

Horses and Kerosene

You wouldn't expect your horse to work without good substantial feed, would you? He couldn't pull a load uphill or take a rig skimming over the road without the right kind of hay and grain.

It's the same with your lamp and oil stove. You can't expect a good, brilliant light and steady heat from inferior kerosene. Give them

ATLANTIC Rayolight OIL

Don't blame that hazy, flickering light on the lamp. Don't condemn your heater, it's doing its best to keep you warm with ordinary kerosene. Use Atlantic Rayolight Oil. It's so highly refined, so perfectly pure that it gives a clear, mellow light or an even, comforting heat without smelling, smoking or charring the wicks.

Atlantic Rayolight Oil costs no more than the ordinary kinds. Always ask for it by name.

It's mighty handy to have a barrel of Atlantic Rayolight Oil on hand when the snow begins to fly. Insist on seeing the brand name on the barrel. It's your guarantee of the highest grade kerosene possible to produce.

was employed on the Reading Railroad for three years, after which he prepared for the ministry, which he entered in 1873 and served for 43 years. His early charges were in Chebauc Island, West Baldwin and Ogunquit, Maine; then in New Jersey, and last at Thorndale, Pa.

The reminiscences of both Brother and Mrs. De Huze, in their early married life, as clergyman and wife in the rural districts of Maine, the quaint manners and generous character of the people were exceedingly interesting. Impaired health with advancing age brought his active ministry to a close, and to the Homes he is now serving as Chaplain.

Ashara Lodge, No. 398, of Marietta, selected Sunday, October 22, 1916, as their date to conduct the Religious Services at the Homes. In the performance of this Fraternal act of kindness, as an additional evidence of their interest in the Homes, they brought with them their families and friends to the number of one hundred. The services were impressive and inspiring, the well rendered music adding both beauty and inspiration.

Brother E. Linwood Cornman, Worshipful Master of Ashara Lodge, No. 398, presided at the services. The Rev. William J. Lowe, Pastor of the Reformed Church of Maytown and a member of Chandler Lodge, No. 227, of Reading, preached the sermon. He was assisted in the services by Rev. J. E. Deacon, Pastor of the First M. E. Church of Marietta, and a member of Casiphia Lodge, No. 551. The musical features were solos by Miss Sue Spangler, Miss Edna Hipple and Mr. Howard Kelly, and two anthems by the Boy and Girl Choir of the Homes.

The Homes are again called upon to mourn the loss, by death, of an aged and esteemed guest, in the person of Brother John Borland, D. D. S., which occurred on Friday afternoon, October 20, 1916, after a lingering illness.

Brother John Borland was born near Delmont, Westmoreland County, Pa., on February 18, 1836. He graduated from the Philadelphia Dental College, and practiced dentistry for nearly forty years in Butler and Mercer Counties, since 1882 in Grove City. He also published a weekly newspaper at Karns City, and at Grove City. He retired from active life on account of failing health and eye-sight. He was admitted to the Homes on November 19, 1913. He is survived by two sons, Frank R. and John W. Borland.

Funeral services were held at the Homes on Monday afternoon at 2:30 P. M., conducted by Rev. Dallas M. De Huze, Chaplain of the Homes. Interment was made in the Masonic Homes' Cemetery, with Masonic ceremonies conducted by Lodge No. 682 of Elizabethtown.

Past Grand Master, Brother George E. Orlady, President Judge of the Superior Court of Pennsylvania, one of the leaders in the active movement which crystallized the thought and desire of a State Masonic Homes, since the creation of that Committee, has been untiring in his labors for, and bountiful in his benefactions to the Homes. His latest deed of love, is the presentation of an aquarium of heroic proportions, such as was seen in the fisheries building at the Centennial Exhibition at Philadelphia, equipped with 100 gold fish and ornaments. It is connected with the water system and adorns the corridor of the west porch where it is a thing of beauty for the interest and pleasure of guests and visitors.

The Hon. Hiram Peters, propagator of fish at his farm near New Providence, from whom the gold fish were purchased, presented ten additional fish, two of which are giant gold fish, for which he had refused an offer of one dollar, each.

The piscatorial equipment of the Homes has been augmented by 1000 blue gill sun fish, which have been placed in the middle lake, and which is the contribution of the State Fish Commission from the Torresdale Fish Hatchery.

On Sunday evening, the Homes had the pleasure of greeting R. W. Senior Grand Warden, Brother John S. Sell, of Greensburg, Pa., who honored the Homes with a visit.

NEWS FROM THE MASONIC HOMES

Probably in no other institution of similar character, in the world, could be witnessed a scene such as was enacted at the Masonic Homes, on Wednesday evening, October 18, 1916. It consisted of the remarrying, in ceremonial form, of an aged couple, guests of the Homes, on the fiftieth or golden anniversary of their wedding.

One of the unique features of the Masonic Homes of the Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania, is that husband and wife, who come within its sheltering arms, continue to share their life's union, and know nothing of the ruthless restriction of separation common to most institutions.

Thirty married couples are now spending the evening of their lives, at the Homes, in that union of which all men are admonished not to put asunder.

Numbered among the guests of the Homes, are Rev. Brother Dallas M. De Huze and wife, who came to the Homes from Coatesville. They were married at Reading, Pa., on October 18, 1866, so that their golden wedding anniversary fell on last Wednesday, and was appropriately celebrated.

When the guests were assembled in the morning, for breakfast, Superintendent, Brother N. Franklin Heckler announced the significance of the date, and felicitated the aged couple on their hand-in-hand journey of fifty years of life, and presented Mrs. De Huze with a bouquet of fifty blooms.

In the evening, a reception was held in the Assembly Room, at which not only were the old couple remarked, but also the evening made enjoyable by the interesting character of its entertainment.

The marriage ceremony was performed by the Rev. John W. Forrest, and the wedding procession was in ceremonial form to the music of Mondelsohn's Wedding March. After the aged couple had received the congratulations of all present, Superintendent N. Franklin Heckler addressed them, and presented them with a card of greetings from friends, which was followed by a vocal selection by Brother William A. Crawford; Greetings by Mrs. Anna Pethick, Piano Selection, Mrs. Henrietta M. Van Horn; Recollections of Fifty Years, Mrs. De Huze; Reminiscences, Rev. Bro. Dallas M. De Huze; Vocal Solo, Mrs. Esther C. Miller; Poem, Mrs. Adelaide Hodges.

Brother De Huze had an experience of two years service in the Union Army, during the War of the Rebellion, more than eight months of which was spent in enduring the horrors of the South prison-camps. After his return from the army, he

The Queen of Washers
THE LAUNDRY QUEEN

HERE'S the machine that takes the sting out of "Wash Day"—makes it a real pleasure.

The Laundry Queen handles the wash up to the point where it's ready to go on the line.

It cleans the clothes thoroughly and quickly. Ten minutes in the Laundry Queen accomplish more than hours of wash board scrubbing and there is no tearing and wearing of delicate pieces. No rubbing—no friction—that's why.

The dolly is solid—rests on the clothes and there's no metal post through it to catch and tear things.

The wringer swings to any position. You can arrange your fine and bluing tubs and basket so there will be no lifting to do until the wash is ready for the cover.

The wringer, with the dolly, swings also. Shift it over the rinsing tub and the dolly does that work for you, too.

The wringer rolls turn in either direction, or remain motionless, by simply moving a convenient handle.

The wringer and washer can be used at the same time if you wish. There are dozens of other impressive Laundry Queen features, but you must see the machine itself to appreciate them. We will be glad to show you.
