Concrete Building Material

What Are You Going to Build This Year?

A House, Barn, Garage, Factory or will you make repairs of any kind? There are some things to consider by all who contemplate building. Buildings should be attractive, economical and durable. Now bear in mind that concrete has come to stay and it is rapidly replacing brick, lumber and cut stone on account of their high cost. Then again you want fire proof construction. Any style and color of building block and ornamental work made to order. Come and see by comparing prices.

PHILADELPHIA LOAN CAMPAIGN OPENS WITH SHOWY SPLendor

Celebration in Third District Unsurpassed Anywhere in the Country.

The Third Federal Reserve District staged an opening of the loan drive not surpassed by any district in the United States, and one of the most spectacular was that held in Philadelphia.

On Saturday, two days before the day set by Washington for the start of the drive, Philadelphia opened things up wide with five elaborate sectional demonstrations. The South Philadelphia parade was featured by a band of 1000 members, who never before have marched except on New Year's Day.

In West Philadelphia the drive started with a monster parade, led by women on horses and dressed in red and black riding habits. Kensington staged an impromptu celebration with bands parading around the streets. The Northeast section held a big parade, as did North Philadelphia.

The gala occasion for the entire city was on the opening Monday night when many thousand people thronged the central section of the city to attend the unveiling of the twenty-seven foot restoration of the Winged Victory of Samothrace on South Penn Square. Delegations from twenty-two nations, each dressed in the national peasant costume and singing the songs of the land of their birth, accompanied by over 500 musical instruments, massed before the statue.

The Court of Honor leading to the statue, gaily decorated with the allies' colors, was flooded with eight million candle power of light and was brighter than day. The statue was unveiled by ten-year-old Laura Wayne daughter of Joseph Wayne, Jr., a member of the central Victory Liberty Loan executive committee, and Mrs. Walter S. Thomson, chairman of the Women's Committee in Philadelphia.

One of the most striking features of the Philadelphia campaign is the conversion of an entire street into a French village by the artists committee. Canoe street, famous for its club houses, was chosen. It was roofed over with awnings, and a floor laid. Features, including taxing, dancing, vaudeville, moving pictures, etc., were arranged for every day of the campaign, and some of the clubs are serving lunch to loan subscribers. It is known as the "biggest little street in the world" being only one block long.

For the first time in the history of the city, Philadelphians have been given an opportunity to use wireless telephones. The Aircraft Factory of the Navy Yard at Leuzette Island has set up a station at the Commercial Museum, where they also have placed a complete exhibit of naval paraphernalia. This is said to be one of the most complete shows of its kind in the world.

In addition to the Court of Honor before the Victory Statue, there are courts dedicated to all of the Allies in the central part of the city. The display contains over 40,000 flags, and is said to be the most elaborate and beautiful ever seen in Philadelphia.

LOAN TERMS BEST

The terms of the Victory Liberty Loan are said by financiers to be the most favorable ever granted on a high paying investment of absolute safety.

The campaign, which closes May 10, is for $4,500,000,000. The quota for the Third Federal Reserve District is $375,000,000. No oversubscriptions will be accepted.

Notes of the issue mature in four years, and the government has the privilege of redeeming them a year earlier. The popular issue, which bears 4 1/2 per cent interest, is free of all taxes except inheritance and estate taxes, and the income surtax.

The other note, bearing 3 1/2 per cent interest, is free of all taxes with the exception of the inheritance and estate taxes. Either note is convertible into the other.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

The great benefit derived from the use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has been gratefully acknowledged by many. Mrs. Benjamin F. Blakeney, Decatur, Ill., writes, "Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is by far the best medicine for colds, coughs, whooping cough, and all other ailments of the throat. I gave it to my children when small for group and have taken it myself."

IN MISERY FOR YEARS

Mrs. Courtney Tells How She Was Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Oskaloosa, Iowa.—"For years I was simply in misery from a weakness and awful pains—and nothing seemed to come any good. A friend advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I did so and got relief right away. I can certainly recommend this valuable medicine to other women who suffer, for it has done such good work for me and I know it will help others if they will give it a fair trial."

