RED CROSS TO FURNISH RELIEF

Preparations For Disaster Aid on a Gigantic Scale Now Being Made.

NATION'S WEALTH AVAILABLE

New Plan is Part of the Peace Program and No Disaster is Too Big For it to Handle Efficiently.

Preparedness for disaster relief on a scale never before possible is being undertaken by the American Red Cross, as one of the important features of its peace program, for the support of which an effort will be made to secure a record membership during the Third Red Cross roll call, November 2 to 11.

A Frightful Record.

Because of the lack of the spectacular in many of them, it is not generally realized how frequently disasters occur, bringing death and suffering in their wake. Since 1900, disasters of peace have cost thousands of lives and have brought personal injury and property losses to no fewer than 15,000,000 persons, at the same time destroying property valued at over $1,000,000,000.

During 1917 alone, eighty disasters came to the attention of the American Red Cross; sixty-two tornadoes, five floods, four great fires, two earthquakes, two serious mine explosions, two munition plant explosions, a race riot, a shipwreck and the tragic calamity which befell Halifax. The total of deaths estimated was 1758, while 5927 were injured and the property loss reached $110,000,000.

Under its direction the entire resources of all communities for emergency relief will be mobilized for instant use when needed. Red Cross chapters everywhere will create Disaster Preparedness Committees that will make surveys locating not only emergency food supplies, drugs and other hospital supplies, cots, mattresses, blankets, clothing, school supplies, medicines and other buildings for housing refugees, but also will canvass physicians, nurses, social workers and others prepared to respond instantly to calls for their services in disasters.

Relief Supply Centers.

Information gathered in these surveys will be filed by the thirteen Red Cross Divisional organizations in the United States, which will establish disaster relief supply centers and take charge of operations when assistance is needed. In the case of major disasters, where the resources of the division in which it occurs are overtaxed, the entire relief strength of the Red Cross in the country may be mobilized, through National Headquarters. And there will also be ready for immediate relief duty the equipment and personnel of the fifty base hospitals organized by the American Red Cross and turned over to the army for service in France.

For the guidance of its representatives at the scene of disasters a comprehensive Relief Manual has been compiled by J. Byron Deagan, director general of the American Red Cross Department of Civilian Relief, who is charged with responsibility for Red Cross funds and operations in disasters. The Manual calls attention to the frequency of disasters and urges that relief to be effective must be swift and centralized. The local community, so far as possible is depended upon to provide its own relief, with the Division and National Red Cross organizations standing ready to rush additional aid where it is necessary. The extensive and varied experience of the Red Cross places it in a peculiarly effective position to offer sound counsel. It has built up a trained and seasoned staff of relief workers and each Division office will have its list of experienced disaster workers under agreement to go, at a moment's notice, to any stricken territory.

The Red Cross is thus planning to put disaster relief on such a sound basis that it will become in the fullest sense, nation-wide in scope, and will assure a swifter mobilization and application of whatever may be needed after calamities, no matter what their size or where they occur.

RED CROSS PHOTOGRAPHS GRAVES OF OUR HEROES

Of the 150 American aviators who lost their lives in battle, the graves of 143 have been photographed by the American Red Cross for their families. Every effort is being made to locate and photograph the seven that have not yet been found.

In many cases graves were located only after hundreds of miles of German soil had been covered. As soon as they were found and properly marked in accordance with army regulations they were photographed.

The same system has been followed in France, where the Red Cross photographed thousands of graves of American soldiers for their families. These photographs are in a special holder, supplied by the Red Cross, and give all markings as well as the exact location of the graves.

Hay-Fever Easily Prevented

If you would like to prevent yourself from the oncoming attack of hay-fever in August—start now. I can guarantee great relief this August and permanent results if instructions are carefully followed. All other diseases successfully treated and a guarantee in every one if instructions are followed. For further information phone or write to Dr. Geo. E. Crandall, 147 E. Chestnut St., Lancaster, Pa. BIG RED CROSS PEACE PROGRAM

New Plans of Organization Bring it to Every Person and Home in Country.

