Keystone Combined Side Delivery RAKE and TEDDER

This Machine Rakes Clean, Teds Thoroughly and Handles Hay Gently
It's Left-Hand Delivery Means Better Hay, Cleaner Raking

Using this machine as a rake, you can follow the mower closely striking the heads of the hay first. As you know, the hay falls backward from the mower with heads uppermost. The closely spaced teeth of the Keystone Side Delivery Rake and Tedder thus work against the heads and the leaves, and rake as clean as if the stubble was swept by a broom. They make a light, airy windrow and deposit it on a clean stubble. The work is done quickly and while the leaves are still active. Thus, there is no chance for the leaves to dry ahead of the stems, resulting in uneven curing. The Keystone combined Side Delivery Rake and Tedder will grade your hay up to "choice."

If a right-hand rake were used two serious difficulties would be encountered: First, if the mower were followed the windrow would be deposited on an unraked swath, thus leaving that swath uncured. Second, in going in the opposite direction from the mower, the teeth would strike the butts of the stems first, not catching in the crotches and not doing as clean work.

INSTANTLY ADJUSTED FOR RAKING OR TEDDING
By manipulating lever, the cylinder can be adjusted to revolve in either direction. There are three notches in this lever quadrant, one neutral and one reverse for tedding, the other revolving the cylinder for raking.

THIS VALUABLE MACHINE CAN BE BOUGHT FOR $100 OR FOR $95.00 THIRTY DAYS
