FROZEN PIE IDEA RETURNS MILLIONS

INVENTOR WITH BUT 19 CENTS, IS NOW A MILLIONAIRE THRU NOVEL IDEA

Christian K. Nelson went to Chicago from Omaha, fifteen months ago with 19 cents and an idea.

Today the 19 cents has grown to a steadily increasing fortune of six figures. It'll be well over a million before Nelson pay his income tax.

What did it do?
The idea
Nelson's idea was to cover a square of cold ice cream with a layer of hot chocolate thus making a confection with real ice cream inside.

He got that idea while he was managing his father ice cream plant out in Omaha, Ia. And he furthered it while he was studying chemistry at college.

When he was graduated he peddled the idea around from ice cream factory to ice cream factory. Everybody laughed at him.

"Cover cold ice cream with hot chocolate Man, you're crazy" they'd say.

But Russell Stover, manager of an ice cream plant at Omaha, was different. He thought Nelson's idea could be put over. And together Stover and Nelson did put it over.

That's why you see big signs advertising "Eskimo pie," "Iceland bars," "Klondike Chips," or "Polar Pies" in the confectionery or ice cream store windows.

For Nelson's the inventor of them all.

Nelson's not making it. His company, composed of himself, Stover and others, is selling licenses to firms in other cities to manufacture the confection.

Today more than 1,000,000 pies are being eaten daily. And Nelson's company gets 5 cents royalty on every dozen pies.

And Nelson's busy with an adding machine trying to figure up his income.

"Don't lose heart," Nelson advises others. "I kept at my lurch and plugged—that's why I succeeded."

"Just don't give up. It seems to me that too many folks are only too anxious to tell the world they're licked."

YOUNG FOLKS ARE JOINED IN WEDLOCK

NUMBER OF VERY WELL KNOWN YOUNG FOLKS ARE JOINED IN THE HOLY BONDS OF MATRIMONY.

Newcomer—Young Elmer B. Newcomer and Gertrude Young, both of West Hempfield township, were married Wednesday morning at eight o'clock by Rev. Norman K. Musser, at his home at Locust Grove. The young couple left on a trip to Washington and other points.

Reneberger—Lehman
John Reneberger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Reneberger of Bainbridge, was married to Miss Annie Lehman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Lehman, of Saginaw, at the home of the bride, the ring ceremony of the United Brethren church, being performed by Rev. John H. Lehman, brother of the bride. The couple was unattended. Following the ceremony, a wedding supper was served. The groom is employed at the works of the American Wire Fabrics Company.

A Pioneer is "one who goes before, as into the wilderness, preparing the way for others to follow."

It is not always necessary that he wear a coonskin cap and carry a rifle.

When the young Alexander Graham Bell forty-six years ago first sent a voice over a wire by means of an electric current he was a Pioneer, going forth into the little known wilderness of electrical science.

Since that day every development of the telephone has been a pioneering feat. There have been no guide posts to point out the way; no route maps to show which were the smooth roads and which the rough ones.

And Bell Telephone "pioneers" who are today planning for millions of subscribers five, ten and twenty years hence are "preparing the way for others to follow."

Every community served by the Bell System profits by this arrangement. A discovery in California, Texas or Maine is at once available right here in our own state. If the pioneers in our company find something to improve telephone service it is at the disposal of every office in the system where it might properly be used.

Only by such an organization has the Bell System of today been made possible, and only by its continuance is future progress assured.

In A Great Hotel? No, On A Ship!

WHEN the Great Eastern was built—even the present generation remembers her as the world's greatest ship 60 years ago—she was finished like a ship, with low-ceiled cabins. Nowadays they build steamships that have lofty interiors like a modern hotel, or metropolitan club. These pictures, taken on the latest ocean leviathan to come out, the Homeric of the White Star Line, which is double the size of the Great Eastern, show the degree of spaciousness and luxury that the ship of 1922 has attained. The picture with the colonnade was taken in the ship's lounge, or social hall; the other is in the dining room, which seats 500 people at small tables.

Among the Six Millions

One of the landmarks of New York City has just been taken from us. For years visitors to this city have been shown the two great trees in the yard of No. 462 West 22nd Street, under which George P. Morris, American poet, wrote "Woodman, Spare That Tree!" The old Woodward mansion where Morris lived at that time, stands in one of the few remaining blocks in downtown New York—old Chelsea Village—where there are any grounds where a tree can find room to stand, and lovers of American traditions and American literature have hoped that these two trees would live undisturbed for many years. Just last year, however, the trees died, and it was decided the other day to have them cut down. Martin L. Davoy, former Congressman from Ohio, who is devoting himself now to saving the lives of trees and adding beauty to the country, was called in for expert opinion. "A year ago the trees could have been saved," he said, "but they were neglected too long. Now they are quite dead." The neglect of those trees has led groups of men and women in this city who are interested in preserving our historical treasures to agitate for a movement to save other old trees before it is too late.
