

D. B. KIEFFER & CO'S PUBLIC SALE OF 2 CARLOADS OF WESTERN HORSES AND COLTS

70 HEAD OF ACCLIMATED HORSES AND COLTS

FRIDAY, DECEMBER 16th. 1921
At 9.30 A. M.

At Middletown, Pa., we will sell the following:

2 Carloads of the Best, Big Rugged and All-Purpose Western Horses and Colts, that we have offered this season at public sale. They will consist of the good, big, rugged feeders, farm chunks, wagon and all-purpose Western Horses and Colts, each and every one the real kind, with two good ends and a middle, and made right all over with the size, shape, bone and muscle that belongs to a real bred draft horse. Will have quite a few closely mated teams, with the size and weight to themselves. Also some good big shapely mares with class & shape all over. These Horses and Colts range in age from 3 to 5 years and have them weighing from 1,000 to 16,00 lbs. each, all quiet and gentle, and the greater part of them broke to double harness.

P. S.—On account of the rainy day we had during our last sale, it was impossible for us to offer these 2 carloads of Western Horses and Colts as we had only four loads advertised for our big sale. Instead we had 5 carloads, this leaves us 2 carloads to offer for our sale on Friday, Dec. 16, 1921. The majority of the people in this vicinity have seen them. If you will inquire from any one that was at the sale of December 2, 1921, he will very readily tell you they are as good as grow. and we will be in a position to handle these in our pavilion, day of sale, no matter how the weather conditions are. Try and be with us.

70 Head of Acclimated and Commission Horses and Mules as follows:
20 Head Good, Big, Finished Draft and General Purpose Horses, with all the quality, weight and class that belongs to a real good horse. These horses range in age from 4 to 8 years

30 Head of Commission and All Kinds of Horses, consisting of good, big workers, farm chunks, single line leaders, drivers, in fact a horse of almost any description you are looking for.

20 Head of Extra Good, Big Mules, of all kinds, closely mated teams single line leaders and a few good single mules. These mules range in age from 3 to 8 years, all well broken and quiet and gentle.

Special—3 Standard Bred Trotting Colts, that are bred in the purple and the right kind, and bred well enough to make real race horses, consisting of 1 Bay G., 1 year old; 1 Bay H., 2 years old and 1 Bay M., 3 years old, all sound and right, and worthy the inspection of any person interested in a real bred trotting colt.

Also at the same time and place we will sell some new and surplus army goods, consisting of 25 new double lined rain coats, all sizes; 12 new O. D. woolen blankets, 12 new collar pads, 12 halters and ropes 12 collars 2 new sets of Victory double harness, 2 new saddles and bridles, 1 dozen whips.

We start the sale promptly at 9.30 A. M., with the Western Horses and Colts until all are sold, then we sell the army goods; at 1 P. M. we start with the Acclimated and Commission Horses and Mules.

Notes for 30, 60 or 90 days will be taken with good security and paying discount.

J. C. Hess, Isaac Brinser, Auctioneers.

NOTICE

The delegates from... who are to make a personal... King George in respect of the... rights represent one of the oldest... most famous confederacies in the world, certainly the most famous in the history of "savage" nations.

The Five Nations confederacy, the eastern branch of the Iroquois, goes back before the discovery by Columbus. It was strengthened in 1712 by the admission of the Tuscaroras from North Carolina, and consisted then of the Mohawks, Oneidas, Cayugas, Onondagas and Senecas, with the Tuscaroras.

The Treaty of Utrecht had declared the Five Nations to be British subjects, and in the long struggle between France and England in America the British government based its claim to large tracts of country sometimes on the ground of the so-called subjection of the Five Nations, sometimes on the ground of treaties made with them. By the middle of the Eighteenth century an orator of the Five Nations declared in conference: "We don't know what you Christians, English and French, intend. We are so hemmed in by you both that we have hardly a hunting place left. In a little while, if we find a bear in a tree, there will immediately appear an owner of the land to claim the property. We are so perplexed between you that we hardly know what to say or think."

WOO BY HAIR TONIC NO MORE

Young Men With Small Wages Find Girls Do Not Demand Aroma—Barbers Complain.

Hark to the plaint of the barbers, enjoins the Milwaukee Journal. Days when youths were wont to stroll in, seat themselves and murmur nonchalantly, "Give me everything," are now history. Modern Lochinvars have discovered that they can step about with the lady of their choice without surrounding themselves with the aroma of hair tonic.

Barbers complain that since the business depression began and wages have come down, the Beau Brummel of wartime prosperity who used to spend $2.50 every few days in improving his personal appearance is a thing of the past.

"In the days that are done the boys would order all the frills known to the tonsorial artist," said one barber. "Now they shave themselves and about once in six weeks get a plain haircut."

Another barber admitted that he is forced to use a high type of salesmanship to convince the customer that he needs a massage. The porter, counting his nickles when the day's business is over, laments when he recalls the times when "two-bits" was the usual tip. The manicurist admits men aren't susceptible to being vamped.

To Give Timber "a Shot."

The best method of applying preservatives to timber is by the pressure process which is used by practically all large commercial companies, says the American Forestry Magazine of Washington. By this means the oil or mineral salt is forced deeply into the tissues of the wood, thus giving a thoroughness and permanence not otherwise attainable. There are various processes, but all use large and expensive apparatus by which vacuums and heavy pressure may be applied in large treating cylinders, which are usually six feet or more in diameter and a hundred feet or more in length.

Much Timber Decay.

It is estimated that eight billion feet of untreated structural timbers decay every year, says the American Forestry Association of Washington. If that whole amount were to be treated we would actually save about four billion feet of lumber every year. That is to say, it would render unnecessary the annual deforestation of some four hundred thousand acres of land. There could be no truer or more effective forest conservation, and every home builder who, by the use of preservatives, lengthens the life of his house or barn, performs an effective service to the cause of forestry.

Leprosy in Indians Rare.

Dr. A. Da Matta writes in Brazil-Medico (Rio de Janeiro) that in his 26 years of practice in Amazonas province he has seen but two of the Indians with leprosy. In prehistoric pottery figures from Peru there is no representation of any deformity suggesting leprosy, although representations of other deformities are common and none of the early explorers mention leprosy among the natives.

Chaulmoogra Tree in California.

Steps have been taken to grow the chaulmoogra tree in the United States plant introduction garden, near Chico. The tree's oil has proved of great benefit in treating leprosy in Hawaii. It is a native of India. Seeds have also been sent to Florida and Maryland.
