz's. Mr. Zercher appointed H. G. Carpenter his attorney-in-fact who went to Columbia and after an hour's controversy with Squire McCracken and Constable Hickey paid costs for Mr. Zercher to the amount of $4.88 Mr. Zercher was charged with failing to blow his horn at the corner of Fifth and Locust at 7:30 in the morning. Constable Hickey admitted that Mr. Zercher was running very slow. The costs in this case were $2.90 for McCracken and $2.28 for Hickey—more easy money. The fine of $10.00 was also remitted.

When Mr. Zercher's attorney paid the above costs Mr. McCracken balked considerably before giving a receipt for same stating that he was advised by the District Attorney not to proceed as he had done in the Sheetz case as that was a mistake and since he made one mistake he did not want to make another.

The above cases were brought to the attention of some of the leading business men, automobile club officials, and others at Columbia, all claiming they "new nothing of this matter and several claimed that on the face of it, it seemed that these two cases were after the "ready, John" instead of bringing violators (?) to justice, or they would not have resorted to the means they did of notifying violators and telling them to send money orders, and that the charges would then be dropped.

The scribe went to the office of the State Highway Department at Harrisburg and put the question to a head of the department there who informed us that a justice had the right to proceed as McCracken had done but when costs are collected and a man is guilty of violating any of the provisions of Act 21 of the auto laws, "shall be subject to a fine or penalty of not less than $10 nor more than $25." The law further states that said fine shall go to the state and a complete report of such collections must be made to the department every three months. The penalty against a justice for not complying with the act is a fine of not less than $100 nor more than $500 or imprisonment in the county jail for a period of 60 days, or both at the discretion of the Court.

Both Mr. Sheetz and Mr. Zercher are very careful drivers and up to the time of these charges, neither had ever been in an accident or been charged with violating the auto laws and it seemed an imposition to accuse such men of such petty charges as these.

The joke of the Sheetz case is the fact that he was arrested on a charge for which there is no law whatever, governing his situation. The law is plain that all cars must have white lights in front when in operation but white lights are not required on a car that is parked. The state law does not cover this point nor does Columbia have an ordinance covering these charges and if Mr. Sheetz is not reimbursed for his time, trouble and expense we miss our guess.

We would suggest that all auto-ists going to the boro of Columbia be very careful or you'll innocently get yours just as these two Mount Joy men did.

As to the above cases, we are not able to say at present just what the aftermath may be as both have been placed in the hands of attorneys.

RHEEMS

Touring Car From Here Upset Near Anville Last Sunday

Mr. Isaac Kupp and two sons spent Ascension Day at Hershey. A. S. Bard has an unoccupied house for rent. Possession can be given on short notice.

Mr. and Mrs. O. Ream of Elizabethtown were guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Weaver last Sunday.

Mrs. Susan Wolgemuth entertained her sons and daughters, their children and a number of relatives, last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pierce, Postmaster and Mrs. Frank Shank spent Sunday as guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Risser, near Lawn.

Mrs. Laura Keller, Mr. H. H. Bard, daughter Amanda and son Robert were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bless of Donegal, Sunday.

The West Donegal School board has appointed the following teachers for the Rheems school: Mr. Henry Gise of Elizabethtown, principal; Miss Elizabeth Greider, assistant.

Rev. Nathan Martin and wife and a number of members of the Church of the Brethren of the West Green Tree district are attending the annual conference at Lake Winona, Ind.

The Heisey Bros. who have planted 20 acres of potatoes are the first in this vicinity to have hay ready to haul into the barn. The prospects are good for a fair yield of grass and wheat for this season.

Fourteen persons boarded the State College Excursion last Friday, June 2nd. They returned the same evening at 10:45 and all speak with favor of the extensive trip up the mountain and surroundings of State College, Pa.

Mr. Simon H. Landis, proprietor of the East End Garage at Elizabethtown, took the following men to Philadelphia on Saturday: Henry Loosz, J. M. Weaver, C. Behleman and John Warner. The trip was made in a Reo six without any detention.

P. K. Landis and four other farmers met with an unusual experience while ascending a steep hill in the vicinity of Anville, in Mr. Landis' touring car. The engine refused to work while the car was near the top of the hill and the car began to go down the hill. The brakes refused to work and the auto struck a bank with such force as to upset the car. No one was injured but the car was damaged considerably.

