IMPORTANT ROAD PLAN

Auto Club Wants Improved Highway from Lancaster to Maryland

Improvement of the main highway from the Lancaster city limits to the Maryland state line—that is the big task the Lancaster Automobile Club has undertaken it having decided at its meeting at Green Tree Hotel, east of Quarryville, on Friday evening, August 18, to put all its power behind a movement for this purpose. That section has been practically isolated from the county seat and the building of a good road to connect it with Lancaster has been a long felt want. President Atlee in supporting the movement which was started by L. F. McAllister, of Quarryville, when he introduced a resolution pledging the club to the campaign, declared this movement the most important matter before the club and the most important road proposition in the county. County Commissioner D. F. Magee stated the improvement of the main artery of travel north and south through Quarryville would have a double value as there is a movement afoot now to have the road from Quarryville to Oxford improved, and the success of both plans would give Oxford a good road the entire distance to Lancaster. It was decided to appoint a committee of five members of the club to be charged with the duty of circulating petitions and of the general conduct of the campaign.

President Atlee in endorsing the movement stated that the State is not doing its full duty in road building. Of the three million of dollars spent annually two and a half come from automobile licenses. He advocated the expenditure of four to five millions annually by the State and the utilization of the automobile license money to maintenance, stating that if it is the automobiles that wear out the roads let it be the automobile money that keeps them in repair.

Owing to the epidemic of infantile paralysis it was decided to postpone indefinitely the run for the inmates of the Children's Home, and for the same reason the Sociability Run to Hershey is being held in abeyance.

The campaign of the club for a subway under the P. R. R. tracks at the Manheim pike crossing it was reported has about been attended with success the railroad company having submitted plans for the building of the subway which it announced it is ready to go ahead with.

More safety for users of the highways was urged by President Atlee who referring to the number of accidents resulting from glaring headlights, asked the members to set an example for other motorists by installing dimmers to be used in approaching other machines. He also spoke of the effect upon other motorists if members would set an example in the conservative handling of their machines. This would tend to reduce speeding.

Complaint having been received about the danger of trolley poles on the right side of the turnpikes it was decided to take the matter before the Public Service Commission. It was also decided to prosecute Lancaster for the bad condition of certain streets if not repaired in thirty days and to request the authorities to adopt regulation for the proper oiling of the highways. The Public Service Commission will be asked to make rates for auto trucks using the pikes if the company does not make reasonable charges.

Ninety-three new members were elected, the greatest number at any one meeting. Thirty-six were secured by one man, G. A. B. Zook. The September meeting will be held at Ironville.

War Relic

Dr. S. R. Nissley of Elizabethtown who served as a surgeon of a cavalry regiment during the Civil War, has in his possession a relic of the war which he highly appreciates. It is a $500 bond of the Confederate States of America, issued February 17, 1864, and is due or payable on the first day of July 1894. The duties on export of cotton and tobacco as well as those of imports are pledged for the payment of the interest. Six per cent semiannually on the first day of January and July while the face of the bond is to be paid in specie at its maturity. The bond has sixty coupons attached, the first being due January 1, 1865. Printed in black and on the face of the coupon is a picture representing a general who is mounted on a spirited horse, having his right arm and index finger extended, indicating that he was leading his troop into action towards the enemy.

WEEKLY ARTICLES WRITTEN EXPRESSLY FOR THE MT. JOY BULLETIN BY DR. DAVID H. REEDER OF CHICAGO, ILL.

A Foul Breath and Its Cause—
(From Ideal Life) "Few things are more offensive than a foul breath. The possessor of an offensive breath should leave no stone unturned until the cause is removed. There is always a cause for such a condition, and the skillful physician can find it. It may be located in the nose, the teeth, the tonsils, the stomach or in the body generally. A single decayed tooth may cause a very foul breath. An ulcer of the nose or even a catarrhal condition of the nose may produce it. The foul breath of the fever patient is well known."

Many a time foul breath is caused by poisons being locked up in the system. Constipation may be the source; so may an obstructive condition of the skin. That onions will produce a foul breath is a notorious fact, but it is not so well known that other articles of food may be the source of other offensive odors from the breath and from the body in general. Many persons do not know that these conditions are removable.

