WEEKLY MARKET REVIEW

Corn, Chicago May corn declined during the week from $1.95 1/2 on May 17th to $1.78 at the close Saturday, and in all likelihood this commodity will still work lower.
Oats were more steady showing a decline during the week of 10 1/2c. The decline in oats was mainly due to deliveries of cash corn being made against May future contracts.

THE QUESTION OF FURNITURE QUALITY

There are few things that quality effects so vitally as furniture. Often things that people buy for personal wear and for home use are not always expected to last a long time, but this cannot be said about furniture. When you buy furniture you are buying something you expect to render you long service. It will if you buy it here, because here we think of quality first. All the furniture we buy must measure exactly up to requirements which we make as to the manner of workmanship. And, after all, in the long run, well-made furniture is the cheapest sort of furniture to buy. We invite comparison, look around, compare qualities and prices and then come here and see our vast assortment.

How to Lower Your Meat Bills

Hints From the Department of Justice

A MESSAGE FROM THE STATE FAIR PRICE COMMISSION TO THE HOUSEWIVES OF THIS STATE.

The women of this state could materially reduce the cost of their food by purchasing the less expensive cuts of meat. These cuts are cheap only in the sense that the price is lower. They are nutritious and, when properly prepared, are highly palatable. Some of the less expensive meat contains higher nutritive value than the most costly portions. But the cheaper cuts are sadly neglected because of lack of information as to their merit and their preparation. As a consequence, the demand for meats at retail is highly uneven. This makes merchandising more expensive and adds to the cost of living. The Fair Price Commission purposes to disseminate information about the cheaper cuts which, turned to account by consumers, will help to reduce meat bills.

FAIR PRICE COMMISSION.

BUY FORE-QUARTER BEEF AND SAVE MONEY.

The fair price commission declares that if consumers will buy more fore-quarter beef—whence come less expensive cuts—they will save money. Here is something which the United States department of agriculture recently said on the subject:
"Because of its reputation as the choicest cut, the people ask for porterhouse steak, whereas if they would try a chuck steak, the chances are it would prove to be satisfactory and it would cost much less. The reputation of porterhouse steak with the consequent large demand for it, coupled with the fact that this cut forms only a very small per cent of the carcass, causes it to sell at a higher price than any other cut."
"If people in general could realize the value of meat from the fore-quarter as compared with that from the hind-quarter and would use more of it, prices of meat as a whole would be greatly reduced and would be more stable.

"An abnormal demand for any commodity forces up the price and this condition applies to porterhouse steak or other choice cuts. People should use more fore-quarter meats and reduce prices of living. Any of the fore-quarter meat is good for making meat loaves or Liberty steak, while in some markets, steaks are cut from the rib and sell as short cut steaks."
The department of agriculture shows plainly how expensive it is to discriminate against the fore-quarter beef.
"The average consumer seldom realizes the difference in the selling price of beef taken from the hind-quarters and that cut from the fore-quarters and if he is aware of it he very likely does not understand the reason therefor. The wholesale prices on hind and fore-quarters of beef are based on a differential of so much over carcass price for hind-quarters and so much under carcass price for fore-quarters. It is seldom that fore-quarters ever sell as high or that hind-quarters sell as low as carcass prices. The average differential is usually 2 cents over on hinds and 2 cents under on fores. At present, the differentials are greater, both over and under.

"The differential is changed according to the market.
This is just the time of year for persons with porterhouse habits to get acquainted with beef from the fore-quarter. Such meat is used largely for roasts and stews. On this account it requires more heat for cooking. In cold weather, when it is necessary to heat the house for personal comfort, there is a double reason for using fore-quarter beef.

Neck Meat of Beef Loaf.

2 lb neck meat of beef, ground.
1/2 lb lean pork, ground.
1 egg.
1 green pepper, chopped fine.
2 cupfuls bread crumbs.
Liquid to moisten.
3 slices of bacon.

Mix the beef, pork, egg, pepper, bread crumbs and seasonings with sufficient milk or water to form into loaf. Arrange strips of bacon on top. Bake in loaf or in casserole, in a moderate oven for two hours. Cover if necessary to prevent the top from becoming too hard and dry.

They're Funny Tombstones

The story comes from Tyrone that recently a through freight car was sidetracked there for repairs. It was marked tombstones.
In making the repairs, it was necessary for the workmen to get inside the car, and when the seal was broken, tombstones were found piled high at the door, but when these were removed the interior of the car was filled with whiskey, some forty or more barrels of it. At that the tombstone label was about the right kind.

Mobiloils

A grade for each type of motor

100,865,000 Piston Strokes Per Year

The average of three popular four cylinder cars shows that during each mile on high gear, there are, 20,173 piston strokes—20,173 rubs within the cylinders—the pistons and cylinder walls separated only by about 3/1000 of an inch of oil.

At the end of the season, if the car has traveled 5,000 miles on high gear, the pistons have made 100,865,000 strokes.

These 100,865,000 piston strokes are made possible only by the wearing quality of this protective oil film, seldom thicker than this sheet of paper.

Let us explain why the correct grade of Gargoyl Mobiloils will protect your engine.
