Inspectors Will Care for Health of Women Workers

Health of women workers in munition plants will be looked after by women health officers who are to be trained under the direction of the Women's Division of the Industrial Services Section of the Army Ordnance Department.

An eight week course of study for carefully selected women health officers has opened at Mount Holyoke College, Mass. The course is under the general direction of Dr. Kristine Mann, health supervisor of the woman's Branch of the Ordnance Department.

Navy Department Tells of Fighting Near the Clouds

Ensign Stephen Potter, United States Naval Reserve Force, killed in action with German planes April 25 last, was the first American naval aviator to shoot down and destroy a German seaplane, according to a Navy Department statement.

The report states that on March 19, 1918, a long and fierce engagement of the German coast was made by large American flying boats operating from a British Royal Air Force station. Ensign Potter was one of two American naval aviators accompanying this expedition, and Potter was successful in shooting down a German seaplane which attacked the reconnaissance formation.

A second German seaplane found safety in running away. Potter's death reflects credit on his courage. He was killed in a fight with seven enemy single-seaters. He was second pilot to a British Air Force captain, who was with him when he shot down the German plane in March. Two British planes had flown to a point 50 miles from Hindenburg, when two enemy planes headed toward them. The British planes closed on the nearest German and opened fire. Two more hostile planes then appeared overhead and attacked vigorously, while three other enemy planes passed astern. The two British planes dived and speeded westward under continuous volleys from the rear. One of the Germans disappeared.

New Shell-loading Plant Will Handle 52,000 Shells a Day

Quantity of new capacity shipments will start soon from a new Government shell-loading factory in New Jersey, one of four such Government plants each of which is larger than any similar plant in the world. When turning out 52,000 loaded shells a day under full operation the plant will use 2,000 tons of shells and explosives daily, the products of some 75 factories. More than 5,000 workmen will be required. Plans contemplate the employment of a large number of women. The marking of shells to designate size, load, and range will require 250,000 operations each day.

The plant has a total area of approximately 2,500 acres. More than 100 buildings, with an aggregate floor space of 1,000,000 square feet, will provide storage for shells and parts and for material. A small city, with heating and lighting plants, water and sewage systems, hospitals, fire-fighting plant, restaurants, was built to house the employees. There is equipment to protect the health of those who work with poisonous gases, and a school for instruction in the loading of artillery ammunition with high explosives.

Medical Department Has Mobile Apparatus to Provide Fresh Water

The American soldier in France gets pure drinking from mobile water trains. The trains are under the jurisdiction of the Army Medical Department. They are miniature water works, which chemically treat, filter, and sterilize water, making it fit for consumption. What municipal water works do to insure healthful water to the people of a city these trains do for the soldiers.

be made on the spot. The trucks are equipped with electric lights for the work can be carried on at night. Many of the chemists and bacteriologists assigned to the mobile laboratories were formerly connected with municipal water works and filtration plants.

Conscientious Objectors Decide to Go Into Fighting Branches

Conscientious objection to military service may be brushed aside by friendly argument and reason the War Department learns through reports from Maj. Richard C. Stoddard, Judge Julian W. Mack, Chicago, and Dean Harlan F. Stone, Columbia University Law School, a board designed by Secretary of War Baker to confer personally with such objectors at the training camps.

At Camp Gordon, Atlanta, there was an unusually large number of men segregated as objectors. Kindly logic used by the special board resulted in 72 of the number accepting noncombatant service, and 12 without objection announced they had misunderstood the original questions.

The board accepted as sincere the convictions of 23 members of religious denominations opposed to any form of military service and recommended them for furlough at a private's pay. There was doubt in four cases and the board recommended the men be sent to Fort Leavenworth for further examination.

More Small Arms for Expeditionary Forces; Production Cost Drops

German timidity before American pistol tactics armed with American 45 caliber automatic pistols has brought about a change in the equipment of the American Expeditionary Forces by the War Department, and the Ordnance Department is rushing production of these weapons. About 3,000 are turned out daily and production is increasing.

The impression exists that a shot from an American .45 takes a man out of action completely. Men hit from the smaller German pistols frequently continue in action effectively. The .45 caliber was adopted by the United States Army in 1911.

Despite the heavy increased demand for these pistols the Ordnance Department has effected a saving during the past two months of nearly $2,000,000, mostly on small arms ammunition, such as .45 caliber ball cartridge, .30 shells, and on clips and bandoleers.

Demand for Labor to Result in a Nation-Wide Search

Every community will be combed for war workers. War industries are short nearly 400,000 common laborers, and lack of workers in the coal-mining industry is imperiling all war production. There is also serious shortage of skilled labor. One of the largest munition plants, turning out heavy caliber guns, is short 2,000 machinists.

The United States Employment Service Will Begin an Intensive Recruiting of Workers for War Work from the Non-essential Industries

Every community will be combed for war workers. War industries are short nearly 400,000 common laborers, and lack of workers in the coal-mining industry is imperiling all war production. There is also serious shortage of skilled labor. One of the largest munition plants, turning out heavy caliber guns, is short 2,000 machinists.

Demand for Veterinary Surgeons is Filled for the Present

The Army has sufficient veterinarians, Surg. Gen. Gorgas announced. Examinations for commissions in the Veterinary Corps have closed. There is a waiting list of those eligible to commissions, and until this list is exhausted there will be no more examinations. The corps has 1,700 officers and 10,000 enlisted men on active duty.

Much Wool Will Be Demanded for Army

Coming requirements of the Army for wool look large. Besides clothing for the soldiers in France and at home a reserve must be accumulated sufficient to take care of any emergency. There are large stocks of manufactured clothing and cloth on hand adequate for essential civilian needs, but woolen suits will not be cheap or plentiful during the coming winter season.

Uncle Sam's training camp theaters will do a $3,500,000 business in the first year of operation under the Commission of Training Camp Activities if the people back home will provide the soldiers with their tickets by sending them Smileage Books, says the Smileage Division of the commission. Smileage coupons to the amount of $355,000 have been redeemed to date.

Nearly 2,000,000 girls and boys have volunteered for the United States Garden Army in the Department of the Interior. Their service flag bears a crossed rake and hoe with the letters U. S. G. in blue on a field of white with a red border.

The enlistment entails a pledge on the part of the child to use efforts to increase food production by cultivating one or more crops under a garden superior or teacher chosen for this work and to make such reports as may be required.

Pennsylvania farmers are asked to "go over the top" with the 1918 wheat crop and every available acre should be sown this fall.

Farmers are urged to place their orders for fall fertilizers as early as possible and dealers are urged to get early shipments.

Eighteen prosecutions for the sale of unregistered fertilizers have been brought by the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture in Berks, Carbon, Erie, Luzern, Blair, Cambria, York, Delaware, Dauphin and Lackawanna counties.

The State farm tractors are ready to start in with the fall plowing campaign and there are many requests for their services from the large agricultural counties.
