Dips Cheaper Than Ticks

That big dividends follow investments in cattle-tick eradication is shown by investigations during the last year by the United States Department of Agriculture. The expense of permanently freeing cattle from ticks is repaid from 20 to 50 times. The cost of making the necessary number of dips varies from only 18 to 50 cents for each animal, one canvass showed an average estimated increase of $9.76 in value of the tick-free cattle. More than that, the eradication of the tick, as conducted under Federal supervision, permits the introduction of high-class beef and dairy cattle and the establishment of a more profitable livestock industry. Emphasis is placed by the department on the need for a clear understanding of the purpose of tick eradication and the necessity for strict compliance with regulations to insure thoroughness. By co-operating with the Government in the work farmers receive the numerous benefits resulting from the opportunity for great improvement in their herds.

Farm Community Organized

What a farm community can do for its own progress when the get-together prevails is well shown with the Wood community, Williamson County, Tenn. This community, encouraged by the county agent, formed an organization which embraced men's interests, women's interests, canning clubs, corn clubs and poultry clubs. In this way they received a community charter and proceeded to work. When the wheat increase was asked, 50 acres was assigned to the Wood community; the community came across with 323 acres in 10 days. Similarly organized communities made it possible for Williamson County to pledge an increased acreage of 2,000, while the county was asked for only 1,369 acres.

Tour County to See Community Work

Stirring up ambition and friendly rivalry by going out to see what other communities have accomplished is an excellent way to raise the standards of a whole neighborhood, in the opinion of home-demonstration agents of the United States Department of Agriculture and the State agricultural colleges. In Middlesex County, Mass., one of the most stimulating projects this fall was a one-day auto tour to some of the most interesting canning kitchens, food centers, and community houses in the county. Sixteen automobiles carrying 70 persons made the trip, and the occupants saw at first hand what the other towns in the county are doing in community work.

Push the Button and Find a Pig

A Litchfield (Conn.) county agent originated an interesting plan for an agricultural survey. If you want to locate a supply of seed corn or oats, a grain binder, a pure-bred bull, or some young pigs in any community in five counties in this State, all you have to do is to walk into the office of the State librarian at Hartford, Conn., run a series of cards through an electric sorting machine, and presto, you have the information. It may sound a little like the story of Aladdin's lamp, but it is only big business applied to farm affairs under war stress. The council of defense took up this plan and offered to back the farm bureau's limit in every county in the State. Five of the eight counties began surveys early in March, 1918. Forty questions, under the headings of area, crops harvested in 1917, crops planned to be harvested in 1918, live stock on hand, machinery on hand, and employees, were included in the survey, and a corps of volunteer farmer census enumerators got busy. When the survey was completed the farm bureau had a stack of cards containing minute information on the resources and needs of every farm. An electric sorting machine two States and four bureaus of the Federal Government are now actively co-operating in soil-survey work.

Arsenical Spray Saves Berries

Arsenical spraying for the control of the insects known as leaf rollers that are injurious to strawberry, blackberry, raspberry, and related plants of the rose family has been found to accomplish good results. The Bureau of Entomology reports the saving of at least 10 per cent by the use of this spray in Iowa and Kansas. A single spraying resulted in destroying two-thirds of the pests.

Return of Farm Soldiers Asked

Kansas farmers have petitioned the War Department to speed the return of her soldiers to the farms. At a conference of farm bureau officers and county commissioners recently at Manhattan the committee on reconstruction offered the following resolution: "We respectfully request the Secretary of War and the Provost Marshall General to adopt some such plan as will return the soldiers to the homes they left at the earliest possible date. In Kansas there has been seven to wheat this fall a record acreage, amounting possibly to more than 10,000,000 acres, with a crop prospect, which, if realized, will require an army of workers to harvest next year. The demands of the war for labor in the early spring for preparation and planting the spring crops is also great, and in no other way can the situation so well be met as through the demobilization of our soldiers and sailors in the manner suggested."

Breeding Ewes Distributed

One thousand breeding ewes are being distributed among the farmers of Rock Island County, Ill., through the co-operation of the county farm bureau and county agent. These ewes will be placed on 66 farms and will form centers for developing sheep growing in this county. Pure-bred Shropshire bucks are being placed with practically all the new flocks.

Housewives Trade Ideas Through Newspapers

There will be competition this winter in El Paso County, Tex., among housewives in various communities as to which neighborhood can furnish the county with the most helpful ideas. The county paper during the past year has given its "Farm Home Department" into the charge of the home demonstration agent of the Department of Agriculture, working with the State agricultural college, the county agricultural agent, and their helpers. Each week the department is to be in charge of women of different communities, who will fill the columns with articles and ideas they consider most valuable. Another interesting feature in this paper is called "Bridget's Corner." This column is under the supervision of the home demonstration agent, who has been giving cookery lessons in it.

