Erb's on Sunday. I wonder whether the farmers who have apple trees have noticed how they are affected with the scab. I notice in going around most trees are affected. It is an incurable disease, so in a few years there will be no more apples grown around here. Clarence Metzler after a six weeks stay at home again is working for Peter Snaveley. Its his object to learn all he can about machinery and implements. The farmer of the future will have need for such experiences. It appears as though the farmer in the future will do most of his work with machinery. A few weeks ago we announced the organization of a recreation club. They will break ground this week for a tennis court and croquet ground. We are glad to note the interest taken by the young folks. A movement of this kind is one in the right direction. All work and no play makes a dull boy of Jack. We hope the report is true that Potash in unlimited quantities has been found in Tioga Co., Pa. This is the best news a farmer could receive, any farmer that under-his business knows that soil must have potash. At the present time it is worth $300 a ton and if the find is true it will be a wonderful help to our farmers. Let us hope it is so we can turn to our country for it instead of allowing the Germans to send it here and charge us any price for it. Last Tuesday was one of the ideal summer days and then a number of our people motored to the Blue Mountains about 10 miles beyond the town of Dauphin for berries. The riverside drive, 10 miles of mountain road and a mountain climb of several miles, picking the luscious berries were the interesting events of the day. Martin was the photographer, Albert the entertainer, Lester the silent partner and Messrs. Brubaker and Metzler were at the wheels. The party consisted of Mr. and Mrs. John Brubaker, Mr. and Mrs. John Metzler, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Erb and Messrs. E. Rohrer, Martin and Earl Metzler and Lester Bradley. They returned home at an early hour delighted with the trip. The past week one of our neighbors had an exciting experience, yet very comical to one not concerned. This neighbor is a lover of automobiling, he certainly had his desire satisfied. You all know how winding, hilly and rough the road is from Erisman's Church to Manheim. His experience was this. One of his friends who is an expert driver took him over this road for a ride at the rate of 50 miles an hour so he said, but the ride wasn't as speedy as that. Since when one is afraid one's imagination is somewhat exaggerated. After the experience he remarked to your correspondent, "I never was so much afraid in my life, why when we got to town my eyes and mouth were filled with dust," and I could hardly breathe. We believe he was frightened, for when one is afraid he makes big eyes and breathes heavy—that accounts for them being filled with dust, but when seen on Sunday his breathing apparatus seemed to be normal again.

The honor was awarded him for gallantry in action. While riding a horse on Thursday evening Phares Stein was thrown heavily to the ground, breaking his left arm at the elbow. Dr. I. S. Simons set the injured member and Mr. Stein is getting along as well as can be expected although he will not be able to use it for some time. H. R. Schneitman, postmaster here for several years, has been re-appointed to the position. His appointment was confirmed last week by the United States Senate, and word reached here late in the week. Schneitman's first term expired on Thursday, the day on which the Senate ratified his appointment. The following persons from the borough attended the Hollinger family fifth annual reunion at the home of Joseph Hostenetter, near Mt. Joy, on Thursday: Monroe G. Hollinger and family, Clayton G. Hollinger and family, Miss Ada Reitz, Clayton S. Hollinger and family, Miss Ruth Hollinger, Isaac Hollinger and wife. Mr. and Mrs. John Diefenbaugh entertained the following at their home on College avenue on Friday, which was greatly enjoyed by all present: Thomas Adams and wife, Mrs. John Adams and wife, of Lancaster; W. Mr. and Mrs. David Raffensberger and Mr. and Mrs. John Raffensberger called on Mr. and Mrs. Phares Metzler on Sunday evening. Mrs. E. D. Raffensberger is visiting the Misses Harley of Lancaster, at their cottage at Mt. Gretna. Mr. and Mrs. Blessing Spent Saturday at Harrisburg and Sunday with her parents at Millersville. To celebrate Marie Her and Cletus Raffensberger's birthdays, both families autored to Hershey, on Thursday, where they had a good time. Don't forget the Union Picnic of the Salunga and Landsville Sunday Schools this Wednesday morning at 8 o'clock by trolley to Hershey. Take a day off for a good time. Farmers are picking their pears and venders are offering their stock of watermelons—fair ones at $1.00. Though we always did enjoy good watermelons, the price $1.00 seems a little shocking. On Sunday morning the Rev. Clough, the minister of the M. E. church brought with him Dr. Byerly of Lancaster, who delivered a highly appreciated address. Come again we appreciate your work. Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Musser entertained the following on Sunday: Rev. Amos Hottenstein, Rev. George Weaver, Mr. and Mrs. Elias Eby and son Roy, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Wagner and family and Mrs. Annie Bender. Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hiestand entertained on Sunday the following: Mrs. Susan Newcomer, Mr. and Mrs. John Lentz and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Lentz, Mr. and Mrs. Amos Hiestand and family of Lebanon. Mrs. Susan Newcomer was kindly remembered on her birthday on Friday, by her children and her sister Mrs. Katharine Sechrist. They spent a pleasant time together, for which she is grateful as well as for the gifts received. At the evening service Sunday, Aug. 17, in the Salunga Methodist church at 7:30 sharp, will be held a rousing song service. A large chorus will be heard and Lieutenant John Eddy just home from France, a friend of the pastor, will sing one or two of his solos. Elias Eby and family stopped at his brother Samuel's on their way home on Saturday evening, after being to his sister, Mrs. I. N. Mumma, who had invited a few friends as a surprise for him on his fiftieth birthday. We wish for him many more birthdays in health and strength. Looking across the county one sees the farmer and male portion of his family in the tobacco field long before the dew is off the leaf and we judge the folks are topping the crop or perhaps suckering it. The prospects seem quite favorable for a good yield of fair goods where the weed escaped the flood of water of the last two months. On last Friday Dr. J. D. Kendig of Manheim, Mr. Scott Bushong of Rohrerstown, Dr. J. S. Kendig and Benj. T. Kendig of this place, autored to a place beyond Sunbury, where they visited Mr. Bowers, formerly of Petersburg, who is a Supt. of a fruit orchard of several hundred acres. They made the journey about any mishap and enjoyed the trip very much. Our slumbers were somewhat disturbed on Friday night between midnight and daylight by various whoops and sounds followed by quite a loud report from fire arms handled by our good neighbor Metzler, who put a stop to the racket by firing upon some chicken thieves fats after chickens. Unfortunately he missed the mark and the rats scamped off to try their luck some other night.

Solving The Tire Problem

The greatest drawback to the automobile is its troublesome tires. Let us look at their construction: Tires consist of only the inner tube and a single outside casing or tube container. Your tires are strong enough when new. You would seldom have a blowout if they would always stay new. You would not be free from punctures, however. Suppose you would put a new casing into your old tires. They could never blowout for the new casing would always hold the tube. Very seldom, if ever, would a nail or spike go through both shoes. You would be free from punctures. You could, no doubt, drive your car without thought of tire trouble until the outside shoe was worn through. Therefore when a new tire is placed in another, you cannot have blowouts, you prevent punctures and get extra long mileage "without trouble." In short a "double tire" would solve the problem. But common casings are too stiff and thick and would not work successfully on the inside. After many years of study a practical inside casing has been perfected and is known as the MAXOTIRE. It works the same as the new casing used in the tire, without the defects. In a word it seems to have solved the tire problem—the way the "re-orders" are coming into the factory. MAXOTIRES will revolutionize tire construction and make the auto a real source of pleasure. Maxotires Were Patented on Dec. 28th, 1909, Jan. 4th, 1910 and April 27th, 1915. Also the word MAXOTIRE is Copyrighted in the United States Patent Office.