AN EXCELLENT RECITAL

Senior Pianoforte Pupils of Miss T. Anna Welsh Render Good Recital

On Friday evening the senior pianoforte pupils of Miss T. Anna Welsh, assisted by Miss Edith Betem, soprano, gave their annual recital in Mount Joy Hall. There was a large audience present and all the participants performed in a very creditable manner. The following excellent program was rendered:

Pearl of Love, Valse Elegante (duet) Misses Frances Beatty and Mary Hershey; Minuet A L'Antique and Pete Champenoise by Clarence Brubaker; Spanish Caprice Miss Caroline Nissly; Spring Showers, Miss Mary Hershey; (a) An Open Secret, (b) Kashmiri Song, (c) Boat Song, by Miss Edith Beetem; Second Mazurka, Polonaise Brillante by Miss Dorothy Myers; Melody of Love, John Baer; La Fleuse (Spinning Song) The Rosary (Pianoforte Transcription) by Miss Emily Newcomer; Persian March (quartette) Frances Beatty, Frances Grissinger, Clarence Brubaker and Oscar Laskewitz; Hark, Hark, The Lark, Miss Caroline Nissly; "Ous Bois (In the Forest) "Mighty Lak a Rose" (Song Without Words) Miss Mildred Fellenbaum; Polonaise, Minuet in G, No. 2, Thomas Bennett; Sing, Smile and Sumner, Miss Edith Beetem; Hortensia, Valse de Concert, Miss Frances Beatty; Balade, G. Minor and Valse Caprice, Oscar Laskewitz; Hungarian Rhapsody, No. 2, Clarence Brubaker; Rustle of Spring, Valse in A Flat, Op. 42, Miss Frances Grissinger; Overture to Poet and Peasant, (quartette) Emily Newcomer, Caroline Nissly, Mildred Fellenbaum and Dorothy Myers.

Strickler Family Reunion

The sixth annual reunion of the Strickler family will be held Thursday, June 8, at Hershey Park, when several hundred descendants of the family organization will be in attendance, including many from Lancaster county. The morning will be devoted to registration, while an interesting literary and musical program has been arranged for the afternoon, which will be participated in by members of the family. A feature of the program will be a history of the Strickler family, to be presented by Prof. Shenk of Lebanon Valley College, a well-known historian. Mr. Shenk is married to Miss Bertha Strickler, who takes an active part in the yearly reunions.

Frey-Wolgemuth

Miss Ada H. Frey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Frey, residing in Manor township near Creswell, and Christian M. Wolgemuth, of East Donegal township, were united in marriage at eleven o'clock Saturday morning at the home of the bride's parents, in the presence of the immediate families and a number of friends. The ceremony was performed by Rev. L. O. Musser, an uncle of the bride. They were attended by Miss Ellen Heisey, of Elizabethtown, and Irwin Frey, a brother of the bride. A reception and dinner followed.

Subscribe for the Mt. Joy Bulletin
Subscribe for the Mt. Joy Bulletin

Home Health Club

WEEKLY ARTICLES WRITTEN EXPRESSLY FOR THE MT. JOY BULLETIN BY DR. DAVID H. REEDER OF CHICAGO, ILL.

Nostalgia: Do you know that "homesickness" is classed as a disease under the name of Nostalgia. Well, if you want to verify the fact just look in the dictionary, possibly you might have to go to the doctor's office and examine a medical dictionary where you would also find that a high degree of Nostalgia or homesickness is called Nostomania.

There is a certain instinct born with us that makes us love and desire to remain at or near the place we call home. In some the desire is great while in others it is so feeble that it is hardly felt.

Several years ago I was in a company of gentlemen in Baltimore, Maryland and a discussion of the merits of various localities became quite spirited. The average Baltimorean will draw himself up to his full height and tell you with a flourish of pride that he is "To the manor born." I have never asked one of them just what he means by the expression, but he means "it all right, and if you transplant him after middle life he suffers with Nostalgia. One of the men present at that time had been born and reared in Virginia where the pride of ancestry and home is even greater than in Maryland. He had been in business in Baltimore for several years, but when asked where he liked best to live he said, "I would rather be at home in old Virginia if I had to live on peanuts, than anywhere else on earth with every luxury you could name." He remained in Baltimore, however, for the sake of his children and the schools. I wonder how many children ever fully appreciate the sacrifice of their parents.

