Raising prize cattle and selling fine clothes

THE spirit that makes winners at the Fair is the desire to do a thing well, whether it's raising, grain, stock, or fruit. You put the best you've got into it, not for what you'll get out of it, but because you like it, because you take pride in your work.

It's the same way in business; the winners are the ones who do a thing well because they like it, not primarily for what they are going to get out of it. We are in the clothing business because we can serve, because we can do something for you, because we want to do something for you. Of course, we expect to get something out of it, but that isn't our first thought: our first thought is you.

We show you a full line of Men's, Young Men's and Boys' Clothing, Shoes, Hats and Furnishings and our prices are way below the city stores. You ask how can we do it. We have only half the expense and therefore can sell for less.

P. E. GETZ MOUNT JOY, PA.

Master Harry Waltz, of Naumanville, spent the past week with his sister, Mrs. Phares Hoffman and family, on Marietta Avenue. F. B. Grosh and supervisor A. R. Miss Mabel E., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Abraham H. Rissler, has matriculated and will pursue a general curriculum of studies in the High School the present term.

With two down and the score standing at a tie in the eleventh inning, Ochs' Florin's clever third sacker, stole home with the run that gave the Lancaster county team the game over the Palmyra nine of Lebanon county. The steal ended one of the hardest games seen on the Lebanon county diamond in many moons and gave the Florin aggregation a win after three years of trying.

OCHS' STEAL OF HOME HANDS FLORIN A GAME

Palmyra according to the dope, had sidestepped the Florin team for the past two seasons and finally agreed to let them have a chance this year. The result was a win for the Lancaster county boys, 5 to 4. The game was rough and marred all through by continual wrangling. Florin had the game won in the eighth inning when Schneebell caught a man at home by a quick throw from left. The ump called the man out, then reversed his decision with the result that the game went into extra innings. Schneekard was in rare form and let the losers have but four hits while Ochs' steal of home and Schneebell's throw were the features of the game. Score:

Table with columns for White, Dukeman, Schneebell, Simmons, Wittie, Bennett, Ochs, Sheekard, Ressel, and Totals. Rows show runs, hits, and errors (r, h, e) for each team.
