A FRIEND IN NEED A FRIEND INDEED

Writes Mrs. Hardee Regarding Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Los Angeles, Calif.—"I must tell you that I am a true friend to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I have taken it out and on for twenty years and it has helped me change from a delicate girl to a stout, healthy woman. When I was married I was sick all the time until I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was in bed much of my time with pains and had to have the doctor every month. One day I found a little book in my yard in Guthrie, Oklahoma, and I read it through and got the medicine—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—and took eight bottles and used the Sanative Wash. I at once began to get stronger. I have got many women to take it just by telling them what it has done for me. I have a young sister whom it has helped in the same way it helped me. I want you to know that I am a 'friend indeed,' for you were a 'friend in need.'" —Mrs. GEORGE HARDEE, 1043 Byram St., Los Angeles, California
Let Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound be a "friend indeed" to you.

A FIVE THOUSAND CROWD AT DEDICATION

About 5,000 people gathered at Elizabethtown Saturday for the services connected with the dedication of the new $330,000 Free Masons Memorial Hospital, erected by the Masonic fraternity of Philadelphia. This event of great importance in the history of the home attracted the interest of the Masons from every part of the state. The visitors gathered in the Grand Lodge from which the grand march began at 11:30, headed by the Grand Master, Abraham M. Beider, and the committee of arrangements, marching to the hospital. The services started at 12 o'clock. The building was presented by Otto Helligman, a member of Patter Lodge, No. 441, of Philadelphia, representing the Blue Masons of Delaware county and was accepted by Grand Master Beider on behalf of the Grand Lodges of Pennsylvania.

The dedicatory address was made by Edgar P. Smith, former Provost of the University of Pennsylvania, and Dr. Edward Martin, State Health commissioner, representing the medicinal profession of the state, made an address.

The children of the home participated in the exercises by singing during the service. The invocation was made by H. Cresson McHenry, of Apollo Lodge 336 and the benediction by Frank B. Lynch, of Mt. Horch Lodge 528. Lunch was served, after which the afternoon was spent in the inspection of the building and grounds by the visitors.

ROWENNA WILL HAVE ELECTRIC LIGHTS SOON

Rowenna, a town with about 100 population, has discarded the idea of using coal oil lights any longer. In the very near future they will be enjoying the real benefit of electricity for their houses and streets. The Edison Electric Company, of Lancaster, on Thursday began to erect poles from the line of the P. R. R. company, just a short distance east of Rowenna, and will run their wires to the village, which will give the people the comforts they have been long striving for. It will be recalled a few months ago that the P. R. R. company strung an electric line from Marietta to Rowenna for the purpose of running their large electric motor and water pump that furnishes water to all engines passing over the low grade and old line. The citizens of Rowenna formed a committee and went before the railroad company and asked if they could not be supplied with electric power for house and street lighting. In turn the railroad company said they could not do so, as it was up to the electric light company to furnish the power. The committee, not being satisfied with this reply, went to the officials of the Edison Electric Light Company and were told that if the railroad company will grant them the privilege of using their poles and wires to Rowenna, they would consider the matter. The linemen of the electric light company started this week to erect the poles for their lights.

RABBIT SKINS NOW IN LIVELY DEMAND

It is noticed that for trimming of ladies wear rabbit skin is going to be very popular this season and the skins will bring a fair price. Such being the case it would be profitable for the gunners in the coming hunting season to be careful in skinning their animals, a matter that they have not been doing in recent years. An old merchant of the county says in years gone by when he traded in all kinds of furs, among them were a great many rabbit skins. While prices were not as high as those gotten now it was worth while caring for them. Rabbits are said to be unusually plentiful this season and if all the hides of those killed were saved it would probably be quite an item.

Improvement in Reindeer Herds

L. J. Palmer, in charge of the Government's reindeer experiment station at Nome, Alaska, has just sent in a report to the United States Department of Agriculture that conditions among Alaskan reindeer herds are the best this year in the history of the industry. The fawn crop has been unusually large and favorable conditions have greatly reduced the ordinary losses. Herd owners who have adopted recommendations of the Biological Survey for improved handling of the herds report marked gain in size and condition of animals, and a reduction in the losses from those experienced under former methods. Reindeer introduced two years ago on Nunivak Island are doing remarkably well, with the young much larger in size than animals of the same age on the mainland.