The agricultural department at Washington sent out 55,000 letters to people living in the rural districts, mostly farmers' wives, seeking information about the home life and surroundings. Loneliness was the one great cry. Isolation and the lack of social and educational opportunities cause homesickness for the young wives. In many cases they are kept so busy from daylight to dark that there is but little time for brooding, but in time the loneliness and homesickness tells and the young wife droops and falls in health. The family doctor can find no symptoms of disease and in some cases may brutally call it laziness.

I have seen some desperate cases of Nostalgia, some of which have been quite easily cured by a brief return to the old home where the surroundings are seldom what is pictured by one that has been away for a long time. The young wife is nearly always cured and eager to return to the new home and her husband, after a 2 or 3 weeks stay in the old home.

The telephone, the automobile and the social centers now being established by the agricultural department will in time make country life much more attractive and livable than it has been in the past.

Home Health Club

WEEKLY ARTICLES WRITTEN EXPRESSLY FOR THE MT. JOY BULLETIN BY DR. DAVID H. REEDER OF CHICAGO, ILL.

Nostalgia: Do you know that "homesickness" is classed as a disease under the name of Nostalgia. Well, if you want to verify the fact just look in the dictionary, possibly you might have to go to the doctor's office and examine a medical dictionary where you would also find that a high degree of Nostalgia or homesickness is called Nostomania.

There is a certain instinct born with us that makes us love and desire to remain at or near the place we call home. In some the desire is great while in others it is so feeble that it is hardly felt.

Several years ago I was in a company of gentlemen in Baltimore, Maryland and a discussion of the merits of various localities became quite spirited. The average Baltimorean will draw himself up to his full height and tell you with a flourish of pride that he is "To the manor born." I have never asked one of them just what he means by the expression, but he means "it all right, and if you transplant him after middle life he suffers with Nostalgia. One of the men present at that time had been born and reared in Virginia where the pride of ancestry and home is even greater than in Maryland. He had been in business in Baltimore for several years, but when asked where he liked best to live he said, "I would rather be at home in old Virginia if I had to live on peanuts, than anywhere else on earth with every luxury you could name." He remained in Baltimore, however, for the sake of his children and the schools. I wonder how many children ever fully appreciate the sacrifice of their parents.

The agricultural department at Washington sent out 55,000 letters to people living in the rural districts, mostly farmers' wives, seeking information about the home life and surroundings. Loneliness was the one great cry. Isolation and the lack of social and educational opportunities cause homesickness for the young wives. In many cases they are kept so busy from daylight to dark that there is but little time for brooding, but in time the loneliness and homesickness tells and the young wife droops and falls in health. The family doctor can find no symptoms of disease and in some cases may brutally call it laziness.

I have seen some desperate cases of Nostalgia, some of which have been quite easily cured by a brief return to the old home where the surroundings are seldom what is pictured by one that has been away for a long time. The young wife is nearly always cured and eager to return to the new home and her husband, after a 2 or 3 weeks stay in the old home.

The telephone, the automobile and the social centers now being established by the agricultural department will in time make country life much more attractive and livable than it has been in the past.

Home Health Club

WEEKLY ARTICLES WRITTEN EXPRESSLY FOR THE MT. JOY BULLETIN BY DR. DAVID H. REEDER OF CHICAGO, ILL.

Nostalgia: Do you know that "homesickness" is classed as a disease under the name of Nostalgia. Well, if you want to verify the fact just look in the dictionary, possibly you might have to go to the doctor's office and examine a medical dictionary where you would also find that a high degree of Nostalgia or homesickness is called Nostomania.

There is a certain instinct born with us that makes us love and desire to remain at or near the place we call home. In some the desire is great while in others it is so feeble that it is hardly felt.

Several years ago I was in a company of gentlemen in Baltimore, Maryland and a discussion of the merits of various localities became quite spirited. The average Baltimorean will draw himself up to his full height and tell you with a flourish of pride that he is "To the manor born." I have never asked one of them just what he means by the expression, but he means "it all right, and if you transplant him after middle life he suffers with Nostalgia. One of the men present at that time had been born and reared in Virginia where the pride of ancestry and home is even greater than in Maryland. He had been in business in Baltimore for several years, but when asked where he liked best to live he said, "I would rather be at home in old Virginia if I had to live on peanuts, than anywhere else on earth with every luxury you could name." He remained in Baltimore, however, for the sake of his children and the schools. I wonder how many children ever fully appreciate the sacrifice of their parents.

