THOSE AWFUL CRAMPS

Suggestions that may save Much Suffering

Marysville, Pa.—"For twelve years I suffered with terrible cramps. I tried all kinds of remedies and was treated by doctors but my trouble continued until one day I read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I tried it and now I am free from cramps and feel like a different woman."

Lancaster Asleep on Toll Roads

(Continued from page 1) From Reading to Harrisburg. He stated that Lancaster county is in an awkward position by having none of its toll roads taken over, the other counties have taken a march on it.

C. A. B. Zook presented a resolution, which was adopted, providing for an inquiry by the club to learn why no effort is being made to relieve this community of toll roads which will be appointed to confer with the county commissioners relative to the possibility of obtaining relief.

President Atlee reported that he is at work on a toll-free route from Lancaster to Elizabethtown by well-marked township roads which are in good condition. It will divert traffic from the turnpike, and it may be that resort to diversion is the more effective in forcing improvements than in resorting to litigation.

Report was made by the Board of Directors that the P. E. R. has ordered materials for making extensive improvements at the grade crossings in Lancaster county. The Board decided that no more calls be made on the members for their machines except at the request of the proper military authorities or by motion passed by the club.

Red Cross Campaign Big Success

(Continued from page 1) more. The cry will come to us again and again for help and we must respond. Let us also remember that when our soldiers become ill or are wounded they cannot be helped unless we have care and the best of care and for which we must provide abundantly for the boys we love.

As the men of '76 pledged their lives their fortunes and their sacred honor to win the establishment of this nation, so must we of these days of due peril to the continuance of this national life of true liberty do our utmost, pledging too, our lives, our fortunes and our sacred honor.

Reunion at Donegal a Success

how glad all were to be in that lovely spot which has so much history and tradition clustered about its sacred edifice. He said that we are not attuned to war but that most of us have been expecting it for a long time and that through the influence, teaching and traditions of Old Donegal and other old churches, men could not have it otherwise.

Prof. Kuhns Speaks Prof. Oscar Kuhns, a native of Columbia, professor in the Roman languages in Wesleyan University, Middletown, Conn., told his hearers how glad he was to be back in his home land and how his three great grandsons had left this country to fight under Washington.

The most inspiring address of the day was that made by Emerson Collins, Esq., of Williamsport, attorney general of Pennsylvania. He said that this venerable spot breathed inspiration, that pride in the past is a safeguard of the future and that it is often well to pause to look back.

The music of the morning consisted of a vocal solo by Mrs. Zimmerman, and a quartet by Mrs. Wilbur F. Meiskey, Miss Florence Lebzelter, Clyde Shissler and Adam Moore. The feature which closed this part of the program was the raising of a flag which was presented to the church by Miss Martha Bladen Clark in behalf of the Donegal Society.

Rev. E. E. Curtis, of Harrisburg, gave an eloquent and stirring appeal for patriotism, telling what the flag has stood for and all that it will mean in the future.

The singing of the national anthem followed and Rev. John Goodfriend, of New London, Pa., pronounced the benediction.

A delightful lunch was served on the beautiful lawn of the church after the luncheon by the Donegal Society. Miss Clark presiding, held a business session. The following officers were re-elected.

STIGMA ON LANCASTER

Harrisburg, Pa., June 23—Highway Commissioner Black today signed the final papers for the purchase of the Lancaster turnpike from Philadelphia to Paoli and it will be freed of tolls on July 15.

Senator Sproul's Address Senator William C. Sproul, of Chester, who conceived the idea of the Pennsylvania Historical Commission, and had the legislation passed creating it, and who has been chairman of the commission since its organization, was the next speaker.

that his people for several generations had been bred in the Octoraro valley, and that he had received his middle name, Cameron, from the Sage of Donegal. Senator Sproul then paid a warm tribute to the late William U. Hensel, his friend since boyhood, and to one of the original members of the Pennsylvania Historical Commission.

In an informal way Mr. Sproul told of the conditions prevailing in Pennsylvania and in the world at the time, almost two hundred years ago, when this ancient church was established. At that time all of southern Pennsylvania, as far west as the state was settled, was included in Chester county, and people were obliged to travel all the way to old Chester on the Delaware river, now the thriving city of Chester, to attend court. It was not until 1729, several years after the establishment of the Donegal church, that Lancaster county was divided off from the old shire, and the first court was held at Postlethwaite's tavern, south of the present city of Lancaster.

One of the moving spirits in the organization of the new county was John Wright, who went from Chester to settle on the Susquehanna river at Wright's Ferry, the beginning of the present town of Columbia. The house in which John Wright lived stood on Second street, and which was only recently removed, and upon Wright's farm the senator recalled, was built the iron works which was his own first large enterprise and which had only passed out of his control within the last few years.

The old court house at Chester which was built in 1724, five years before Lancaster county was divided off, and which was the site of the early settlers on Donegal, is still standing and is the oldest building in Pennsylvania. The senator recounted the struggles that he and other citizens interested in the early history of Delaware county had in keeping the old building, which now stands on very valuable ground, Mr. Sproul, while he did not tell this to his audience, has lately undertaken at his own expense the entire restoration of this historic building under a contract with the city of Chester that it shall be maintained as a public building forever. It was the court house of Chester county from 1724 until 1786, when the courts were removed to West Chester. In 1790 it became the court house of Delaware county when that county was created and served this purpose until 1851.