Certain constitutional diseases, especially Syphilis, may produce a very foul odor. Some persons are afflicted with offensive sweating of the feet, which does not yield to frequent washing. Most of these cases can be cured by some very simple remedies taken internally. Other persons have very offensive perspiration from the armpits. This also will often yield to simple remedies administered internally.

Baby Feeding Hints: "Baby is often thirsty and not hungry. A baby is 85 per cent. water and only 15 per cent. solid."

If baby's stool is green and there is colic, give some cereal food preparation for twenty-four hours. Usually in that time or within thirty-six hours at most the stool will become normal.

If the baby's food comes up yellowish, there is too much cream in the food. If it comes up curdled, there is too much milk in the food. Cut down the amount of milk temporarily a half by adding water, and subtracting milk. If the bowels are constipated, add more cream to the food. The tendency of mother or nurse is to feed the baby too often. If the baby is fed every three hours right on the minute, missing one feeding at night, it will be easier for all.

If baby becomes chafed and the skin is raw, the cause is overfeeding or the washing of the diapers in harsh soap or it is because the nurse has allowed the diapers to remain wet on the child for a long time."

GOODS ON APPROVAL

Little Talks on Health & Hygiene by Samuel G. Dixon, M. D.

It is the custom with many firms to send certain classes of goods to their customer's homes on approval. If they are not satisfactory the prospective purchaser has the privilege of exchanging them. Obviously it is impossible for the salesman to know what conditions are in the house where such goods go, who handles them and how they are tried or examined. The possibility of spreading communicable disease is very real.

When new things go into a home, curiosity and interest is naturally aroused in all the members of the family. Children and adults join in the examination.

Of course where there are cases of communicable diseases which have been reported and quarantined no goods are delivered on approval. There are often cases of disease, however, in the early stages unrecognized or so mild in form as to make it seem unnecessary to call a physician. Into these homes merchandise is delivered without question.

Modern salesmanship is far removed from the sharp barter of earlier days and fair dealing and honest representation are recognized as necessary foundations for success.

Sending goods on approval however, is carrying things so far that it may result in harm to the purchaser.

During all the hot, dry weather of this month the tobacco crop is rushing along toward the curing shed, and not a thing seems the matter with it but the want of a little more rain.

Among the parties to spend the Sabbath with Dr. B. E. Kendig and wife were as follows: Willis G. Kendig and wife, Mrs. Kencade and sister-in-law Miss Kencade of Philadelphia.

Fortunately no cases of Infantile Paralysis to report this summer though we still have among us a few hopeless cripples to remind us of the visit of that terrible foe of child life and health several years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Herr on Sunday entertained their son Ira and family, C. M. and family of Kinderhook, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Herr of Folkston, Georgia and Rev. Amos Hottenstein and Roy Eby of Petersburg.

Four years ago Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Herr moved to Georgia. They are here now for the first time, visiting the Herr and Wittle families. They like their Southern home, expect to go back after a two weeks stay.

Mr. James Kendig writes home from Shippensburg, that he resigned his position at that place and will return home the latter part of this week to arrange for his return to State College for a try to secure the much coveted diploma.

Abram Hess and family of Reading, Mr. Jacob Keener and family of Lititz, were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Martin Moore on Sunday. They also called at the home of their brother Benjamin Keener, whose wife is on the sick list.

Our farmers hereabouts are awake to the importance of phosphate for the land and each one is supplying himself with a liberal supply of bran as that supplies the much needed plant food cheaper through the manure pile than by the patent fertilizer route.

Must Practice Economy

A number of the large dailies are cutting down the size of their papers on account of the scarcity of paper. In New York the restaurants are even reducing the size of their menu cards for the same reason. Now the Bulletin will not reduce its size but it will practice economy by cutting off those subscribers who are in arrears if they don't soon come across. If the printer ever needed money he does now, especially when the cost of news is so very high.

That British blacklist should be relegated to the scrap of paper class.

Villa has no reason to envy the storied at with its miserable quota of only nine lives.

Some baseball teams merely enter a league, while others stay the season out.

It still seems that if the dove shall try to return to Europe it will do so at its own risk.
