ORDINANCE PASSED SECOND READING

CITIZENS ASKED TO HAVE CUT-OUT NUISANCE ABATED—COST OF OILING OUR STREETS WAS OVER $1,000—OTHER BUSINESS

Mount Joy Borough Council met in regular session Monday evening for the transaction of the business of the regular August meeting. All the members of council were present. The minutes of the two previous special meetings were read and approved.

A petition, numerously signed by residents in the vicinity of New Haven and West Donegal streets, was presented and read. The petitioners prayed that trucks using cut-outs be prevented from continuing that practice. Chairman Newcomer referred the petition to Burgess H. C. Schock as that was a matter entirely governed by ordinance and under his jurisdiction.

Street Committee

Mr. O. G. Longenecker reporting having oiled Main, Market, Barbara and Marietta streets. That it was necessary to purchase some fine stone at Rheems as neither of the local dealers could supply them when needed. Also that the Trolley Company was asked to repair and oil its portion of Donegal street. Mr. Newcomer stated that while in conversation with Mr. Crawford he said they would repair their portion of the street within the next week or ten days but that the company would not oil. Mr. Crawford stated that inasmuch as the Conestoga Traction Company had between 59 and 60 miles of tracks in towns throughout the county, it had opinions on oiling, that they could not be compelled to and would not oil.

Mr. Ream reported that representatives of this committee inspected the situation at the New Standard Hardware Works and suggested that the only good way to eliminate the surface water nuisance there was for the parties concerned to lay pavements and gutters, then the water would flow off.

Mr. Ream said they also inspected the situation at Jno. W. Eshleman's complaint and found that (Continued on page 4)

SUIT STARTED HERE IN TOBACCO DISPUTE

Harnish & Harnish, attorneys for Chester E. Palmer, of Rapho, have sued John S. Pyle, of Conoy township, in the court of common pleas. The plaintiff claims that he raised two acres of tobacco on the defendant's farm. He was to receive one-fourth of the proceeds. The defendant refused to pay him and the plaintiff claims the value of the one-fourth of the tobacco is $238, for which he sues.

A BOY MEETS WITH AN UNUSUAL ACCIDENT

Walter, son of Philip Gibbons, residing on East Donegal street, met with a very unusual accident near his home Saturday. He found a cartridge and unthinkingly threw it on the brick sidewalk. The cartridge must have struck on the primer as it was discharged and the bullet penetrated his foot, causing a slight wound.

Cyrus Is President

Cyrus H. Good, of Rapho township, at a convention held at Harrisburg during the week was elected president of the State Farm Loan Association. The state association is a federation of the various county associations throughout the state. Mr. Good has been very active in the local Farm Loan Association and is largely responsible for the formation of the state body.

This Merchant Is Awake

We want our readers to "sit up and take notice," as merchant P. E. Getz says, but barely see how you could miss that page ad of his in this issue. Mr. Getz is a thoro believer in the right kind of advertising and other merchants will do well to wake up and follow examples set by him in the columns of the Bulletin.

An Auto Mishap

Miss Verna F. Peck, principal of the Bainbridge high school, who is among the enterprising teachers, and drives her own automobile, made a narrow escape while driving the car into the garage on the Frank homestead, when the brakes failed to work properly. The machine ran into a car belonging to Mr. Frank and damaged it.

At The Hospital

Mrs. Martha B. Heistand, on Marietta street, was removed to St. Joseph's Hospital at Lancaster on Friday. She underwent an operation Monday and is slowly improving at this writing.

A BARN WAS DESTROYED BY FIRE FRIDAY NIGHT

Thursday night the campers at Landisville had a big scare. At 12 o'clock they were aroused out of their sleep by the ringing of the tabernacle bell and the call of Fire! and when they looked out of their windows they were greeted by a yellow blaze almost like day. Within fifty yards of the campmeeting woods a barn, belonging to William Derr, was on fire. In ringing the tabernacle bell it was overturned and some one went to the boarding house bell and its clear tones aroused the farmers for miles around. The barn was burned to the ground.

Proachers and people came to see if they could be of assistance, but nothing could be saved. Luckily there was no wind, so the fire did not spread. The fire was discovered by several young men from East Petersburg, who had been to a watermelon party. They could have extinguished the flames, but two pumps which were on the Derr place were out of commission. The blaze is supposed to have ignited by a spark which had smoldered since early evening when the Derr's had a fire. The loss is covered by insurance.

LOCAL DOINGS IN REAL ESTATE

Mr. Albert Strickler has purchased at private sale and on private terms the frame double house on West Main street from the Misses Bott.

