BIG BLAZE ON THE HIESTAND FARM

LOSS ON DWELLINGS AND THE STOCK WILL TOTAL APPROXIMATELY $15,000--JERRY HAKE A BIG LOSER

A very destructive fire occurred on the B. F. Hiestand farm, about a half mile east of Marietta, in East Donegal township, on Monday afternoon, the farm being tenanted by Mr. Jerry Hake. The flames were first noticed on the roof of the tobacco shed opposite the house while the family were at dinner.

Mr. Hake quickly gave the alarm but on account of the strong wind blowing, the flames communicated very rapidly to the large barn and other buildings. In a half hour the structures were all ablaze, causing the largest fire in this section for many years.

The buildings which fell prey to the flames were a tobacco shed, 36x60 feet; bank barn built in 1784, and which for 150 years had been in the Hiestand family, although remodeled a few times; tobacco shed and corn crib, combined, 30x40 feet; hog pen, and another small shed adjoining. The fine large stone house was saved thru the efforts of the firemen and the chemical engine from Pioneer Fire Company, which quickly responded, when word was sent to Marietta.

All the buildings were filled. Mr. Hake lost his entire crop of fourteen acres of tobacco, having had an excellent crop in 1921, and on this farm large crops are generally grown, it being one of the best in the Hiestand estate. His loss will include a set of fine tools valued at over $250, a binder, corn planter, and many other farm implements, the crop of hay, corn, straw and fodder. His loss will be between $3,000 and $4,000. There were several small pigs perished in the fire, and several cows were slightly burned by running towards the burning buildings. All the steers were saved as were also the horses and mules.

The loss to the Hiestand estate will reach nearly $12,000 on the buildings and portions of the crops which belonged to them. This loss is partially covered by insurance.

Jones, 433 East 72nd street, New York, more recently near Elizabethtown, this county was sent to jail Thursday night by Justice of the Peace Binzer to await court trial at the April term. Mrs. Jones started things a few days ago when she instituted suit for nonsupport against her husband John Jones. He was arrested at the home of the couple near Elizabethtown. A few hours after Mrs. Jones was arrested at the Y. W. C. A. where she had gone after leaving her husband a few weeks ago. He had remained at home to care for the two children and for more than two weeks Constable Albert of Elizabethtown searched high and low for the woman. She was not discovered until she brought suit.

According to the Officials, the couple came to Elizabethtown from somewhere in Ontario, Can., several months ago and Jones bought a home for his family near Elizabethtown.
