That Sure is Steep
Yesterday there was an example of the high cost of food stuffs in this boro. The stores and local dealers, who buy their potatoes, sell them at 45 cents per half peck, which seems to be the universal price. A lady from the country, who raised them, was about town with potatoes and asked 60 cents per half peck or $4.80 per bushel when our stores sell them at $3.60. Of course she didn't sell many at

FOOD STUFFS SHOULD DROP IN PRICE NOW

It is beginning to look as though there will soon be a reduction in the cost of living, or at least there should be, when dealers who were should be, when dealers who were paying over three dollars a bushel for wheat a few weeks ago are now paying only a dollar-seventy-five. Corn that had reached almost the two-dollar mark is now a dollar-forty-five, and potatoes that were over three dollars are now priced at a dollar-and-a-quarter. As all of them are among the most important articles of food, their decline in price is certainly good news to the consumer.

TWO HUNDRED AND THIRTY-SIX DONORS CONTRIBUTE $1,-764.90, OR ABOUT HALF OUR QUOTA IN A FEW DAYS

Mount Joy has awakened splendidly to the appeals for the Red Cross. Never before in its history have the people of large or small means so gladly responded to a call for the relief of human suffering.

The Red Cross is now the one thing to be considered and through its direct agency one hundred cents is delivered for every dollar subscribed. Messrs. Thomas J. Brown and Clarence Schock were appointed by the Lancaster Chapter of the Red Cross to arrange for the collection of funds from Mount Joy. At a meeting held last Saturday evening, the following gentlemen, all well known and respected citizens, completed the organization as solicitors: H. N. Nissly, Claytown Hoffman, J. S. Carmany, H. M. Stauffer, H. E. Hauer, R. Fellenbaum, S. B. Bernhart, Benjamin W. Brown, Fred hart, Benjamin W. Brown, Fred Farmer, H. S. Newcomer, J. F. Fen-stermacher, Walter G. Brown, Frank stermacher, Walter G. Brown, Frank S. Hershey, E. B. Toppin, H. G. Carpenter, John Reist, M. M. Leib, W. R. Heilig, E. W. Garber and Albert Campbell, M. C. Bowman.

These men are giving their time and service to call on the people of the town to receive their subscriptions. Their efforts so far have been most encouraging in their results. But their is a great deal to be done and little time to do it in.

There are seven millions of poor suffering wounded and sick soldiers who are depending on the Red Cross suffering wounded and sick soldiers who are depending on the Red Cross for food, for shelter, for medical care and nurses. Let us do our "bit" and do it generously.
