COLEBROOK MAN IS KILLED IN AUTO MISHAP

AARON KEENER'S SKULL FRACTURED, WIFE INJURED BUT OTHER OCCUPANTS ARE MORE FORTUNATE

Aaron Keener, aged 49, a baggage man, was killed, his wife, aged 43, was injured but the daughter Mary Jane Keener, aged 13, the son Marshall Keener, aged 15, and Miss Lillian Hershey, 11, of Colebrook, escaped uninjured in an automobile accident on the Campbellstown road on Wednesday.

The accident occurred shortly after eight o'clock Wednesday night when the party was enroute from Colebrook to Lebanon to witness the fireworks celebrated at the Lebanon Fair grounds.

The cause of the accident is not known but it is believed that Aaron Keener, who was driving the machine, lost control of the car and swerved from the road, crashing into a fence with such force that the machine overturned, throwing Keener and his wife out of the car in such a way that he landed on his head.

Keener died instantly, suffering from a compound fracture of the skull and a broken left arm at the elbow.

Mr. N. J. Harmon, on Poplar street, one of the most widely known taxidermists in this section of the state, recently mounted one of the finest deer heads ever seen.

It was that of an Iowa deer and had 24 points, each point or prong representing a year. When the head came to Mr. Harmon, he found that the scalp could not be used as it was in too bad shape. This, however, did not stall the local expert, as he just mounted the antlers on the scalp of a Canadian deer and it looks fine.

The mount, when completed, was sent to Dr. W. P. Evans, at Middletown, Iowa.

Mr. Harmon has a very rare collection of birds, guns, etc.

He has had an active career, having started work when he was very young, and although he has lost the sight of one eye, that does not prevent him from traveling about and working.

Mr. Kover maintains his good health with lots of exercise. Sawing and chopping wood and doing other chores keeps him occupied. Mr. Kover was born June 19th, 1843, in Rapho township, spending his childhood on the Gravel hills near Hossler's church. At the age of sixteen he was hired out and worked for Geo. Hambricht for three years. He also worked later at Michael Moore's mill, after which he went to Lebanon (Turn to page three)

FISHERMEN IN RUSH TO PROCURE LICENSES

As the bass fishing season is now open there was a big rush for licenses last week at the county treasurer's office. Up to the present time there has been issued 4,469 fishing licenses, and 11,621 dog licenses besides 82 kennel owners being licensed. This is quite a large number compared to former years. As the county receives 10 cents from every one of these licenses granted, it can be seen that quite a revenue flows into the treasury.

MOTHER AND BABY IN A MIXUP ON SIDEWALK

Broken limbs from the cherry tree in front of the residence of D. S. Shook, on West Donegal street, almost caused serious injury to Mrs. David Strayer, while wheeling a baby in a carriage on the sidewalk. Mr. Shook at the time was picking cherries and broken limbs and cherries were strewn upon the pavement. At the time Mrs. Strayer came past with a baby in the coach and one walking when the limbs became tangled in the wheels of the coach, which upset it, throwing the baby in the gutter and also throwing the mother heavily to the pavement. The child walking was also thrown to the sidewalk. Mrs. Strayer and the baby in the coach were badly bruised and scratched.

FREIGHT STATION ROBBED LAST NIGHT

LARGE CONSIGNMENT OF AUTO. MOBILE TIRES STOLEN - R. R. POLICE ARE NOW BUSY

Some time during last night thieves gained an entrance to the Pennsylvania Railroad Freight Station here and stole a large consignment of automobile tires.

Proprietor Howard E. Garber, of the Mount Joy Auto Supply Company, took between $700 and $800 worth of automobile tires to the station to be returned to the manufacturer.

The tires did not go out on yesterday's freight and were kept there over night. The warehouse employees left the station as usual last evening and when they returned to work this morning, discovered that an entrance was forced and all the tires stolen.

The presumption is that the theft was committed by some person or persons from town as strangers would not likely have known that the tires were there.

Penna. Railroad detectives and the State Police were immediately notified and are now working on the case. Arrests are expected to follow soon.

On the testimony of five little girls, ranging in age from seven to eleven years, Herman Snyder, 39 years old, garage proprietor, of Rheeams, was held in $1,000 bail on two counts for the September term of court at a hearing before Alderman Hinden last week.

Snyder, who was arrested by State police following complaints of the girls' parents, and who was formerly a preacher of the United Zion's Children church, in this section, offered no testimony. With his wife's hand clasped in his own he sat impassively while the child witnesses unfolded a tale, revolting in its details, of many visits they had made to Snyder's "shop". A dozen or more members of Snyder's congregation appeared as character witnesses.

Acting upon reports that an attempt would be made to handle Snyder roughly Alderman Hinden requested the presence of two State troopers who guarded the doorway and kept a curious crowd away from proximity to the accused man. The threatened disturbance died down in a few ugly remarks as Snyder made his appearance after bail had been fixed.