Mrs. LIZZIE COURTNEY, 108 8th Ave., West, Oskaloosa, Iowa, along with day to day, year in and year out, suffering such misery as did Mrs. Courtney, when such letters as this are continually being published. Every woman who suffers from displacements, irregularities, inflammation, ulceration, backache, nervousness, or who is passing through the Changes of Life should give this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a trial. For special advice write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. The result of its long experience is at your service.

Horse Still a Going Concern

Horses are hardly maintaining their number on farms in this country, in consequence of the autotruck, the automobile, and the needs of the war, and yet there are nearly as many in the country now as a year ago, according to the Bureau of Crop Estimates of the United States Department of Agriculture. Furthermore, there are now one-third of a million more than at the beginning of the war. It was expected that the war would stampede the horse market in this country and would send prices high enough to rob the farms of a large number of much-needed work animals, but there was no such shock as was expected. From 1910 to 1915 horses on farms increased a little each year, usually over 1 per cent, and since 1915 the increase of four years has apparently been over 300,000.

The present total, according to the estimate, is 21,534,000 horses. The exports of horses during the war to December 31, 1918, have been slightly more than 1,900,000 at the present rate the normal exports would have been about 120,000. As far as covered by domestic exports, the war made an extra demand on farmers for almost 900,000 horses. To this must be added the extra demand of the United States Government. By January 11, 1919, the War Department had shipped overseas nearly 30,000 horses, and on November 2, 1918, that department had in this country nearly 175,000 horses. The apparent figures of extra demand on the farmers of the United States by this country and the allies for horses on account of the war make a total of about 1,100,000 horses in exports and in the service of the War Department. The actual number is greater by the normal exports, and hence about 1,200,000 horses are indicated as the horse contribution of the farms to the war, not including private purchases and the United States Government outside of the War Department.

Crops Saved in Rodent Fight

Last year 100,861 pounds of poison bait were used by 1,793 co-operative farmers in Utah to stop the enormous losses that have been sustained annually from rodents in that State. This poison was applied on 86,104 acres of infested land, and the farmers reported 892,179 rodents destroyed with an estimated saving in crops of $702,368. Estimates of the saving accomplished were made by specialists of the Bureau of Biological Survey, United States Department of Agriculture, who aided State and local workers in the entire State and local workers in the entire State. Farm bureaus already have ordered quantities of strychnine to carry on similar work in the immediate future and have prepared to mix the poison bait at central places and supply it to farmers who agree to use it according to directions and make reports of results. The bureau says that if the work could be properly financed they could save five times the amount of poison they now have.

Eat More Frozen Fish

Eat more fish—the kinds that are frozen solid and covered with an ice jacket as soon as they are drawn from the deep, cool seas is the advice of specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture. There is an unusually large supply of this kind of fish on hand, probably twice as much as the country has ever had before, and the quality, the specialists say, is as good as the so-called fresh fish that go to the market packed in ice. And the price is more reasonable, because the fish were caught in the season of overproduction. The holdings include some excellent kinds noted for their quality, such as weakfish, mackerel, whiting and herring. People in large cities where hard-frozen fish can be had should give them a trial, and people living in the rural districts of inland States need not be deprived of this form of seafood, for during the cold season frozen fish can be shipped by express or sent by parcel post long distances, Bureau of Chemistry investigators have learned.

Own Your Home

Lancaster City has just started a big "own your home" campaign, which is indeed a very wise move and there is no good reason why the same can not be done here. There are a number of good houses for sale in this section. I am listing additional ones daily and will cheerfully give home-seekers whatever assistance I can in reference to financing their proposition. If you know of a home you would like to own, call, phone or write and I will be "Johnny on the spot."

Warning Tobacco Growers

This is my last advertisement for the express purpose of stabilizing tobacco prices unless hereafter I receive your individual intelligent and loyal financial support.

If you had for the last four years properly supported our policies, you would already have had a ready market for your 1918 crop at 20 to 25c for good wrappers.

If you, Mr. Tobacco Grower, do not at once individually adopt our policies, the remainder of the 1918 crop will soon be selling at greatly reduced prices and YOUR 1919 crop will go at still lower prices.

Come in at once and adopt our price stabilizing policies and guarantee yourself from $30.00 to $75.00 per acre greater returns for your 1919 crop, and double security, and an annual income of 11 per cent, or more, on your money so invested.
