THE RE-ADJUSTMENT OF PRICES STARTED

SEEMINGLY EVERYTHING HAS REACHED THE HIGH WATER MARK AND PRICES ARE BEGINNING TO COME DOWN

While Henry Ford's "peace ship" accomplished nothing, Henry sure started something about a week ago when he reduced the prices of his flivvers 31 per cent. establishing pre-war prices. Many looked at this move as a joke but we will see if such is the case.

The Franklin Auto Co. has reduced its selling prices 21 per cent. and is advertising the new prices extensively. The Crown-Elkhart Co. has also gone back to old prices. There are a number of other auto concerns that are now in the midst of price slashing campaigns.

Federal Fair price commissioner Frank B. McClain, of Lancaster, has just returned and reports a wonderful and sudden reduction on cotton and silk products, in some cases as high as 50 per cent.

The Cleveland Worsted Mills, at Cleveland, Ohio, has announced a reduction in price of from 15 to 30 per cent. effective immediately but claim that the reduced prices will not benefit the consumer much before Spring, at which time the goods being manufactured at present, will be placed on the market.

Textile manufacturers at Utica, N. Y. announced a reduction in prices of cotton sheetings and yarns of 30 to 40 per cent. The manufacturers, who operate some of the largest plants in the country, said prices were cut to meet the reduction of New England manufacturers. The Shenandoah, Mohawk Valley and Utica Steam Mills are running but four days a week. George Brown's Sons Mills here are also only running four days a week.

Lumber prices throughout the entire west have fallen 20 per cent. The minimum wage paid by the Goodyear Rubber Co. was 70 cents an hour. This has been reduced to 35 cents an hour.

Many of the largest auto tire dealers at Lancaster are advertising all makes of tires at 20 to 25 per cent. off list price.

MORE THAN 201 MILES OF NEW ROADS BUILT IN STATE

Pennsylvania has completed more than 201 miles of new highway for 1920 and stands at the head of the States in that respect, according to figures compiled at the State Highway Department from reports of various States. Highway Commissioner Saylor has received reports of completion of 56 miles of base ready for the surface. Illinois is closest to Pennsylvania in new construction.

State is Good Contractor

State Highway Department officials are of the opinion that the cost of construction of the section of the Manheim road in the vicinity of Rapho township, Lancaster county, being built by the state, is going to run less than the cost of the section being built in the same locality and under similar conditions by the Free-Land Construction Company. The state, to handle the contracts it has had to undertake itself, has been a buyer of equipment, and is really now in a position to tackle projects of considerable size.