The agricultural department at Washington sent out 55,000 letters to people living in the rural districts, mostly farmers' wives, seeking information about the home life and surroundings. Loneliness was the one great cry. Isolation and the lack of social and educational opportunities cause homesickness for the young wives. In many cases they are kept so busy from daylight to dark that there is but little time for brooding, but in time the loneliness and homesickness tells and the young wife droops and falls in health. The family doctor can find no symptoms of disease and in some cases may brutally call it laziness.

I have seen some desperate cases of Nostalgia, some of which have been quite easily cured by a brief return to the old home where the surroundings are seldom what is pictured by one that has been away for a long time. The young wife is nearly always cured and eager to return to the new home and her husband, after a 2 or 3 weeks stay in the old home.

The telephone, the automobile and the social centers now being established by the agricultural department will in time make country life much more attractive and livable than it has been in the past.

Home Health Club

WEEKLY ARTICLES WRITTEN EXPRESSLY FOR THE MT. JOY BULLETIN BY DR. DAVID H. REEDER OF CHICAGO, ILL.

Nostalgia: Do you know that "homesickness" is classed as a disease under the name of Nostalgia. Well, if you want to verify the fact just look in the dictionary, possibly you might have to go to the doctor's office and examine a medical dictionary where you would also find that a high degree of Nostalgia or homesickness is called Nostomania.

There is a certain instinct born with us that makes us love and desire to remain at or near the place we call home. In some the desire is great while in others it is so feeble that it is hardly felt.

Several years ago I was in a company of gentlemen in Baltimore, Maryland and a discussion of the merits of various localities became quite spirited. The average Baltimorean will draw himself up to his full height and tell you with a flourish of pride that he is "To the manor born." I have never asked one of them just what he means by the expression, but he means "it all right, and if you transplant him after middle life he suffers with Nostalgia. One of the men present at that time had been born and reared in Virginia where the pride of ancestry and home is even greater than in Maryland. He had been in business in Baltimore for several years, but when asked where he liked best to live he said, "I would rather be at home in old Virginia if I had to live on peanuts, than anywhere else on earth with every luxury you could name." He remained in Baltimore, however, for the sake of his children and the schools. I wonder how many children ever fully appreciate the sacrifice of their parents.

The agricultural department at Washington sent out 55,000 letters to people living in the rural districts, mostly farmers' wives, seeking information about the home life and surroundings. Loneliness was the one great cry. Isolation and the lack of social and educational opportunities cause homesickness for the young wives. In many cases they are kept so busy from daylight to dark that there is but little time for brooding, but in time the loneliness and homesickness tells and the young wife droops and falls in health. The family doctor can find no symptoms of disease and in some cases may brutally call it laziness.

I have seen some desperate cases of Nostalgia, some of which have been quite easily cured by a brief return to the old home where the surroundings are seldom what is pictured by one that has been away for a long time. The young wife is nearly always cured and eager to return to the new home and her husband, after a 2 or 3 weeks stay in the old home.

The telephone, the automobile and the social centers now being established by the agricultural department will in time make country life much more attractive and livable than it has been in the past.

Home Health Club

WEEKLY ARTICLES WRITTEN EXPRESSLY FOR THE MT. JOY BULLETIN BY DR. DAVID H. REEDER OF CHICAGO, ILL.

Nostalgia: Do you know that "homesickness" is classed as a disease under the name of Nostalgia. Well, if you want to verify the fact just look in the dictionary, possibly you might have to go to the doctor's office and examine a medical dictionary where you would also find that a high degree of Nostalgia or homesickness is called Nostomania.

There is a certain instinct born with us that makes us love and desire to remain at or near the place we call home. In some the desire is great while in others it is so feeble that it is hardly felt.

