Flashlight Aids Seamstress
After wearing out her patience in threading the needle of her sewing machine, an ingenious housekeeper in Portsmouth, Ohio, attached a flashlight to the arm of the machine, and thus ended her troubles, says Popular Science Monthly. The light was clamped to the machine with a strap of brass and a pair of bolts and wing nuts in a position that throws the needle into silhouette when the light is turned on.

Carte Blancs
The carte blanche was a "blank paper" authenticated with an authoritative signature and entrusted to someone to be filled up as he may think best. Thus in 1649 Charles II tried to save his father's life by sending from The Hague to the parliament a signed carte blanche to be filled up with any terms which they would accept as the price of his safety.

Material of Dreams
Men speak of dreaming as if it were a phenomenon of night and sleep. They should know better. All results achieved by us are self-promised, and all self-promises are made in dreams awake. Dreaming is the relief of labor, the wine that sustains us in act.—Lew Wallace.

Are Not for the Wicked
They are the same beams that shine and enlighten which are apt to scorch feet; and it is impossible for a man engaged in any wicked way, to have a clear understanding of it, and a quiet mind in it altogether.—South.

FAIL TO SEE THAT
But the nation which was moved to such profound sympathy by the endeavors to free a single man from his cave prison gives but perfunctory attention, or even jeers, to the efforts being made to free thousands of children from industrial slavery by means of the child labor amendment.

BEAUTIFUL LAWN CONTESTS
Neighboring towns are starting campaigns for the most beautiful lawn in their communities. Now that would not be a bad thing for Mount Joy to undertake. There are scores of fine lawns here if the horde of dogs that now run over them, destroying turf and shrubbery can be controlled, and your newsboy who rides his bicycle over the soft grass can be stopped in his eagerness to get over his route, a beginning at beautiful lawns and the maintenance of Mount Joy beautiful may begin.

POSTAL PAY INCREASE
Postal employes throughout the country are, it can be safely assumed, pleased for the pay raise for which they have long been contending is now assured. President Coolidge having signed the bill that means an increase of about an average of $300.00 a year for them. It is reasonable to expect that the postal service, now that it has been relieved of the handicap of being underpaid, of which it had so long and vigorously complained, will respond to the increase by an improved efficiency. That will be the way for the service to satisfy the public which has to foot the bill.

TESTING DRIVERS
Mental and physical tests for certificates to drive automobiles are in their annual agitation. Decidedly, they are needed. There are persons driving cars now who are half blind, or deaf or crippled. These are the easy cases. There are those who will not keep sober. And that means, for automobile safety, dead sober, and not mere "not drunk". And there are those whose mental, emotional or physical reactions are too slow or uncertain. Tests for all these disabilities exist. And, if it were a matter of engineers or motormen, they would be applied. For a few hundreds or thousands it is easy. But with automobiles, it means millions. Where are the competent experts or equipment to do it on such a scale? They simply do not exist. The automobile has swamped our scientific faculties quite as certainly as it has jammed our highways.

THE PREACHER
The "Churchman" philosophizes on the lot of the minister—and speaks words of great truth. "The preacher has a great time," it says. "If his hair is gray, he is old. If he is a young man, he has not had experience. If he has 10 children, he has too many. If he has none, he isn't setting a good example. If his wife sings in the choir, she is presuming. If she doesn't, she isn't interested in her husband's work. If a preacher reads from notes he is a bore. If he speaks extemporaneously, he isn't deep enough. If he stays at home in his study, he doesn't mix enough with the people. If he's seen around the streets, he ought to be at home getting up a good sermon. If he calls on some poor family, he is playing to the grandstand. If he calls at the home of the wealthy, he is an aristocrat. Whatever he does, some one could have told him to do better." And there is more than a grain of truth in that little plaint, probably written by "the man who knows."

Conquered Many Tongues
The epithet, the "learned blacksmith" was bestowed upon Ellhu Burritt, the American reformer, author and linguist. He began life as a blacksmith about 1827, and worked at that trade for many years, during which time he made himself proficient in ancient and modern languages. It is said that he acquired a mastery of 18 languages and 22 dialects—Kansas City Star.

"Quite a Few"
"Quite a few" is an idiomatic expression meaning a considerable number. Both Webster's International and the Standard dictionary recognize the idiom. It is classed as colloquial, which means that it should be used only in informal speech or writing.—Fathfinder Magazine.
