

ONE BRAND- ONE QUALITY- One Size Package

All our skill, facilities, and lifelong knowledge of the finest tobaccos are concentrated on this one cigarette—CAMEL.

Into this ONE BRAND, we put the utmost quality. Nothing is too good for Camels. They are as good as it's possible to make a cigarette.

Camel QUALITY is always maintained at the same high, exclusive standard. You can always depend on the same mellow-mild refreshing smoothness—the taste and rich flavor of choicest tobaccos—and entire freedom from cigarettey aftertaste.

And remember this! Camels come in one size package only—20 cigarettes—just the right size to make the greatest saving in production and packing. This saving goes straight into Camel Quality. That's one reason why you can get Camel Quality at so moderate a price.

Here's another. We put no useless frills on the Camel package. No "extra wrappers!" Nothing just for show!

Such things do not improve the smoke any more than premiums or coupons. And their added cost must go onto the price or come out of the quality.

One thing, and only one, is responsible for Camels great and growing popularity—that is CAMEL QUALITY.

YOUNG FOLKS ARE JOINED IN WEDLOCK

NUMBER OF VERY WELL KNOWN YOUNG FOLKS ARE JOINED IN THE HOLY BONDS OF MATRIMONY.

Lindemuth-Gainor.

Robert M. Lindemuth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin L. Lindemuth, of Elizabethtown, and Miss Florence E. Gainor, were married by Rev. E. F. Yoder, pastor of the Church of God.

Sheetz-Boll.

C. Morris Sheetz, principal of the Monachui school, at Bethlehem, and Miss Jane E. Boll, of Maytown, were married at noon Saturday at the parsonage of the First Church of God. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. G. R. Hooverter, pastor of the church. They will reside at Bethlehem. The bride is a graduate nurse of the St. Joseph's hospital class of 1919. The bridegroom is a graduate of Muhlenberg college. He served in Company C, 14th Machine Gun battalion in the World War.

THE HIGH-WAISTED EFFECT

A harbinger of the falling leaf is this smart tailleur model from Paris—severely cut of blue—marine blue—serge and stitched in self-color. The single button and high-waisted effect are the more noticeable features.

GARMENTS FOR THE KIDDIES

Designers Have Outdone Previous Efforts in Providing Winsome Attire for Children.

Children's garments are more alluring this summer than ever before. Designers seem to have outdone all previous efforts along that line. The shops are filled with pretty novelties that may be purchased all ready to wear, or that serve equally well as suggestions for the benefit of the mother who makes her children's clothes.

Little kindergarten designs in the form of small sun-bonneted figures are applied on frocks and aprons to form pockets. These pockets may be made of the same plaid material used for cuffs and sash, or match the dress and embroidery cotton.

There is a very pronounced fancy this summer for hats and bonnets to match all frocks designed for members of the younger generation. When the frock is of the tailored type, a straw hat is often preferred to one made of fabric, but if the dress is at all of the jingling type, then the preference seems to be for fabric hats or bonnets. Lovely organdie hats are often trimmed with bands or appliqued motifs of checked gingham. Such a hat may be worn either with an organdie or a gingham frock. Many dainty little hats are made of colored dotted swiss, or of colored dotted swiss in combination with plain color or white.

The short socks carry out the color scheme of hat and frock. Many mothers buy dozens of pairs of the little short socks, watching every bargain table that offers such merchandise, so that every outfit, whether green, yellow, red or other shade may be complete and blend from head to heels.

COUNTIES MUST STILL SETTLE FOR DAMAGES CAUSED BY DOGS

A mistaken impression prevails in many sections of Pennsylvania that the full supervision of the enforcement of the Dog Law of Pennsylvania is now in the hands of the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture, and that the various counties and the county commissioners have nothing to do with the enforcement of the law.

The Dog Law of 1921 does not become effective until January 1, 1922, and therefore, the law of 1917 is still in full force. Numerous inquiries have reached the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture regarding the settlement of claims arising from damage inflicted on livestock and poultry by dogs. These claims must be settled by the various county commissioners for the remainder of the current year.

While under the act of 1917 the Department of Agriculture has supervision over the enforcement of the dog law, yet each county settles the claims arising within its confines, while under the act of 1921, which becomes effective the first of next year, the state takes part in the adjustment of claims and payment is made by the state treasurer.

QUARTERS ARE SECURED FOR COMING 6TH ANNUAL FARM PRODUCTS SHOW

Officials of the Pennsylvania State Farm Products Show this week announced that contracts had been closed for the buildings in which the show will be held the week of January 23 next.

The same quarters that were used for the show last year have been secured again. The Emerson-Brantingham building, at Tenth and Market streets, Harrisburg, and the Harrisburg-Overland building, Fourteenth and Howard streets, will again house the show.

The coming show, which will be the sixth annual event held under the direction of the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture, Pennsylvania State College, and the various agricultural organizations of the state, has grown to be a big event in the agriculture of the State. Last year more than 35,000 men, women and children interested in agriculture, and representing every section of the State, attended the show and plans are being made to care of even larger crowds during the coming winter. The premium lists are now being prepared and will be issued shortly.

YELLOW TOPS IN YOUNG PEACH TREES

In a number of young peach orchards in the state there have recently developed more or less definite areas in which the trees have a sickly cast, the leaves being yellow, rolled upward and often sunburned. This unhealthy condition, according to the Bureau of Plant Industry, Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture, appears to be a result of the recent drought, in which the smaller rootlets were killed off, thus reducing materially the ability to absorb water. The fact that much of this sickness occurs in hollows is not against the explanation given, for in such locations the root system tends to stay near the surface and would thus suffer very quickly when the top soil became dry. It is to be expected that these trees will recover and grow normally after this season.

How Much How Little

How much more than the bare mechanism of an automobile do you get when you buy a car? The real value of any automobile lies in performance, not in design or material.

The manufacturer furnishes the car. The good dealer guarantees its performance.

How much more you get than merely a car depends upon your selection of the dealer.

There is much more than a stock of automobiles in our establishment.
