The Thanksgiving Proclamation

from disorder and remarkably successful in all those pursuits which flourish during a state of domestic peace. An abundant prosperity has overspread the land. We shall do well to accept all these favors and bounties with a becoming humiliation and dedicate them to the service of the righteous cause of the Giver of all good and perfect gifts. As a nation has prospered let all the people show that they are worthy to prosper, by rededicating America to the service of God and man.
"Therefore, I, Calvin Coolidge, President of the United States of America, hereby proclaim and fix Thursday, the twenty-seventh day of November as a day for National Thanksgiving. I recommend that the people gather in their places of worship and at the family altars and offer up their thanks for the goodness which has been shown to them in such a multitude of ways. Especially I urge them to supplicate the Throne of Grace that they may gather strength from their tribulations, that they may gain humility from their victories; that they may bear without complaining the burdens that shall be placed upon them, and that they may be increasingly worthy in all ways of the blessings that shall come to them.
"In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused to be affixed the great seal of the United States.
"Done at the city of Washington, this fifth day of November, in the year of our Lord, one thousand, nine hundred and twenty-four, and of the independence of the United States, the one hundred and forty-ninth.
"CALVIN COOLIDGE.
(Seal)
By the President,
CHARLES E. HUGHES,
"Secretary of State."

THESE THREE MEN PREDICT VERY MILD WINTER

Mt. Carmel Man Says:
W. H. McWilliams, weather prognosticator, of Mt. Carmel, predicts mild weather for the beginning and end of winter, but says that the middle of the season will be severe. He bases his theory on caterpillars he finds. The ones he finds are black with a spot in the middle of the back. If the spot was at the end of the tail, it would indicate severe weather at the close of the season, and if at the head, severe winter at the beginning.
Marietta Man Says:
A mild, short winter is predicted by Robert Davis, of Marietta, the veteran gunner and traveler, who is past 80 years of age. While hunting for ground-hogs he notices berries of the wild type and nuts are scarce, and birds are not leaving in large flocks. The fur on the rabbit is not heavy as other years, and tomatoes are still ripening on the vines. Squirrels especially are not making rapid preparations for the cold weather. If a long hard winter is to be expected, leaves will fall off the trees early. In many sections leaves are still clinging to the trees. He does not say that there will be no deep snows.
Blair County Man Says:
A mild, short winter is predicted by W. H. Laird, of Blair county, locally known as the sassafras man, who spends most of his time in the open, winter and summer.
He bases his prophecy on nature and wild life. The fur on animals is rather light this fall, and the feathers on birds that spend a portion of the winter in this section are not heavy. Nuts and berries are not making an unusual provision for the coming winter. Proceeding a long, hard winter leaves remain on the trees late in the fall. Already these trees are virtually bare.
Mr. Laird does not say that there will be no deep snows or cold snaps. There will be no prolonged cold weather, and deep snows will not lie on the ground.
Hall's Catarrh Medicine
Those who are in a "run down" condition will notice that Catarrh bothers them much more than when they are in good health. This fact proves that while Catarrh is a local disease, it is greatly influenced by constitutional conditions.
HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE is a Tonic and Blood Purifier, and acts through the body, thus removing the inflammatory condition, restoring normal conditions.
All druggists. Circulars free.

BOY WINS HOMING PIGEONS IN BIRD-HOUSE CONTEST

Interest in the conservation of wild life is being stimulated in various ways by appeals to school children. One very popular method of engaging and holding attention is by means of a contest of some sort, usually for a prize, as both the contest and the awarding of the prize offer an opportunity to bring the desired message to the public. One of the most satisfactory of these competitions was a bird-house contest recently conducted in the public schools of Baker, Oregon. Campbell Vermillion, 10 years of age, who came out winner, was awarded a pair of homing pigeons by Federal Game Warden Tonkin for being the first successful contestant to attract a pair of birds (other than English sparrows) to make their home in a bird house of the participant's own construction. Mr. Tonkin is employed by the Biological Survey of the United States Department of Agriculture.
