LOOKING FOR A GOOD LOCATION

ANY ONE INTERESTED IN THIS ENTERPRISE CAN COMMUNICATE WITH PARTIES INTERESTED

On Saturday we were handed the following communication which was received by Dr. J. J. Newpher, secretary of our local Board of Trade. The letter speaks for itself.

I am looking for a location to erect a small factory, or take over one not in use that can be enlarged if it became necessary. Would prefer a locality that would stand a Real Estate development and additional homes in connection with manufacturing expansion. The number of persons employed at first would be small, but would increase rapidly.

Does your community need such an enterprise? I have capital to partly finance the proposition and would expect to interest local capital for the balance. Would not be interested if this could not be done.

Or, will invest capital in a going manufacturing plant that needs expansion, managerial and sales ability, and would later add a new product.

If your answer looks favorable, the writer will make a visit to your town and look over the situation. In answering, please state full particulars, by addressing:

F. P. Post Office Box 365, Lancaster, Pa.

We would suggest that any person interested in a project of this kind should get in communication with the above party. As far as the Board of Trade is concerned we don't think any action will be taken as so many similar inquiries did not look good to them.

This proposition may however, interest individuals.

Stolen Auto Found

COMPLETE FIRST TROLLEY SURVEY

STARTS FROM THE SQUARE IN MANHEIM AND RUNS TWENTY MILES TO VIAN—CONNECTS THERE WITH THE ELIZABETH-TOWN LINE

The preliminary survey of the proposed trolley line between Manheim and Hershey, to connect with the Elizabethtown line of the Hershey transit system, was completed this week.

The preliminary survey starts from a historic point, Manheim's wide and oblong square, at the ends of which Baron Steigel, the founder of the town, built his mansion and his business office with brick imported from England and brought from Philadelphia in teams, more than a century and a half ago. The line then runs first in a westerly direction, passing the pumping station of the Manheim Water Company, thence by Old Line, Union Square, Mastersonville, Lawn, Upper Lawn, Bachmanville and terminating at or near Vian on the Elizabethtown line of the Hershey Transit Company. It traverses a beautiful, undulating country, with attractive settlements and excellent farms. It will serve a total population of near 10,000, and when finally determined, the distance will be somewhat under twenty miles from Manheim to Hershey.

Earlier in the year committees waited on M. S. Hershey and asked his co-operation in the enterprise. They pointed out that Manheim, a thriving town of over 3,000 population, with important industries, and the towns and the rich farm country to the west of it had no satisfactory means of transportation to Hershey and Harrisburg and other western points. In order to go to Harrisburg the people of Manheim must travel south to Lancaster or north to Lebanon, which means loss of time, in addition to the expense. Moreover, they desired to be directly connected with the growth going on in and around Hershey.

Wolf, of Harrisburg. The new ministers preached at a public meeting at night. The conference will continue until Monday, and on Sunday there will be afternoon and evening public meetings. Appointments of pastors will be made tomorrow.

AUTO TRUCK IN A WRECK

Struck a Telephone Pole and Was Badly Damaged Thursday

A large Mack truck owned by the Commercial Auto Company, of Harrisburg, figured in quite an accident at the culvert west of Florin last Thursday.

The chauffeur was thrown out and sustained an injured hand. The two front springs of the truck were broken, as well as the radius rod, fender, as well as the steering gear. A roadster that was passing at the time, narrowly escaped being hit by the big truck when it skidded.

He discovered that in his time he met and conversed with seven generations of his relations, the first one born on September 15, 1778 and the last one born March 28, 1914, who is Chester Y. Ruhl, of Landisville, and he is the tenth generation from his earliest ancestor in America.

KIDDIES FAIR DAY IS FRIDAY

DR. DIXON LIFTS BARRIER AGAINST CHILDREN AT THE COUNTY FAIR—CHILDREN ADMITTED FREE

Hurrah! The edict has gone forth that the pupils of the public schools can have and will have their day at the County Fair. This announcement has been made by Secretary Jacob F. Seldomridge, of the Lancaster County Fair Association, on the authority of Dr. Dixon, the State Health Commissioner, and as a consequence the heart of about every youngster in the county will be filled to overflowing. The children, after being denied many of the amusements so dear to the heart of childhood during the long summer season and the protracted school vacation, can break their fast at the county fair and a more fitting place or occasion could not be imagined.

It had been the custom in previous years to have Children's Day at the fair on Tuesday, but the State quarantine this year made this an impossibility, although the officers of the Lancaster Fair Association did everything in their power to have Dr. Dixon modify his quarantine order in order that the youngsters might attend the fair. The quarantine order was to have ceased on Friday, September 29, the day the local fair closed, and as matters stood it looked very much as if the children would be denied. As a final endeavor to establish a day for the kiddies Secretary Seldomridge went to Harrisburg on Thursday and had a conference with the State Health authorities. The latter did not mean to work a hardship upon the youngsters so they officially notified Mr. Seldomridge that he could hold his Children's Day on Friday, September 29, and there would be no interference.

Friday, September 29—that will be the day at the fair for the school children and all of them are invited to come and stay all day. Thousands of free admission tickets have been printed by the fair association and these will be distributed to youngsters at all the grade schools into the fair grounds and the officials have the tickets printed and have to do with themselves to the best of their ability they will be supplied with necessary admission tickets. Let every youngster turn out and get a free ticket and see the fair all day. Friday will be the day and the hours will be any time at all. Parents or any older person can take the youngsters and tickets for the latter will be free. The fair association is glad for the opportunity to make the youngsters happy.
