Two Girls Hurt In Cycle Crash

(From Page One) able fractured pelvis and other injuries. Pearl Hendricks, her companion, of 410 West Frederick street, Lancaster, sustained lacerations of the scalp, abrasions and lacerations about the head and body.

According to Sweigart, the machine was parked without lights along the highway. He failed to see the automobile until the accident occurred.

The motorcycle did not overturn but in the sudden stop, the occupants of the side-car were hurled to the road.

The injured girls were picked up by the driver of the automobile and taken to the office of a Landisville physician. Subsequently they were taken to the local hospital. The auto is said to have been driven by Raymond Weinstein, of Stonehurst, Va.

The Radio on the Farm Much attention is being given to the radio for the rural dweller from the standpoint of simplicity of operation and reception.

Like all new inventions, radio is going through a state of progression to eliminate complicated mechanical operating devices and make it more enjoyable for the everyday operator, according to Mr. F. B. Traverse, of the Magnavox Radio Company. He says:

"Radio engineers are constantly at work perfecting as nearly as possible every feature of radio and are making great strides in broadcasting and receiving equipment, particularly along the lines of rural reception and better reception during hot weather. Many improvements have already been made in the receiving equipment to simplify operation, so that a farmer coming in from the fields or a tired business man can with a simple turn of the wrist get the station he desires."

According to Mr. Traverse, any rural dweller can install a receiving set and without any help whatsoever from the outside, operate it to advantage. This is encouraging news for the farmer, for radio furnishes a great link in the chain of attractions that will keep the young people at home, no matter if they live on farm removed farms or near great cities.

The property is in excellent condition, the Dwelling House and all Poultry Houses are electrically lighted; the Dwelling has lately been remodeled, modernized and painted; the Poultry and Colony Houses are new and painted; the fences are in extra good condition. There is a fresh spring water running through the yards.

The Farm is located along the Lancaster State Road and Trolley, and within half a mile of the P. & R. Railway Station. The Farm has been very successfully conducted and is worthy the attention of Poultrymen and others looking for a good investment.

Persons interested are invited to call at any time before the sale, look the place over and learn full details. Sale to commence at 2 o'clock p. m. of said day, when the conditions will be made known by BEN ECK H. H. Snavely, Auct. Wien A. Ensminger, Ck. aug. 28-3t

A FINE SMALL FARM AT PUBLIC SALE

SATURDAY, SEPT. 19, 1925 Will be sold at public sale on the premises of the undersigned, on the road leading from Mount Joy to Sharp's Corner, 1 1/2 miles north of Mount Joy, in Rapho township, the following described real estate to wit:

A TRACT OF 20 ACRES GRAVEL LAND Situate in Rapho township as described above upon which are erected

A 2 1/2 STORY FRAME DOUBLE HOUSE containing 12 rooms with a One-Story Frame Summer House attached. Bank Barn 34x50 feet with Tobacco Shed and Corn Barn attached. THE HUMAN SIDE OF TELEPHONE SERVICE

The writer was recently in a telephone station in a small mountain town. He had just placed a call for his office two hundred miles away. As he turned from giving the necessary information to the operator, a portly lady with a baby in one arm and two children holding her other hand, stepped into the window and said to the operator:

"Do you know Dr. Black, of Portland, Oregon?" Naturally the operator did not, probably never having been in Portland.

But she said: "What are his initials?" The lady with the children wasn't certain, but in a courteous manner the telephone operator started out to find Dr. Black in a city 250 miles distant. A few moments later the anxious mother was telling her story to the doctor. In the meantime I had talked with my office and was on my way.

This incident, a daily occurrence at thousands of telephone stations, emphasizes the invaluable aid of the telephone in American home and business life. No people on earth use the telephone as do Americans, because no other country has such a telephone system.

VERY HEAVY TRAFFIC OVER COLUMBIA BRIDGE

Automobile traffic reached its peak in Columbia on Labor Day, in a period of eighteen hours, 5,065 machines passed over the Columbia bridge. Of this number 4,920 machines were eastward bound and 2,135 westward.

