THE SCHOOL LOAN

At the Fall election voters will be asked their approval of a $70,000 loan for the erection of a new and modern High School building. It is a certainty that we need a new building. Our school children have been growing in number along with our steady increasing population and provision must be made. There is little doubt but that the voters will sanction the loan. When the same proposition was placed before the tax-payers at the time the addition was built to our present building, it met with the approval of a large majority and we feel certain the same thing will prove true again.

ADVERTISING

Any man in any business that depends upon public approval and patronage for its success has a perfectly reasonable method open to him to keep himself and his business before the buying and patronizing public. Advertising is a medium that offers the quickest route to success, and failure to use it consigns the whole proposition to an early failure. The public is misinformed or uninformed about a great deal that is offered for sale. The reason largely may be discovered in the lack of proper and sustained advertising. Success is not some mysterious element that chances to drop in here or there to enrich this or that person. It is a problem that has been solved, and you will find in nine cases out of ten advertising has been the stepping stone.

PROGRESS

The prosperity of a community is not measured by population, but its civic and commercial progress. A handful of workers achieve more than a city full of drones.
Team work is what counts in everything. A prominent football coach recently said: "Give me a team of average ability who will work together, each with the other and all for the team and I will win over any team made up solely of individual stars."
Individual ability makes great men—shining lights, but it is mass cooperation of energetic men of civil spirit, home pride and community enterprise that builds a town's progress and prosperity.
Men of this community, be ye more than mere residents—be citizens.
The shirker says: "Let George Do It." The Worker says: "Let Me Help."

COMMUNITY FAIRS

Community fairs, where neighbors get together and exhibit their fine stock and the best of their soil products, are becoming more and more popular as farmers learn more of the benefits to be derived. Not only do these gatherings have an educational value, but there is a social side to be considered. Farmers and their families get better acquainted with their neighbors, near and far. Oftentimes friendships that last a lifetime are formed, and better the inspiration received from mingling with one another results in a more effective effort to do better farming. American farm homes are isolated. No effort has been made to build the home across the road from the adjoining farm home. Rather, each farmer seems to have selected a home site as far away from that of his neighbor as the limits of his land will permit. Therefore, it has not been convenient to be neighborly. This feature of American rural life is partially being overcome by better highways and the automobile, but the community fair is even doing more in bringing about a better acquaintance and in developing community pride and spirit.
Community co-operation has thus far proved of greater value to the individual than organizations covering a greater area. It is in community organizations that farmers learn to co-operate. The child must first learn to walk before it can run and farmers who have studied production, but have been ignorant of marketing to an advantage, must begin in a small way. Co-operative marketing on a large scale, if ever successful, must be the result of a practical education which has a small beginning. The community should be the unity, and community affairs which bring about a neighborly understanding with one another will prove important factors in the development of co-operative marketing and production on a large scale.

The latter part of last October Mount Joy held its second annual community exhibit. It was a wonderful affair compared with the initial exhibit and we sincerely hope another will be held this year and that it will be bigger and better in every way than previous ones. Let all of us do whatever we can toward making it a grand success.

On the Increase

The number of animals on some of the various big-game reservations maintained by the Biological Survey of the United States Department of Agriculture have increased to such an extent that it is necessary to dispose of an annual surplus. It appears to be most advisable to use the turn-off from these areas every year for planting purposes. In the case of buffalo, however, there are no suitable areas of open range left in this country. Some animals of this species that are available for disposition may be used for exhibit purposes, but most of the surplus will probably have to be disposed of as meat.

The Natural Way Is The Way To Health

Dr. Burkholder, seventh floor Woolworth building, claims that good health is impossible if any of Nature's laws are broken and that sickness is the penalty for disobeying natural laws. To get well, the mistakes must positively be corrected by some natural means. Osteopathy removes obstructions to the flow of fluids and nerve impulses natural to good health. Electricity, a natural phenomenon, can be applied to stimulate sluggishness, or to act as a sedative, or to take the place of surgery in many cases. Light, one of the greatest health-giving powers in Nature, is stimulating, soothing, or bactericidal, according to the ray used. Magnetism, a power in Nature, that modern civilization is denied, is successfully handling ninety per cent of cases that have tried everything else. This can be used at home where there is electricity. Diet and other habits must conform to Nature. Cutting warts, moles, birthmarks, piles and many other growths unnecessary. Same can be removed more successfully by electricity. Lancaster now probably has the complete equipment in Pennsylvania of natural, physical measures combined for the best possible results.

What Are They All Saying About "One-Shot"?

NOTABLE among the new features of the 1925 Cleveland Six is the "One-Shot" Lubrication System which eliminates all greasing of the chassis by hand.
No other automotive improvement of the year is the subject of so much discussion.
Owners now are often being stopped and asked, "Is it as marvelous as I have heard? Show me how it works!"

Step on the Plunger—And Oil the Entire Car
To lubricate all moving chassis parts, you merely step on a plunger. You do not leave the driver's seat. You never have to use a grease gun or an oil can.
With this exclusive, patented feature, you are saved the frequent inconvenience of leaving your car for several hours for a thorough greasing.
The danger of neglected chassis lubrication will never bother you again.
Your car is always free from squeaks and rattles. For "One-Shot" can be used whether the car is standing still or moving.
See this famous feature of the newest, finest Cleveland Six!

Mileage Motor—Four-Wheel Brakes—Balloon Tires
Then after you have seen how "One-Shot" works—get behind the wheel and test the Mileage Motor.
Its phenomenal hill-climbing power, flashing pick-up, and speed of over 60 miles an hour, make it probably the most efficient power plant in use today.
Study the entire car and you will sense the reason for its popularity:—
Bodies that are roomy and aristocratic in appearance; genuine super-size balloon tires as standard equipment; four-wheel brakes as optional equipment at a slight extra cost; and rugged, long-life construction throughout.
