Tomorrow, Thursday, our fourth annual Community Exhibit will open here and it promises to surpass all former efforts. Every foot of display space was sold more than a week ago and there were many demands that could not be accommodated.

The local business men are patronizing this particular end of the exhibit one hundred per cent.

The large number of exhibits this year in every line are a surprise and there will be keen competition for the prize monies offered by the local management.

This will be a morally clean show as no fakirs or gambling will be allowed.

Following is a complete list of the rules, regulations and prizes in the various departments.

Married 65 Years And Still Happy

RAPHO COUPLE WILL CELEBRATE THEIR ANNIVERSARY DECEMBER 8—BOTH IN GOOD HEALTH

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick F. Baker, life-long residents of Rapho township, Lancaster county, will soon celebrate the sixty-fifth anniversary of their marriage. They were married in Lancaster, December 8, 1860, and returning to their native township, have resided in that section since. For more than fifty years this aged couple have lived in the house which they now occupy, the place being commonly known as "Baker's Corner".

Mr. and Mrs. Baker have been engaged in farming since their marriage and for many years disposed of a large portion of the products of their farm in this place, where they supplied many families.

Mr. Baker has been blind for sixteen years and until recently Mrs. Baker had the care and management of the farm. Although blind, Mr. Baker's long residence and familiarity with the place enables him to assist in some of the light work and is able to make his way without assistance to any point to which he desires to go.

This aged couple enjoy good health and are still active and vigorous. Mr. Baker is 83 years old and his wife is 80. Their home and the little farm is well kept and is in an excellent condition. While eighty-five, Mr. Baker is happy and contented and always greets his visitors with a smile and a cheerful word.

Several children blessed their union and a daughter is now living with them and with her assistance they are able to conduct the little farm pretty much the same as they did when they purchased the place and occupied the place more than half a century ago.

While deprived of the privilege of reading, Mr. Baker possesses a fine memory and has the faculty of retaining what he hears from what is read to him and he can relate incidents that happened in the neighborhood more than seventy years ago.

MUSSER BROS. CONDUCT WONDERFUL POULTRY FARM

Very few people have any idea of the size of Musser Bros.' poultry farm, in East Donegal township, a short distance southwest of this town. It would more than pay any one interested in poultry to visit this farm.

They are sons of Mr. Benjamin O. Musser, and started in the poultry business a few years ago. Now they have leased their father's large farm and although one of the best farms in the Donegals, a large percentage of the soil remains untilled. The balance of the land is used for raising poultry feed, such as corn and wheat.

At present they have 4,500 White Leghorn laying hens. Their eggs are nearly all shipped to New York City where they command fancy prices this year.

At present they have a site worth going miles to see. They have extended the business and are now raising broilers for the holiday markets. In one month's poultry output can be seen 4,000 baby chicks, all of heavy varieties, which they expect to market several months hence.

The Musser Bros. deserve great credit for the rapid growth of their business in so short a time.