According to these figures that would indicate that 225 machines passed every hour, or on an average nearly four machines every minute.

While traffic over the Lincoln Highway every Saturday Sunday and on holidays, is quite heavy, it probably never reached the volume recorded for Labor Day.

The receipts for bridge toll on this particular day was about $1,100.00. The charges are twenty cents for each car and driver with an extra three cents for each additional driver.

At Harrisburg the bridge toll is five cents for each machine no matter how many passengers it contains.

Tax Until It Hurts

The increase of $22,000,000 in the expenses of the state of California for 1923-25 over the two preceding years is typical of what is going on in practically every state, city and county in the United States. These various political subdivisions are increasing local taxes faster than the government can cut federal expenditures.

While a large part of the California tax increase has been due to a gasoline tax, still the tendency is for local taxes to pile up, while federal taxes are being reduced.

The average voter must be brought to realize that he has only himself to blame for a large part of his tax burdens. If he votes for every fool scheme that someone proposes without using any judgment or discretion in the matter, he should be taxed "until it hurts," thus bringing him to his senses.

Frank & Bro's. Sale On Friday evening, Sept 18 at 7 P. M. C. S. Frank & Bro., will sell a card of 1000 Co. cows, bulls, cattle for beeves and home-raised shots at public sale at their yards near Mt. Joy. 2t

Two more of the Columbia killed three ground hogs in York county that weighed 51 pounds.

Mr. H. A. Darrenkamp is nursing a sore hand, the result of a mosquito bite while at a seashore last week. Chester H. Huber, aged 23 years, was killed by falling rocks while working on the State road near Union.

Mrs. Esther Pritle, of Landisville, was narrowly escaped being killed when her auto crashed into a telephone pole.

Messrs. Albert Hollinger and Webster Gibble, of this place, enjoyed an automobile trip to Niagara Falls and Canada over the week-end.

James Rittenhouse, aged 45 years, of Lancaster, took an auto ride, and when he arrived home he committed suicide by shooting himself with a revolver.

At a meeting of Marietta's borough council, it decided to arrest any person, not a fireman, who gets on any of the fire apparatus while going on a fire.

At the quarterly meeting of the Lancaster County League of Post-masters at Blue Ball, Mr. L. Kuntzelman, of Bainbridge, was elected vice president.

Wenger, Route 1, New Holland, is the champion lima bean grower of the county. He picked 120 pints from 240 hills and the crop ran over as yet.

PENN STATE BANDMASTER RETIRED BY WAR DEPT.

After completing eight years of emergency active duty as a member of the military department staff at the Pennsylvania State College, Bandmaster W. O. Thompson has again been placed on the retirement list by the War Department. His connection with the College will be little changed as he will continue to train the college military band and the student orchestra.

"Major" Thompson, as he is familiarly called by hosts of Penn State Graduates, was recalled to active duty by the War Department during the World War and was assigned to the college military department to assist in the R. O. T. C. and S. A. T. C. work. He continued to assist in the department until this summer.

Under the direction of Bandmaster Thompson, the Penn State band has attracted attention wherever it has appeared. Traveling with the football team, the band has become a familiar attraction in Philadelphia, Washington, New York and Pittsburgh during the past ten years. The Penn State band has always been given a high rating by War Department officials during their annual inspection of the college Reserve Officers' Training Corps unit.

SEPTEMBER HOLIDAYS ARE GOOD TIME TO MARKET POULTRY

Jewish New Year, September 19, and Day of Atonement, September 28, offer an excellent time to market fat, live poultry, according to E. J. Lawless, Jr., marketing specialist, Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture. High market prices are secured during these holiday seasons when the poultry is well fattened and can be graded as prime.

The best market days for Jewish New Year are September 15, 16 and 17. September 24 and 25 are the market days for the holiday on September 28.

An 18-Inch Sunflower Mrs. Milton Fuhrman, East Donegal, had a sunflower in her yard which measured 18 inches across the flower and weighed over seven and one-quarter pounds. Among the number she had, there were others, but not quite as large. She will save the seed from the larger one for next year's planting.
