

SPRINGTIME IS RADIO HOUSECLEANING TIME

If you are an average radio "fan," your receiving set has gone through some 600 hours of service since last it received any real attention," says S. W. Gulden Commercial Engineer, Radio Corporation of America. "Since you overhauled the set last fall, the vacuum tubes have been burning over 600 hours. The batteries, especially the "B" batteries, have probably been delivering current over a long period. The antenna wire and its joints have been subjected to the wear and tear of the elements, as well as the corrosive effects of coal smoke. The soldered connections and binding post screws of the receiving set have had plenty of jars and rattles to shake them loose. The condenser plates and other parts have been accumulating dust and dirt and moisture, tending to introduce leakage paths and noises. The rheostat and switch members have become loosened. And so it goes.

"It must be borne in mind that summertime radio is ushered in after the average receiving set has gone through a long season of steady use and is very much in need of replacements and general overhauling. Therefore, just as the average motorist would not think of starting his motoring season without going over his engine and body and tires to be sure of safe factory operation during the hard summertime use of his car, so the average radio "fan" should put his receiving set in tip-top shape for the same summertime period when its efficient operation will bring joys and thrills."

I recently told a bunch of fellows of how a crowd of people out at Sperting Hill sat on a hill top all night waiting for the world to go to an end. When I was thru some fellow from the Grey Iron said: "And did it?"

I've wondered much, since long ago, And still I try to guess, What makes a pretty girl say "No," When what she means is "Yes."

You know talk is real cheap until you start telling your wife how much you won. Take the tip from me, I know.

SUFFERED AFTER BIRTH OF BABY

Trouble Caused by Getting Up Too Soon. Relieved by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

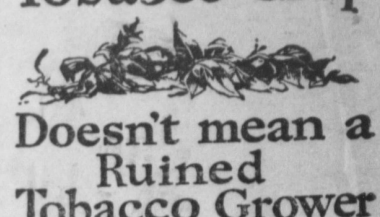

Taleville, New York.—"I thought it would interest you to know what benefited me. I have derived from taking your medicine. A few days after the birth of my third child I got up too quick. Then just before my fifth child was born I had inflammation of the bladder and displacement. Seeing your advertisement in a Liverpool (England) paper I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and that was the best confinement I had. Whenever I feel run-down I always take the Vegetable Compound as a tonic. We have just removed from Brockville (Canada) so I will bring some large fish home. Read next week's Bulletin and find out all about his trip, as Wiltmer promised to write a short article, especially for The Bulletin. On his way to New Haven, he passed through New York City, through the Manhattan Tunnel, under the Hudson River and also across the Hell Gate bridge, which is the largest in the world.

Women can depend upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve them from their peculiar troubles. For sale by druggists everywhere.

We must confess we've some pretty good liars in this town but they tell me there was a pair of 'em down at the Colonial the latter part of last week that has them all stopped. One said his father had a farm so big that they went out to plow six months ago and ain't back yet. The other chap said his Dad had a farm and when the newly married farmer goes out to milk, it takes him so long that he sends his children back with the milk.

A fellow from Landisville told me he had the damndest hardest kind of luck recently. He ran over a fellow that owed him $5.00.

We've got one of the most absent-minded fellows here in town you ever heard tell of. He went out to lunch recently and put a card on his door, "Back at 1 o'clock". At 12:30 he returned, read his own sign, sat down and waited for himself for half an hour.

It sure is hard to please the women. I know a lady who lives at Salunga and who claims her ideal of a regular he-man is a guy that's full of the rough stuff. She got her out automobilizing, struck a tree, threw her thru the windshield and still she doesn't like him. Guess he wasn't rough enough at that.

There are disadvantages in almost everything. A cross-eyed fellow here in town says that every dern time he puts a penny in a slot machine to get chewing gum he gets salted peanuts.

"You may talk about your interesting reading," but the most stirrin' passages am' written in the 'Cook Book."

The father of little "Snow-Ball" says he'd like to catch the guys who have his kid dancing continually, claiming that it takes a new pair of shoes a week. "Hazy" says a pair won't last that long now since the boy learned to shuffle along.

Mary had a nunny goat. It ate denim from the walls. And when the little kiddies came They all wore overalls.

Two fellows in an argument in front of the Washington House. One claimed that beautiful horses and beautiful women are quite comparable. The other claims not, giving as his reason that if a woman falls and breaks her leg you can't shoot her.

A certain night watchman at one of our industries caught a young couple spooning in a dark spot. He said to the fellow: "Young man, are you going to kiss that girl?" The lad replied, "No, sir." Then the watchman said: "Here then, hold my lantern."

The fellows were kidding George Carpenter recently and here's one he pulled on 'em. During a recent shower, a lady carrying an umbrella, passed. George said: "Now what kind of an animal does that lady represent?" No one answered and George said: "Why a reindeer, you chumps."

A little girl on Mount Joy street asked her mother if it would kill the baby if it fell off the bed. The mother replied: "It certainly would." The girl replied: "Now, it wouldn't, mother. Go in and see for yourself."

Andy Brown told the fellows in the Park Monday night that a chap at Silver Spring died and left all he had to an asylum. It was too much for one of the fellows and he said: "Is that so. How much did he leave?" Andy replied: "Twelve children."

A fellow told the gang up at Smith's restaurant that his girl had two faults. Just then some chap said: "You and who else."

Well, I learned a new one lately. I used to get good and sore because it used to my wife so long to dress, but never again. Recently it took her so blamed long it was too late to go when she was ready. You can't beat that.

Recently I asked Jim Berrier out near Milton Grove what he's doing now and he said he's farming. I said: "Is it pretty wet out your way?" Jim said: "Naw, I'm not raising corn."

There's just one thing I'd like to know. How can any woman speak true words between false teeth?

One of our young fellows who is
