SYRUP OF FIGS FOR A CHILD'S BOWELS

It is cruel to force nauseating, harsh physic into a sick child.

Look back at your childhood days. Remember the "dose" mother insisted on—castor oil, calomel, cathartics. How you hated them, how you fought against taking them.

With our children it's different. Mothers who cling to the old form of physic simply don't realize what they do. The children's revolt is well-founded. Their tender little "insides" are injured by them.

If your child's stomach, liver and bowels need cleansing, give only delicious "California Syrup of Figs." Its action is positive, but gentle. Millions of mothers keep this harmless "fruit laxative" handy; they know children love to take it; that it never fails to clean the liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach, and that a teaspoonful given today saves a sick child tomorrow.

Ask at the store for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on each bottle. Adv.

THEY WERE AS BUSY AS BEES

New York Police Raided a Plant Where Adulterated Honey Was Made.

One of the oldest assertions of the beekeeper has been that honey could not be adulterated with success, but health department inspectors have found a full-blown honey plant in the basement of a private home in Manhattan.

There were no bees at work in the plant when it was raided, but there were half a dozen women and a man as busy as bees with pots and pans about a stove. They were boiling up a concoction the chief ingredients of which were sugar and about ten per cent of genuine honey. The plant was discovered after honey purchasers had complained they were receiving adulterated honey.—New York Mail.

Plucky Danish Captain.

A hero in every sense of the word is the captain of the Danish steamer Iris which, sailing from one neutral port to another and having no contraband aboard, was halted by a German submarine and the crew ordered to leave the ship, in order that it might be sunk. The Danish captain flatly refused to leave his ship. "You may sink us, but I and my men will remain on board," he told the submarine commander. And his pluck won. His ship was allowed to proceed when it was seen that he knew his rights and was not afraid to assert them.

POULTRY FACTS

ROUP REMEDY FOR CHICKENS

Good Plan to See That Curtains or Windows Are Down and Everything in Proper Shape.

The habit of visiting the poultry house after the birds have gone to roost during the winter months is a good one. After the water vessels have been emptied to keep them from freezing overnight, it is a good plan to see that the curtains or windows are down and everything is in shape.

If the grain feed for the following morning is scattered in the litter the birds will be busy and active as soon as they come off the roosts. This is far better for them than standing round an hour or so in the cold morning air waiting for their feed.

Before leaving the house listen carefully for wheezing or heavy breathing. This is the first indication of colds, roup, and similar diseases, and if detected in time a serious outbreak may be prevented.

OLD-FASHIONED HIGH ROOSTS

Sprained Legs, Splinters or Gravel in Feet and Leg Troubles Are Sure to Follow.

Too many poultry keepers yet build old-fashioned high roosts. The tree shelter instinct still induces every fowl to fight for a place on the highest of the roosts. Few will notice what the low. For the large heavy breeds, high roosts mean sprained legs, splinters or gravel in the feet, and much suffering because of jumping from high roosts.

Turkeys often show up with hump-foot or other kinds of lameness because they roost so high. One can also make the roosts too small.

Chickens are often lamed by giving them roosts that allow the toes to go clear around, and sink the claws in the soft part of the sole. This is sure to cause sores, or at least tender feet.

CAUSE OF TURKEY FAILURES

Among Other Reasons Assigned is That of Improper Feeding—Close Confinement Hurts.

Improper feeding, combined with close confinement, has been the cause of many failures in turkey raising. Given free range on the average farm, the poults can easily pick up their own living, and one light feed a day for the purpose of inducing them to come in at night is sufficient. If the mother hen is confined to a coop and the poults allowed to run in and out, three times a day is often enough to feed and very little should be given at a time. The poults should always be ready to eat; if given all they will clean up several times a day, indigestion will be the result. If there is little or no feed outside the coop for the poults to pick up, then they should be fed about five times a day, feeding

White Holland Turkeys.

Only a small quantity at a time. A good feed for the first few days is stale bread soaked in milk and squeezed dry. Cornbread crumbs and clabbered milk or cottage cheese is also quite often fed and with excellent results. Green feed and grit should be on hand at all times. As the poults grow older, the ration should gradually be changed to grain.

KILLING GEESE FOR MARKET

Feathers Can Easily Be Removed by Dipping Fowl in Boiling Hot Water Three Times.