Several years ago I was in a company of gentlemen in Baltimore, Maryland and a discussion of the merits of various localities became quite spirited. The average Baltimorean will draw himself up to his full height and tell you with a flourish of pride that he is "To the manor born." I have never asked one of them just what he means by the expression, but he means "it all right, and if you transplant him after middle life he suffers with Nostalgia. One of the men present at that time had been born and reared in Virginia where the pride of ancestry and home is even greater than in Maryland. He had been in business in Baltimore for several years, but when asked where he liked best to live he said, "I would rather be at home in old Virginia if I had to live on peanuts, than anywhere else on earth with every luxury you could name." He remained in Baltimore, however, for the sake of his children and the schools. I wonder how many children ever fully appreciate the sacrifice of their parents.

The agricultural department at Washington sent out 55,000 letters to people living in the rural districts, mostly farmers' wives, seeking information about the home life and surroundings. Loneliness was the one great cry. Isolation and the lack of social and educational opportunities cause homesickness for the young wives. In many cases they are kept so busy from daylight to dark that there is but little time for brooding, but in time the loneliness and homesickness tells and the young wife droops and falls in health. The family doctor can find no symptoms of disease and in some cases may brutally call it laziness.

I have seen some desperate cases of Nostalgia, some of which have been quite easily cured by a brief return to the old home where the surroundings are seldom what is pictured by one that has been away for a long time. The young wife is nearly always cured and eager to return to the new home and her husband, after a 2 or 3 weeks stay in the old home.

The telephone, the automobile and the social centers now being established by the agricultural department will in time make country life much more attractive and livable than it has been in the past.

Home Health Club

WEEKLY ARTICLES WRITTEN EXPRESSLY FOR THE MT. JOY BULLETIN BY DR. DAVID H. REEDER OF CHICAGO, ILL.

Nostalgia: Do you know that "homesickness" is classed as a disease under the name of Nostalgia. Well, if you want to verify the fact just look in the dictionary, possibly you might have to go to the doctor's office and examine a medical dictionary where you would also find that a high degree of Nostalgia or homesickness is called Nostomania.

There is a certain instinct born with us that makes us love and desire to remain at or near the place we call home. In some the desire is great while in others it is so feeble that it is hardly felt.

Several years ago I was in a company of gentlemen in Baltimore, Maryland and a discussion of the merits of various localities became quite spirited. The average Baltimorean will draw himself up to his full height and tell you with a flourish of pride that he is "To the manor born." I have never asked one of them just what he means by the expression, but he means "it all right, and if you transplant him after middle life he suffers with Nostalgia. One of the men present at that time had been born and reared in Virginia where the pride of ancestry and home is even greater than in Maryland. He had been in business in Baltimore for several years, but when asked where he liked best to live he said, "I would rather be at home in old Virginia if I had to live on peanuts, than anywhere else on earth with every luxury you could name." He remained in Baltimore, however, for the sake of his children and the schools. I wonder how many children ever fully appreciate the sacrifice of their parents.

The agricultural department at Washington sent out 55,000 letters to people living in the rural districts, mostly farmers' wives, seeking information about the home life and surroundings. Loneliness was the one great cry. Isolation and the lack of social and educational opportunities cause homesickness for the young wives. In many cases they are kept so busy from daylight to dark that there is but little time for brooding, but in time the loneliness and homesickness tells and the young wife droops and falls in health. The family doctor can find no symptoms of disease and in some cases may brutally call it laziness.

I have seen some desperate cases of Nostalgia, some of which have been quite easily cured by a brief return to the old home where the surroundings are seldom what is pictured by one that has been away for a long time. The young wife is nearly always cured and eager to return to the new home and her husband, after a 2 or 3 weeks stay in the old home.

The telephone, the automobile and the social centers now being established by the agricultural department will in time make country life much more attractive and livable than it has been in the past.

IT'S NOW OR NEVER FOR YOURS

Prepare yourself Against Inevitable Higher Prices, by Taking Advantage of the Low Prices That Prevail In Our Great

JUNE PREPAREDNESS SALE

Prices on everything, Everywhere are advancing rapidly. We looked ahead and so we're not behind. We prepared by buying heavily, months ago, when the market was low.

It's Doubtful If You'll Be Able To Again Buy At Our Present Low Sale Prices For Many a Day.

A Word To The Wise Is Sufficient

The Donovan Company

Successors to Williamson & Foster & Cochran

32-38 E. King St., Lancaster, Pa.