AWARDED PRIZE FOR VIRTUE

Picturesque and Ancient Ceremony That is Annually Performed in French Municipality.

Every year, in the week following Pentecost, the municipal council of Faremoutiers, following a tradition three centuries old, solemnly awards the prize for virtue established by M. Lambert of Mee, a civic benefactor, in the year 1644.

The presentation follows an original and charming ceremony, every detail of which was arranged by the founder. Thirteen maidens, chosen as the most virtuous in the community, present themselves before the municipal council which selected them. In an urn are twelve blank ballots and a thirteenth bearing the following words: "God has chosen me." Each candidate with eyes closed, draws a ballot, and she who draws the ballot with the motto is forthwith declared winner of the rose of virtue.

This year Destiny chose Madeleine Thomas, a dressmaker, sixteen years old. Amidst general acclamation, the happy winner was escorted on the arm of the mayor, who presented her with a sheaf of flowers, to the home of her parents, while a musical society, especially organized for the occasion, played appropriate airs.—From Le Petit Parisien.

Registered His Own Birth.
To register his own birth after becoming of age was the unique experience of a young man in Quebec. A reader said that when the young man applied for a birth certificate he learned that his parents had never registered him.

Hunter's Lucky Shot.
A hare was shot while up a tree by a Manitoba hunter. The animal had been caught by a huge hawk and was rising with its prey. The hunter got both on the one shot.

ACCUSE FATHER OF 4 MURDERS

Connecticut Man Is Charged With Atrocious Crimes by Two of His Sons.

PASSION FOR MONEY

One Son Says Father Fired Building in Which Three Persons Were Sleeping and Shot Them Down as They Fled.

Middletown, Conn.—Lodged in jail in Middlesex county, Conn., is a short, stolid German man, who, if all that is said about him is true, or even half of it, is likely never again to regain his freedom, if he is not condemned to death. Emil Schutte was the former ruler of Shadlersville, a little settlement of 200 souls. He conducted the general store. He was former constable in the settlement. He was and is domineering in manner and was a stern character, of whom the people stood in awe. For years he was regarded the terror of the community and lorded it over others with proud disdain. Things had prospered with him and with a good business and a comfortable sum laid away in the bank, he took on great importance in his own opinion and for that matter in the eyes of the people.

Idol Has Fallen.
But the idol has fallen from its pedestal. Schutte lies in jail on the charge of assault with intent to kill, committed against his wife, and as the result of investigations now being conducted by authorities he may have also to answer within very few days for a series of atrocious murders.

One of Schutte's weaknesses was an inordinate passion for money. Because she would not deed over to him certain property she possessed, the wife was driven from her home by the enraged and avaricious husband, who chased her into the woods, firing revolver bullets at her as she fled. Mrs. Schutte was compelled to swear out a warrant for his arrest. The moment the old man was in jail, people began to talk and the authorities to act upon their intimations and suggestions.

The result is that Schutte is accused by his twelve-year-old son, Augustine, with the murder of a farm hand, killed, it is believed, for his money, and is charged by another son, Julius, with having shot to death three members of one family and Firing Bullets at Her as She Fled. burned their bodies in the home. And three other deaths, it is suspected, may be laid up against him.

BLACK CAT SAVES PASSENGER TRAIN

Engineer's Mascot Gives Warning of Washed-Out Trestle Just in Time.

Milwaukee, Wis.—Tobey, a Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad cat, black as jet, born in the roundhouse, was accustomed to noises of the machines running in and out. Tobey always managed to keep from under the wheels after he had lost his tail under a switch engine. On cold nights he could be found curled up in the cab of his master's "hog."

When the engineer started out he whistled. Tobey would make the cab in a jump and curl up at the engineer's feet and go to sleep.

When Tobey appeared for the run one evening recently he seemed to have a premonition of evil, for he showed reluctance to board the locomotive, but was finally persuaded. About two in the morning Tobey sprang to his feet and began to dash madly about, clawing at the engineer's feet. Then a light flickered by that told of a high trestle a few miles beyond. The spring rains had made the track "spongy" and raised the stream beneath to a raging torrent.

The engineer knew the bridge had been condemned a few weeks before, so he closed the throttle and jammed on the air. The train came to a stop a few rods from where the headlight showed a chasm that had been spanned by a bridge a few hours before. There were several Pullmans in the train and all occupied.

SECRET RETREAT IS FOUND

Aged Woman Hides Fifteen Years in Top of Business Building in Columbus, O.

Columbus, O.—For 15 years an aged woman has made her home in a room on the top floor of a business building in Columbus, O., almost opposite the state capital. The affairs of a city of a quarter of a million passed underneath her window. Twentieth century traffic hurried along the business street in Columbus, while behind the dirty window pane she lived after the manner of a hermit in a cave.

Her retreat was found when painters peered into the window. For days the room's inhabitant was watched. Late one night she was seen to scurry up the steps. Police investigated and found an unkempt room, cobwebbed and filthy. In a corner was a pile of dirty rags, the aged woman's bed. She told officials she had lived in the room 15 years without paying rent. She left it, she said, before dawn and returned at midnight. No one ever saw her come or go, and her existence was suspected but not known.

She was turned over to the Associated Charities. This organization, however, is searching for her. Officials said she disappeared as mysteriously as she lived.

Lost $50 Bill Lined Mouse Nest in Piano

It was nothing new to a piano tuner sent to tune a piano in a home in Altoona, Pa., to discover a mouse's nest under the keyboard, but his curiosity was aroused when he saw the nest lined with a certificate from Uncle Sam's treasury. He pulled it out and found a $50 bill which he gave to the woman of the house. Then she explained that last autumn her husband tucked the bill under the carpet for safe-keeping and when, several months later, they looked for it, the bill had disappeared. The mouse had utilized it.

Grief Over Loss of Horse Causes Death

Grafton, W. Va.—The death of his horse, Diamond, which had reached twenty-eight years old, is believed to have hastened the end of Hiram Galnes, sixty-nine year-old merchant. Mr. Galnes was a great lover of horse-flesh, and Diamond was the favorite.

Not Entirely to His Liking.

A South Grand avenue business man was getting chummy with his six-year-old son the other day. "Wouldn't you like to grow up and be a motor car salesman like me?" the father asked.

"Please, papa, couldn't I just grow up?" he answered.—Kansas City Star.

Who Wants a Farm
I have for sale an 86 acre farm in West Donegal township, that is, beyond a doubt, the best farm of its size I have ever offered. Limestone land excellent producer, good buildings, excellent location. Must be seen to be appreciated. J. E. Schroll, Mt. Joy.
I have a few exceptionally good bargains in real estate for late buyers but you must act at once.

ARE YOU GUILTY?
A FARMER carrying an express package from a big mail-order house was accosted by a local dealer.
"Why didn't you buy that bill of goods from me? I could have saved you the express, and besides you would have been patronizing a home store, which helps pay the taxes and builds up this locality."
The farmer looked at the merchant a moment and then said:
"Why don't you patronize your home store and advertise? I read it and didn't know that you had the stuff I have here."