THE CLASS OF '19 HELD A HOUSE PARTY AT PEQUEA

The class of 1919, Mount Joy High school held their annual reunion as a house party to Pequea. They had the beautiful and spacious cottage River-view for the week-end. A most delightful time was had by all. The class spirit was brought to life and happy memories of school days were renewed. The dancing, bathing, boating, aeroplane and usual festivities were indulged in by all, but the old fashioned barn dance was the wonder. Ask Howard or Dave? The members of the class present were as follows: Messrs. Howard Gardner, David Stauffer, Lloyd Myers, Thomas Bennett and Misses Dorothy Meyers, Mildred Fellenbaum, Marie Detwiler, Mary Rohrer and Neva Wiley being chaperoned by Mrs. M. G. Detwiler of Lancaster.

Predicts Hard Winter

A Lancaster county weather prophet says we are to have a hard winter. The prophet is an old lumberman who pointed to the antics of the very industrious bees, indicating preparation for one of the hardest winters in years. The bees, which generally build their homes in the ground or a rotten log, are forsaking their natural haunts and taking to the topmost branches of all trees in the heavy woodlands—a sure sign, says the lumberman, of heavy blizzards.

BUSINESS MEN'S ASSOCIATION HELD INTERESTING MEETING

The Mount Joy Business Men's Association held an interesting meeting last night with nearly all the members present. They discussed at length the project of starting a building and loan association and we believe that in the near future their aim will be accomplished. Another important question discussed was the transfer of the Pennsylvania Railroad freight station from its present location to that of the old P. R. R. station on North Market street, where it would be more centrally located.

The Business Men's Association will and want to co-operate with the Mount Joy Board of Trade in all forward movements of the community. Mount Joy needs these organizations and we earnestly urge all business men, manufacturers and professional men and others who are interested, in the development of Mount Joy, to join this organization and attend the meetings, thereby helping to boost and advertise Mount Joy as a "Live Business Center."

VOGLE SAYS BOLSHEVISM IS FAILURE

CLAIMS CONDITION OF PEASANTS IS DEPLORABLE—FOOD IS VERY SCARCE AND PEOPLE ARE HALF STARVED

Third Mate Edward Vogle, U. S. Merchant Marine Service, is home on a visit to friends here and at Columbia. He is a brother to Mrs. John H. Cramer, on Lumber street. The Columbia Daily Spy contained the following concerning their young marine:

Mr. Vogle recently arrived at Philadelphia with his ship after a seven months' cruise in Russian waters, including the Black Sea. His ship touched at a number of Russian ports and carried refugees to other ports, including Constantinople. He says the condition of the people under Bolshevist rule is deplorable. Nearly all of the refugees were half starved. Some towns and cities, out of Bolshevist rule were practically doubled in population because of the refugees and it was difficult to find food for them. Some towns would not permit the landing of the refugees, because of the scarcity of food. Some of the scenes he witnessed were heart-rending.

Mr. Vogle also relates one incident where he saw a horse, practically only skin and bones, that was killed on a wharf, skinned, cut up with a common wood axe, placed in a big boiler and boiled together with a little corn meal, and after being cooked was eaten ravenously by the half starved people. Among the poorer classes of Russia black bread is the principal food and it is very bad.

Constantinople is also filled with refugees, but the city is lively and there is great activity. Food is plentiful in Constantinople and one can get almost anything he wants, that is if he has the price. An ordinary meal costs about $2.50 in American money. Luxuries are cheap. He saw fine Turkish rugs that could be bought for $14.00 in American money, and fine furs for almost a "song."

He speaks in glowing terms of the American Red Cross, which is doing wonderful work. The American Red Cross is recognized by every person as the one organization that is doing more than any other for the relief of the people.

Mr. Vogle brought with him a collection of money which he picked up in Russia, Austria, Montenegro, Serbia and other countries. This money is all sizes, ranging from a postage stamp to the size of an American bank note, and it has very little value. The Russian ruble is worth practically nothing as one can get several hundred for an American dollar.

Mr. Vogle, who is a native of Marietta, enlisted in the U. S. Navy several years ago. He was aboard the U. S. Cruiser Memphis, that was wrecked by a hurricane at San Domingo, and he was rescued in a breeches buoy. He was aboard the Tennessee that was sent to European ports after the outbreak of the war to relieve stranded Americans and to bring them back to the United States. After the establishment of the U. S. Merchant Marine he entered that branch of the service and was commissioned a mate. He has visited every European country, and his experiences are very interesting. Mr. Vogle expects to be on shore about two or three weeks, when he will sail for China and Japan.

WILL OPEN A CAMP FOR YOUNG PEOPLE

On a 240 acre farm owned by N. H. Smith, of Bainbridge, Rev. and Mrs. Bradbury of the Olivet Baptist church will open a summer camp for members of the church and their friends.

The campers will make their quarters in a ten room house situated on the farm. It will not be limited to the members of the church. All young people who wish a summer outing at a nominal cost will be received with a welcome. The supervisors of this camp have provided tents for people desiring real camping life. Through the efforts of Dr. John Calvin Stever, of Bainbridge, the location of the camp was selected. He will also be the camp doctor.