AS IMPORTANT AS IN WAR

Nation-Wide Activity For Improving Public Health and Expansion of its Nursing Resources Two Objects.

The peace program of the American Red Cross has just been made public and it is gigantic in its scope. It is so comprehensive that it will bring the activities of the organization into practically every home and into the life of every person in the country.

The Program.

Foremost will be nation-wide activity for the promotion of public health and hand-in-hand with this crusade will go a vigorous campaign for the extension of the country's nursing resources; the broadening of the Red Cross Home Service, which in the war proved so helpful through the assistance it was able to give the families of soldiers and sailors, to be of general usefulness where other social agencies are lacking; greatly increased Junior Red Cross facilities; extension of Red Cross facilities for emergency disaster relief; completion of relief measures for the victims of the war in this country and overseas, and preparation to fulfill whatever duties may be laid upon it as the volunteer relief society officially authorized to assist the army and navy.

The plan of the Red Cross public health campaign calls for co-operation with other existing health promotion and disease prevention organizations throughout the United States, acting by itself where no health agency now exists, in an effort to reduce the high mortality due to preventable disease and to improve general health conditions.

The Public Health.

Public health nursing will be one of the important features of this campaign. Red Cross public health nurses will be assigned to as many small communities as possible, thus extending to the rural population the bedside nursing, school inspection, classes in hygiene and home nursing and search for tuberculosis and other preventable disease that has been so effective in the cities and larger towns.

In this connection it is planned to enter to every woman in America instruction in home sanitation, hygiene, care of the sick and dietetics, thus providing first-hand knowledge of how to keep the family well and what to do where illness or accident cannot be avoided. These courses are now being introduced in the public schools and colleges and are offered department store employees, factory operatives, girl scouts, nursemaids and others, fitting them to help combat infant and child mortality, malnutrition, unsanitary living conditions, preventable disease and epidemics in their own homes.

The seven thousand public health nurses in the United States are far too few to meet the ever-increasing demands for their services.

Home Service.

Home service among the families of American soldiers and sailors has brought out the important fact that in 90 per cent of the places where Home Service is now operating there is no other social work agency. According to there is an imperative demand, national in scope, that this service with its thousands of highly trained workers, be continued and expanded to assist all needy families in communities where other neighboring relief is not at hand.

As always, the Red Cross must help itself ready for instant relief service in time of public disaster, such as great fires, floods, cyclones, shipwrecks, earthquakes, pestilence, famine and epidemics. Experience in the war and the great organization built up through that emergency will give this branch of Red Cross activity more effective than ever before.

The Junior Work.

The Junior Red Cross, with its millions of members in the schools, public and private, throughout the United States, has laid plans calling for $500,000 for relief work abroad, this amount constituting 90 per cent of the money the Juniors raise, the remainder to be used for local relief in co-operation with Home Service. It is also planned to have the junior members supplement and assist in the work of the national organization wherever possible, with especial regard to the needs of children.

The turning over to the American Red Cross of the surplus medical and surgical supplies and supplementary food stores of the American army abroad for distribution among the still suffering native populations, together with the foreign relief programs still being carried out largely in Poland, the Balkans and Siberia, necessitates the continuance of Red Cross operations overseas.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

This remedy is intended especially for coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough. From a small beginning its sale and use has extended to all parts of the United States and to many foreign countries. This alone is enough to convince one that it is a medicine of more than ordinary merit. Give it a trial and you will find this to be the case. oct.1-5t.

What Keeps a Battery Young?

To be reliable, a storage battery must have well-made plates.

Battery solution must be proper strength and required purity.

Battery jars must be mechanically strong and must allow no leakage of current or battery solution.

But it's the insulation between the plates that keeps that battery full of life and adds months to its term of useful service.

Drop in and ask us to tell you about Tinsdale Rubber Insulation, and some of the records it has made in keeping batteries on the job for the longest time.
