After Having Enjoyed the Privilege for Many Years, Is This Town Going to Be Without a Market House?

THESE ARE THE ORDERS OF THE STATE HIGHWAY DE-PARTMENT—ROADS MUST BE CLEAR

Gasoline pumps erected along the very edge of improved State Highways, have been found to be violating the State Highway Department's recent order that the entire improved section of highways must be kept clear for two-way traffic.

The bureau of fire prevention in the State police, accordingly issued orders that in the future, no pumps may be erected within eight feet of the edge of the improved sections, so that cars, parking to restock, shall not be stopping on the improved road

The State, however, has no authority to regulate such matters in boroughs and cities. As the State has aided in improving many roads thru boroughs, and pumps are found along the very edge of the roads in bor-Secretary of Highways Wright sent a letter to the burges of 900 boroughs in the State, asking them, by ordinance, to move pumps farther back from the road, so that improved sections shall remain clear

EAST DONEGAL MAN

JOE RUTHERFORD MANAGED THE MARION, O., BASE BALL TEAM FOR SEVERAL YEARS

The following interesting article appeared in Sunday's Philadelphia Record and is of local interest:

"Up in the Garden Spot of Pennsylvania there resides in the town of Marietta, along the banks of the Susquehanna, a modest man who would make a grand big league manager. Rather a big order, doubtless, but this chap, who answers to the name of Joseph Rutherford, would rather farm, run a good cantaloupe patch and hunt with his faithful dog, than boss the best baseball nine in the

RAISED A WONDERFUL CROP OF BROOM CORN

Mr. C. A. Eisenberger, farming or the J. N. Stauffer farm, raised two acres of broom corn, measuring 14 feet, 2 inches. None of the stalks are less than eleven feet. The broom fiber itself measures twenty-four to thirty inches.

Mr. Eisenberger will convert this crop into brooms. Any person having broom corn can have brooms made by him.

Distributed Pheasants Yesterday Jno. E. Schroll received twelve very beautiful ringneck pheasants which he distributed in pairs thruout this section. As these are protected in this county this year hunters and farmers should do all they can to help care and feed them over Winter.

YESTERDAY'S ELECTION

A VERY LIGHT VOTE WAS POLL-ED AS THERE WAS PRACTI-CALLY NO OPPOSITION

There was little or no interest in the primary election here yesterday, the vote being light at both polls, specially in the West Ward. All the local nominees of both Republicans and Democrats were settled for a place on the ticket. The lack of interest was due to the fact that there was no opposition.

Following is the result for the various local offices: S. H. Miller, R. Edgar Eshleman, R. H. Ross Eshleman, R In both wards no less than a dozen Democrats each received one vote for this office.