When killing geese for market, the feathers can be removed easily if, after killing, the body of the goose is dipped three times in water which is almost at the boiling point, dipping it slowly in and out each time, and then wrapping it in canvas or closely-woven cloth to keep in the steam. In a minute or two this will loosen the feathers so that they will come out easily.

FURNISH VARIETY OF FOODS

Some Farmers Feed Poultry All Winter on Nothing but Corn—Not Good as Steady Diet.

Any food as a steady diet for poultry, or any other stock, for that matter, will not give good results. What would be the result if you were kept upon a steady diet of hoe-cake, corn pone and Indian pudding for three straight months? Yet that is the very way some farmers are feeding their poultry all winter—corn morning, noon and night.

Wealth in Alaskan Waters.

Nearly all Alaskan waters teem with herring, whose value as a food fish is just beginning to be recognized in those parts. Important in Alaskan fisheries is the whaling industry. The species of whale most common are the hump-back, fin-back, sulphur-bottom and sperm. The sperm whale is plentiful about Resurrection Bay and Cook Inlet waters. A good-sized sperm whale is worth about $3,000. The great Alaska salmon industry is the most important industry in Alaska next to mining.

Soap as Germ Destroyer.

Lately medical science has been trying to find out to what degree the chemical action of soap can be depended upon as a destroyer of germs. Professor Symes, after experimenting with many varieties of soap, declares that "all soaps possess antiseptic properties in some degree, and that any germ which will die in soap or dropped upon its surface are not capable of multiplication."

FALLING HAIR MEANS DANDRUFF IS ACTIVE

Save Your Hair! Get a 25 Cent Bottle of Danderine Right Now—Also Stops Itching Scalp.

Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scurf. There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its luster, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast. A little Danderine tonight—now—any time—will surely save your hair.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any store, and after the first application your hair will take on that life, luster and luxuriance which is so beautiful. It will become wavy and fluffy and have the appearance of abundance; an incomparable gloss and softness, but what will please you most will be after just a few weeks' use, when you will actually see a lot of fine, downy hair—new hair—growing all over the scalp. CANADA'S BONUS TO FARM LABORERS

Offering 160 Acres to Farm Hands.

Canada today, with the great demand that is made upon it for food-stuffs, finds itself almost in the throes of a labor famine. A novel means of solving the problem has been evolved by the Canadian Government at Ottawa on Wednesday last, when it was decided to practically bonus every farm-hand going to Canada, by giving him 160 acres free as a homestead, and to allow the time he would be working out for the good wages offered, to count as residence duties on the homestead.

KEEPING BULL IN CONDITION

As General Rule Animals Are Altogether Too Thin in Flesh to Do Justice to Themselves.

Many a breeder of improved stock has fallen just a little short a success through a wrong notion of what constitutes breeding condition. When we visit a breeder for the purpose of buying a young bull, and he remarks on the way to the barn: "I don't pamper my young cattle; I keep them in just good breeding condition," we find as a rule that his bulls are altogether too thin in flesh to do justice to themselves or to him.

He is a rare man who can form an accurate judgment of a young bull when he is thin. The average buyer wants to see young stuff in good, smooth flesh. This does not mean over-fat; but there are very few young bulls which have been injured by carrying too much flesh during the first year of their life. It takes feed, and plenty of it, to present a young bull in attractive sale condition; but it pays even in these days of high-priced feed; and the sensible buyer will demand it, first, because it indicates that the bull is a good feeder, and second, because it gives him a fair opportunity to judge of its quality. Improved stock is fetching good prices, and those who are preparing young stuff for sale can well afford to feed liberally. In fact, they can much better afford to do this than not. It is all well enough to carry through the breeding cows in just good, strong breeding condition, but with young stuff a liberal hand has its reward.—Wallace's Farmer.

TREATMENT FOR CHILLED PIG

Young Animals May Be Quickly Revived by Immersing in Water of About Blood Heat.

Pigs that have been chilled may be quickly revived by immersing them to the mouth in warm water (not hot, but about blood heat). This is much to be preferred to warming them by a fire because the heat is applied so much more uniformly and quickly. The supposition that such pigs never amount to anything is altogether incorrect, for they generally will live and thrive. Failure to get results has usually been due to the pig's having been actually frozen or to the use of water that was too hot.
