MOUNT JOY WON A GOOD GAME FROM MAYTOWN HERE ON SUNDAY, SHUTTING THE VISITORS OUT

Some peculiar duties and strange perquisites fall to the lot of the lord great chamberlain of England. At a coronation one of his duties is to serve the king with water for washing his hands before the banquet, and he receives "forty shillings of crimson velvet for his own robes," besides the gilt basin and towels for this service. Nowadays the lord great chamberlain is also entitled to £200 ($1,000) in lieu of the furniture of the king's bedroom which was formerly his right.

Nature's Plan in Flower Arrangement. In Japan arranging cut flowers is an art. The way every branch or spray is placed means something, is symbolic. The Japanese insist on keeping the natural and typical form of each stem or branch and depend on combining two or three branches to make an effective design. Rarely is more than one kind of plant used in the same vase, and the vases are purposely kept simple, so that they shall not distract attention from the flowers.

WHY? DOES A HEN CACKLE AFTER LAYING AN EGG

THE statement that there is a direct connection between the cackling of a hen and the laughter of a person who is pleased may sound strange, but it is nevertheless true. The human animal—man—gives vent to a series of sounds originating in his throat when something causes him pleasure. These sounds we characterize as "laughter." Very much the same process takes place when a hen lays an egg. The presence of the egg in the body of the hen causes the bird some discomfort. When this is relieved, she is naturally pleased and announces her pleasure to the world by a species of laughter of joy which we have termed "cackling."

If we remember that many persons "chuckle" when they are pleased the relationship between the laughter of human beings and the cackling of hens becomes even more apparent and it should be borne in mind that every living thing expresses its pleasure in some animate and usually vocal manner. Cats purr, dogs bark, monkeys chatter, birds chirp or sing, children jump up and down or cry out with joy, adults laugh or chuckle, hens cackle. It's simply the application of different terms to the expression of the same emotion.

Green, White and Black. Two men passed each other in Washington street. "Hello, Green," said one. "How are you, White?" said the other. And they both are black.

Calif's Peculiar Birthmark. There is a calf on an Ohio farm that was born with both its ears notched at the top, as though there had been a V-shaped piece cut out of them. The space is about an inch deep. Its mother is twelve years old and one of her ears were marked in the same way when she was put out to pasture when young, but the owner had cut this notch. The calf is perfectly normal in every other way.

Both First. He — You're the first woman I ever loved. She — And you're about the first man I haven't ever loved.

Turtle Had Had Feast. An Ontario farmer lost one of his little pigs in the river. The same day a little chick went into the river. A few days later he saw a snapping turtle and after killing it, brought it up to his house where he opened it and found inside a part of the chick, and the whole of the little pig, except one front leg.

Vegetable Leather. The Japanese are producing from the inner bark of the mitsumata plant a good grade of vegetable leather, which is said to be almost as tough as the so-called French kid.

Helium From Beryl. A distinguished English physicist, Professor Strutt of Cambridge, has discovered a notable quantity of helium in beryl sent to him from New Hampshire. A remarkable fact in this relation is that the mineral appears to be absolutely without radio-activity, as is not generally known, helium is a product of radioactive minerals. Professor Strutt, surprised by the result obtained, states that it seems likely that here is a case of rayless change of atomic constitution, and it may lead to further unexpected discoveries.

In Too Much of a Hurry. An old woman, having for sixteen francs bought a trunk filled with rings at the Hotel Drouot, where official sales are held in Paris, immediately lifted her hand among the rings and pulled forth a small bag containing 15,000 francs in gold. Unfortunately for her, the public auctioneer saw her and confiscated both the bag of gold and the trunk and the old woman is now lamenting her impatience which prompted her to examine the trunk's contents before taking it home.

KIDDIES SIX By Will M. Maupin

BRACE UP. WHEN you're feeling rather blue And the steddin's hard for you; When your schemes go up the spout And you're feeling down and out; When you've shot and scored a miss— Brace up and remember this: Those who win are those who try. So brace up and don't say die.

Swell your chest and try again; Grit your teeth and smile at pain. Tackle trouble with a laugh And you'll cut the dose in half. Look the world square in the eye; Buck the line and don't say die. Laying down is all the shame— Sit straight up and play the game. Don't dodge trouble—if you do It will doubly trouble you. Meet each task with grit and vim. Do the square thing, sink or swim. If you see hard luck draw nigh Laugh again and don't say die. Keep your face turned to the light. Do your best and you're all right.

The Best Cosmetics. Many years ago an old New England lady wrote out the following list of toilet articles and advised all women to acquire and use them: First—Self-knowledge, a mirror showing the form in the most perfect light. Second—Innocence, a white paint, beautiful but easily soiled and requiring continual care to preserve its luster. Third—Modesty, a rouge giving a delightful bloom to the cheeks. Fourth—Contentment, an infallible smoother of wrinkles. Fifth—Truth, a salve rendering the lips soft and delicious. Sixth—Gentleness, a cordial imparting sweetness to the voice. Seventh—Good humor, a universal beautifier.—Boston Transcript.

That Word "Whisky." The word whisky is now only of historic interest, as it is obsolete in the English language as spoken in America. It is of historic interest, however, to recall that the word is a corruption of the name given to the commodity by the race that invented it—the Gaelic. The word in its original Gaelic form is "uisgebeatha," which means water of life. There is a species of cactus growing in southern Texas, which is called whisky-root. Chewed, and its juice swallowed, whisky-root produced effects similar to those produced by the whisky without the root. This species of cactus is now also, obsolete although it still grows.—Milwaukee Sentinel.

A Good Game. Here is a good game for you to play. Take two sheets of paper. At the top write this: "What I Can Do." On the other sheet write: "What I Can't Do." Then see which list is longer. After that place the list of the things you can do in the hand of some friend and ask him to question you in order to test the knowledge.
