EDITORIALS

Mr. Fay, the strike leader, believes in a walk-out without stopping to arbitrate.

Another celebrated organization having its troubles is the Brotherhood of Man.

Some presidential critics now have a chance to show what they would do in a crisis.

The way women are shooting down in this country is becoming really terrifying.

It's a blessing that the cooks do not go to the mountains and seashore in summer.

It's a wonder the Philadelphia Athletics Team didn't go and join the National Guard in a body.

Did you ever hear of a man so unaccustomed to telling the truth that his face will lie to a camera?

Those inclined to the belief that the movies stop at nothing forget that Billy Sunday hasn't signed up yet.

Speaking of handshaking, would Mr. Hughes be any better able than Mr. Wilson to stand the switchman's grip?

Now that print paper is to be made from banana trees typographical slip-ups will be readily made.

Will Mr. Hughes, as part of his campaign for preparedness, promise to restore the "wine mess" to the navy?

Villa's power may be gone and all that, but somehow or other we feel that things would be much safer if the bandit were too.

Should the Bulgarian populace carry out its threats, King Ferdinand would like to be deposited in a southeasterly direction.

Jewelers have pronounced the wrist watch snearproof; on the principle, perhaps, that its wearer will stand for anything.

As soon as people begin to eat food that is not denatured they will have enough energy to demand other needed reforms.

It is now being obtained from the dust which escapes from the smelters at cement factories, which heretofore was wasted in the air.

The Gibble carpenter gang with the assistance of a multitude of our neighbors raised the new tobacco shed for John R. Gibble last Saturday.

The other day one of our hired boys was sent to a neighbor for a potato digger; not knowing what such a tool was returned with a manure hook.

Since our Sunday Schools have been closed by the State Health authorities, wouldn't it be a good thing for parents to teach their children the lesson at home?

Tobacco buyers were flooding the country last week buying the unharvested crop. Many of our folks have sold for good prices. Twelve cents has been promised for the hailcut weed.

Rev. H. J. Behney, pastor of Ruh's U. B. Church, visited Wm. J. Werner, who is confined to his bed with an infected leg for more than two weeks, but who is now on a fair way to recovery.

Miss Eshleman Awarded
Still the interest grows in the trade extension campaign that is going on at Chandler's Drug Store.

Last Wednesday, September 6th, Miss Blanche Eshleman was awarded the lady's gold chain and cross and six of Rogers' Silver Spoon Spoons.

We notice that next Wednesday, September 13, a gold plated knife, one cold meat fork and one large berry spoon will be given away to the one having the greatest amount of checks.

Those interested in the campaign and their achievement and their many friends as well should keep on the firing line as Sept. 27 dispenses of the fifty dollar diamond ring.

Perhaps there are special reasons why New York has an epidemic of infantile paralysis. Complaints are made in the New York papers that a dead horse lying in the street, although reported to the Board of Health, was left to decay in a crowded neighborhood as undisturbed as if it were on the prairie, and that in one city block, three dead cats are still lying waiting to be buried.

Thus infantile paralysis can be shown.