Own Your Home

Lancaster City has just started a big "own your home" campaign, which is indeed a very wise move and there is no good reason why the same can not be done here. There are a number of good houses for sale in this section, I am listing additional ones daily and will cheerfully give business-seekers whatever assistance I can in reference to financing their proposition. If you know of a home you would like to own, call, phone or write and I will be "johnny on the spot." Jno. E. Schroll, Mt. Joy, Pa.

The Beginning Farmerette
"It's so difficult Mr. Farmer, to milk a cow! Won't you let me begin with a calf?"

Jno. E. Schroll,
Mount Joy, Pa.,
Dear Brother:
check for five dollars ($5.00) credit same to my account in Cove Lodge No. 301 K. of P.

Is the lodge keeping up in membership? I never hear anything from the lodge, or never hear anything of the old town of Mount of Joy. I wrote to quite a number of my old acquaintance but receive no answer. I wish you would write and tell me something about the lodge and people and things in general.

Concerning Paris, Illinois, I am proud to say we have a nice little city of about ten thousand population. A goodly number of retired farmers live here, whose ancestors came here in an early day, and entered this rich prairie land, now they and their children and grandchildren enjoy the fruits of the struggles of a new country. May you live as long as you like And have all you like as long as you live.

We have miles and miles of paved streets, beautiful lawns, lovely shade trees all along the walks, churches of various denominations, the best of grade and high schools, altogether a lovely place to live. The country on the north and west is prairie as far as the eye can reach, south and east was originally timber and somewhat broken.

The products of the farms are corn which yields from 80 to 100 bushels per acre. The wheat crop this year was exceedingly good both in quantity and quality. The oats crop was also very good. The largest broom factory in the world is located here; also the McQuire and Cummings car factory. This is however not considered a manufacturing town. This county was at one time pretty well represented by Pennsylvanians coming from the vicinity of Mount Joy, Mastersonville, Elizabethtown; descendants of the Kissers', Stigler's, Hamilton's, Brubaker's and some others are still here.

We live in thoughts not in breaths, in feelings, not in figures on a dial. He lives the most, who loves the most. Who thinks the noblest acts the best. The foregoing is a limited prospectus of our little city and surrounding country. Now as to myself, some of the older citizens and older members of 301 K. of P. probably remember me. I left Mount Joy in the winter of 1876 and 1877 but did not leave the old Keystone state until October 1883. Landed in Paris on the 8th of said month. Have been employed in various pursuits most of the time in the grocery business and office work, tried farming but found that no go, no not for Joe. I raised a family of 7 children, the oldest son Frank died at the age of 26 years the other 6 all married and flew the home nest and live around here, except the youngest son living at Lancaster, Pa.

Now if this rambling message don't worry the life out of you, I trust you will write to me wishing you and yours Health, Wealth and Happiness. May your future days be blest with all the things that you love best.
Yours in F. C. & B.,
Jos. S. Stigler.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

Before using this preparation for a cough or cold you may wish to know what it has done for others. Mrs. O. Cook, Macon, Ill., writes, "I have found it gives the quickest relief of any cough remedy I have ever used." Mrs. James A. Knott, Chillicothe, Mo., says "Chamberlain's Cough Remedy cannot be beat for coughs and colds." H. J. Moore, Oval, Pa., says "I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy on several occasions when I was suffering with a settled cold upon the chest and it has always brought about a cure." Jan. 1-1918

JUDGE SAYS IT IS ILLEGAL TO SEIZE RUM

Confiscation of intoxicant beverages from men arrested for being drunk on the streets of Coatesville, is illegal, ruled Judge J. Frank E. House, West Chester, in a lengthy opinion handed down yesterday in the case of Lee Soule, colored, vs. Mayor Swing, of Coatesville. Soule had been arrested, fined and the mayor confiscated whisky valued at $2. Judgment was entered for the value of the liquor and the costs will also be placed on the defendant.

ATTENTION! Sick Women

To do your duty during these trying times your health should be your first consideration. These two women tell how they found health.

Hellam, Pa.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for female troubles and a displacement. I felt all run down and was very weak. I had been treated by a physician without results, so decided to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial, and felt better right away. I am keeping house since last April and doing all my housework, where before I was unable to do any work. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is certainly the best medicine a woman can take when in this condition. I give you permission to publish this letter."—Mrs. E. R. CREMLING, R. No. 1, Hellam, Pa.

Lowell, Mich.—"I suffered from cramps and dragging down pains, was irregular and had female weakness and displacement. I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound which gave me relief at once and restored my health. I should like to recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's remedies to all suffering women who are troubled in a similar way."—Mrs. ELISE H. M. R. No. 6, Box 88, Lowell, Mich.
