PENNA'S. CAVALRY BRIGADE WILL ENCAMP AT MOUNT GRETNA BY ITSELF THIS YEAR

Pennsylvania's Cavalry Brigade will encamp at Mount Gretna by itself this year, instead of during a period when infantry will be under canvas at the State Military Reservation. This arrangement has been made out of compliment to Brigadier General John P. Wood, who will retire after this camp and has desired an independent command. The cavalry dates will be from August 8 to 22, inclusive.

Adjutant General Frank D. Beary, in announcing the dates for the en campments Friday, said Mount Gretna had been definitely fixed as fol-

MORE MERCHANTS PAID FOR BOGUS ADVERTISING

Oin .cauers will remember that two weeks ago we published an article relative to a calendar advertising scheme that was worked by a lady, using the United Brethren church here as the goat. Here's an erticle which appeared in a Coatesville paper and evidently is the same t has come to light that many merchants of the city paid for advertising on a calendar, the advertisements solicited by a woman giving her name as E. J. Milles, of Reading. She represented that she was in connection with the United Brethren church here as told in these columns a week ago. The merchants who paid from two dollars to five dollars per space are now making an investigation to ascertain whether they have been defrauded."

MAN DIES IN AMBULANCE WHILE BEING REMOVED TO HOSPITAL IN COL-UMBIA.

Caught by a large rock that fell from the side of the quarry at the plant of J. E. Baker Company, at Billmyer, at five o'clock Thursday evening, Emmett Cooper, colored, aged 18 years, sustained injury which resulted in his death in the ambulance while being brought to the Columbia Hospital.

Cooper was at work in the quarry when the rock, loosed by the mild weather of yesterday, fell from the side of the quarry about six feet above his head. The rock struck the man on the left side of the abdomen pinioning him with his back against boulder lying on the ground. Unable to move the rock Cooper called for help. Several workmen responded and released him. He was carried to a nearby building where he was treated by a physician who found him to be badly injured.
