Spraying Removes Heat-All
The pernicious little blue-dorward mint known also as self-heal, heal-all or carpenter weed mars the beauty of many lawns. The plant is recognized by its upright spike of little two-tipped flowers and by the stouping habit it frequently assumes on lawns. In fields it may attain a height of more than a foot.
Heal-all ordinarily may be removed by the use of an iron sulphate spray, one hundred pounds of the chemical to fifty gallons of water. This is the minimum strength for effective use, state authorities at the Pennsylvania State College. A slightly stronger solution may affect the grass temporarily, but it will kill the weed.
Spraying is recommended by the botany department at State College during clear weather. Rain may wash the sulphate from the plants. Dew, however, is desirable. A hand sprayer with the Vermorel type of nozzle is suggested.

Brood Sows on Blue-Grass
The Penna. State College School of Agriculture and Experiment Station is conducting an experiment to compare the cost of winter and summer feeding of brood sows and the cost of keeping brood sows for one year. During the winter part of these sows were fed alfalfa hay alone and the rest shelled corn and alfalfa hay. The best gains were made when shelled corn supplemented the alfalfa hay.
These sows have been placed on blue-grass pasture for the summer. In addition to the blue-grass they are fed two pounds of corn daily. It is possible that the corn may be eliminated later.
This experiment should furnish some interesting data both as to the relative values of feeds and the cost of maintenance.

Plans Are Completed
Plans have been made by the members of the Masonic Fraternity of Allegheny county to erect their memorial at the Masonic Home at Elizabethtown and the ground will be broken next week. The corner-stone will be laid on Labor Day, Monday, September 4, with very elaborate ceremonies.
This is the Pittsburgh group of buildings and is known as the "Allegheny County Memorial." It will consist of three buildings and will have a frontage of 215 feet and with a depth of 70 feet. The buildings will be connected with a covered passageway. The structure will cost between $80,000 and $100,000. The memorial will be built of Holmesburg granite and will be finished in the general style and character so as to conform with Grand Lodge Hall.

Clam Bake at Marietta
An all-day outing and old-fashioned Rhode Island Clam Bake was held at Duffy's Park, one-half mile north of Marietta on Thursday by Donald C. Duffy, of Marietta, it being an annual affair. There were many men prominent from Lancaster, Philadelphia, Harrisburg, Marietta and other places, and it was a decided success in every way. The visitors that arrived by train were conveyed to the park in automobiles. Among the features introduced was the "sea fish" by Professor Sipple. A number of speeches were made, and it was a general success in every way.

Good Place for the Purpose
T. Everett Harre arrived last Friday at Round Top where he will spend the summer writing a new novel for the J. B. Lippincott Company. Mr. Harre confirms the report of the sale of the moving picture rights of his novel to the Vitagraph Company. He will personally assist in directing the putting on of the drama at the plants of the Vitagraph in Long Island and at Los Angeles, California. Mr. Harre was accompanied to Round Top by his secretary, Mr. Earnest Amort, of New York city.

Abolish Free Seeds
The U. S. Senate Monday, following its annual custom, voted to strike from the agricultural bill the appropriation for seed to be distributed by members of Congress to their constituents. Its item heretofore always has been restored in conference.
When he says, "I stand for straight Americanism," the nation's most prominent ex-president understates his position. He not only stands but he fights!

HEAT FLASHES, DIZZY, NERVOUS
Mrs. Wynn Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helped Her During Change of Life.
Richmond, Va.—"After taking seven bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I feel like a new woman. I always had a headache during the Change of Life and was also troubled with other bad feelings common at that time—dizzy spells, nervous feelings and heat flashes. Now I am in better health than I ever was and recommend your remedies to all my friends."—Mrs. LENA WYNN, 2812 E. O Street, Richmond, Va.
While Change of Life is a most critical period of a woman's existence, the annoying symptoms which accompany it may be controlled, and normal health restored by the timely use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.
Such warning symptoms are a sense of suffocation, hot flashes, headaches, backaches, dread of impending evil, timidity, sounds in the ears, palpitation of the heart, sparks before the eyes, irregularities, constipation, variable appetite, weakness and inquietude, and dizziness.
For these abnormal conditions do not fail to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Pay Your Obligations
As a result of the failure of a number of citizens to make good their subscriptions made to the Lancaster Y. M. C. A., about six years ago, during a $100,000 campaign, the directors have begun action against the delinquents. Claims have been handed to a magistrate for collection.

RICH CHURCHGOERS.
Non-Churchgoing is Not One of the Sins of the Plutocrats.
Among the sins of the plutocrats it seems that non-churchgoing cannot hold a place. This was discovered at the satisfaction of The Home Herald (Chicago) which was spurred on to an investigation by the pessimistic declaration of "a preacher of one of our large churches" that not fifty of this city's rich men could be found attending church. The Home Herald took up the challenge and addressed a number of prominent clergymen. Dr. Edward Everett Hale, in one of the last letters he ever wrote, asserted that he didn't know many rich men, but "as it happens all that I know, have been very regular attendants at church." Dr. Parkhurst and Dr. MacArthur, of New York, supported in the main this assertion, the former writing:
"Almost all of those who, in this city, are phenomenally wealthy and whose names are widely known—such as Rockefeller, the Vanderbilts, the Goulds, the Morgans, and the Kennedys—and I might add the names of several representative families such as the Dodges, the Jameses, the Jesups, the Hartleys, and the Stokeses—three of four of whom are recently deceased—who not only attend church but are contributors to the maintenance of the church."

Mustard is grown in England to a considerable extent in the eastern counties and the Fen district and to some extent in the Midlands. It is ordinarily grown in heavy black soil, but it is generally believed that the crop draws a great deal of strength from the soil. The yield on an acre is variable, ranging from twenty to thirty bushels, but twenty bushels is usually considered a fair yield. The seed rate is usually about three to four pounds an acre when drilled in rows from ten to twelve inches apart.

"Berle", from which Berlin has caught her name, means uncultivated land. Slavonian Wends, the earliest settlers on the sandy plain, could make but little out of the soil. The population in 1852 was only a quarter of a million; less than forty years later it was 300,000, and now it runs into two millions. The man who gave to Berlin its present form was Frederick II, but Frederick the Great and the Great Elector started the noble hobby of beautifying the wonderful city.