Mr. Sproul recalled many interesting anecdotes connected with the old Donegal church and spoke of the one hundred and ninety-five years that have elapsed since its erection as constituting a period of achievement without parallel in all preceding time. In an entertaining way he told of some of the famous characters who had come from the sturdy Scotch-Irish stock of Donegal who had founded its church, and made the remark that probably no other church of its size in Pennsylvania had furnished so many men conspicuous in the history of the independence and the war of the Revolution.

The unveiling of a handsome bronze tablet to the front wall of the church by the society, commemorating the founding of the church and historical events connected with it, was the feature of the afternoon.

Hon. H. Burd Cassel, of Marietta, presented the tablet in behalf of the society and Rev. F. G. Bossert, pastor of Donegal church, accepted it in behalf of the church.

The evening meeting was in charge of John S. Simons, of Lancaster, formerly of Marietta, who opened the session with a few introductory remarks after singing and prayer. Rev. David R. Workman, of Paradise, gave an address on the leadership of the Donegal in the present crisis; the leadership of the church as a whole; the leadership of the church over that of the world; the absence of moral vision so often found in the intellectual. If the church survive this crisis, she must have cleanness of hands and purity of heart. He mentioned the fruitfulness of the preparation if there be no maintenance of a moral standard.

Rev. Andrew T. Taylor, of York, interested his hearers with a masterly talk on the Epistles for today. This most enjoyable and well planned union was brought to a close in the evening by the singing of a hymn and the benediction.

All Stove Troubles Fade Away Before This Pipeless Furnace

Stoves and base-burners are trouble makers, work make expensive makers. There's the trouble of setting them up in the Fall and taking them down in the Spring, with unsightly pipes disfiguring the home six months out of twelve.

Home Ventilator Furnace

The Original PATENTED Pipeless Model Manufactured only by the Homer Furnace Co., Homer, Mich. For little (if any) more than you pay for a good base burner, it will give you furnace perfection. The heat will be distributed evenly throughout the house—and plenty of it.

Facts Concerning The Home Ventilator Furnace

An announcement made by competition would indicate that a DECLARATION OF WAR had been made on all types of furnaces by the one they are handling, and if this article were allowed to go unheeded, the result would be that possibly many people would be buying unheeded, purchasing some furnace other than the HOME VENTILATOR, being under the impression that they were getting the original.

We take pleasure in informing the people of Mount Joy and vicinity that G. Moyer of Mount Joy is prepared to furnish you with the HOME VENTILATOR FURNACE, which has been on the market for the past seven years and is absolutely the ORIGINAL PATENTED PIPELESS FURNACE using the combination hot and cold air register.

A LITTLE HISTORY—Back in 1910 when the only furnace was the old pipe job, Mr. S. D. Strong, President of the Homer Furnace Company, Homer, Michigan, conceived the idea that if a furnace could be made which would satisfactorily heat residences, stores, churches, school-houses, etc., and at the same time save the heat which was being wasted in cellars by pipe furnaces, a ready sale would be found.

Now—when other manufacturers saw the enormous strides made by THE HOME VENTILATOR, their eyes began to open, and from the sickly grin they tried to maintain they were brought up against the solid fact that to SAVE THEIR BACON, they MUST manufacture something as near the HOME VENTILATOR as possible without infringing on the rights of S. D. Strong. SMALL MANUFACTURERS sprung up trying to get a foot-hold in the pipeless world, but the HOME VENTILATOR has been too long established and had too big a start to be affected, and the sales of the Homer Furnace Company will lead by many lengths. IN THE LAST FIVE MONTHS, 4000 HOME VENTILATOR FURNACES HAVE BEEN SOLD TO RESPONSIBLE DEALERS.

Don't BE DECEIVED into buying an imitation of the HOME VENTILATOR FURNACE. Don't let other manufacturers' experiment at your expense. When you buy, buy the ORIGINAL, five minutes comparison will convince you. Weigh the 24 inch fire pot of the HOME VENTILATOR (when we say 24-in, we mean inside measurement) then weigh that of any other furnace of the same size. Result? About 40 percent in favor of the HOME VENTILATOR. The HOME VENTILATOR is equipped with heavy galvanized casings throughout; no flimsy black iron casings to rust out, and which are good only as talking points, and the buyer pays for these talking points by getting a lighter furnace.

The HOME VENTILATOR FURNACE is sold under a guaranty to do the business or no sale, and every casting is guaranteed for five years, except the grate, and our reason for not guaranteeing this is that sometimes a careless user will allow ashes to accumulate underneath, and same is liable to melt out. However this happens only rarely. After manufacturing HOME VENTILATOR FURNACES for seven years, our repair business will not amount to $1.00 a day, which we judge is a fair evidence of the durability of our casting.

Our modern plant at Homer, Michigan is equipped to manufacture 9000 furnaces per year, and enables us to turn out a furnace which is a joy to the installer, and castings second to none.

G. Moyer of Mount Joy is prepared to furnish you with the ORIGINAL PATENTED PIPELESS FURNACE, and the one from which all others of this type are copied either directly or indirectly. BUY THE "HOMER" and be safe from infringement proceedings. 15,000 in use. For further information call on