Seed Distributed in Hawaii

During the past year seed of improved pigeon peas, grown by Hawaiian farmers from seed stocks distributed by the Federal agricultural experiment station of Hawaii, were distributed to responsible growers. It is reported to the United States Department of Agriculture, in sufficient quantities to plant 4,000 acres. Experiments by the Hawaiian experiment station have shown the value of the pigeon pea as a hay and pasture crop which, it has been found, under favorable conditions, will support throughout the year from one and a half to three head of mature cattle in prime condition. From 3 to 5 acres of native pasture grass on the same land would be required per head of cattle.

Both feed and care of 1,600,000 hens giving no returns were saved in 1921, reports to the United States Department of Agriculture show, when farm women, practicing for the first time the methods of identifying nonlayers demonstrated by agricultural extension agents, culled these "loafers" from their flocks.

NEWS ABOUT OUR RURAL FRIENDS

MR. NORMAN BAER, IN WEST HEMPFIELD, HATCHES THOUSANDS OF CHICKS EVERY SPRING

Norman Baer, who owns a fine 85 acre farm in West Hempfield township, near Landisville, believes that the crops best grown in his type of soil are tobacco and potatoes, and following this belief, he is cutting down his corn and wheat acreage in favor of the other two crops.

Mr. Baer has proved himself one of the best potato growers in the county if his fine crop is to be taken as evidence. From a test digging of 3 or 4 acres of the 15 that he raises, he has estimated that his crop will run at least 200 bushels to the acre. He grows Michigan Russets, Raleighs, and Cobblers, and uses the most modern methods in their culture. An advocate of spraying instead of dusting to obtain the best results, he sprayed his crop 7 times during the season with a high powered sprayer. The best yield of the three strains that he grows was obtained from the Russets, and his next year's crop will be planted largely from the Michigan seed.

Tobacco, Mr. Baer's second favorite crop, is just as successfully grown as his potato crop. With no hail, the tobacco was hampered only by the dry weather and shows very good development and fine quality in spite of the long continued drought. His crop of 15 acres is a mixture of Slaughter and Weaver seed leaf and seems excellently adapted to the soil where it is grown.

The wheat crop has been gradually reduced from year to year and thirteen acres are all that are left of what formerly was a much larger acreage. The crop was good, but Mr. Baer intends to still further reduce it this year.

Just enough corn is raised to fill the silo, and the five acre crop has proved sufficient. The corn acreage has been cut steadily and the minimum of five acres will be maintained, as Mr. Baer's experience has shown him that a surplus after filling the silo is very likely to represent a loss.

Chickens receive much attention on the Baer farm, and about 1,000 White Leghorn pullets are left out of a large spring hatching. A 14,000 capacity incubator does the work of hatching, and next spring's plans provide for at least 30,000 chicks.

Hampshire swine in Lancaster county have increased during the past 4 years from 50 to 3,500 head, and the demand for this breed is steadily growing greater. One of the first to realize the value of the Hampshire type, Mr. Baer, is the owner of an extremely fine herd. He recently purchased, in partnership with Lewis Sprecher, near Robberstown, a fine boar, and is now breeding his own sows, and has already raised several litters of pigs. One sow, in particular, is a very prolific breeder, and averages about 14 pigs to the litter. This sow will farrow within a short time. In addition to the boar, Mr. Baer has 4 sows, 8 gilts, and 2 barrows.

COAL YARDS IN THE COUNTY GETTING SHARE OF SUPPLY

The county coal yards are beginning to get coal and the greater part of them have been getting coal of all sizes. As fast as it arrives it is being hauled to the consumer. Few, if any, of them had any in their cellars and had almost given up hope of getting a supply, but dealers at present feel confident that they will be able to give them a full supply. Those persons who put in an extra supply of wood will not require as much coal as they formerly did.

Who Wants This

Is there a tenant farmer around here that wants to make as much money with less work than he is doing now? Here you are. A 30-acre farm 1/2 mile from Manheim, best of gravel land, good buildings, an abundance of fruit, fine water. This would make a dandy truck farm as it is close to markets. Don't delay. Act quick as I am going to turn this farm—Call, phone or write J. E. Schroll, Mt. Joy.

County extension agents, in carrying the results of research by the United States Department of Agriculture and the experiment stations of the State agricultural colleges to the farmer, visited 650,000 farms in 1921 and held 125,000 community and other meetings, with an attendance of 6,000,000.

Louisiana farmers received over $45,000, according to reports to the United States Department of Agriculture, through the cooperative sale during the spring of 1922, of 19,000 bushels of lespedeza seed which had been grown and graded according to methods advised by extension workers.
