BIBLE INSTITUTE A SUCCESS— SECOND SEMESTER OF THE SCHOOL YEAR OPENED ON MONDAY

The Annual Bible Institute held during the week of January 17 to 24 closed on Sunday evening. This Institute was very strongly supported by the constituency of the college and by the community at large. Every session during the week opened at 8:40 A. M., with a large attentive audience. The evening sessions brought a full house. The crowds were increasing daily and on Saturday evening the auditorium in Memorial Hall could no longer hold the crowds and it became necessary to have overflow sessions in Alpha Hall. All Sunday sessions were held in town where more people could be accommodated. It is estimated that approximately eleven or twelve hundred people were in attendance at the Institute after afternoon sessions when Dr. W. G. Landis, Secretary of the World Sunday School Association, spoke.

The main instructors during the week were: Dr. A. C. Wicand, president of Bethany Bible School, Chicago; Elder R. H. Miller, pastor of the Church of the Brethren, North Manchester, Indiana; Professor Earl W. Flohr, Head of Religious Education, Blue Ridge College, Maryland; Dr. C. Ellis, president of Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa.; Reverend Stover Knip, Missionary from Africa; Dr. W. G. Landis, Secretary of World Sunday School Association.

An Anti-tobacco Essay Contest was held on Saturday evening in the College Chapel. The contestants comprised Sunday School pupils of Eastern Pennsylvania. The first prize of fifteen dollars in gold was awarded to Robert Gibble, of Lititz, Pa., who is a sophomore in the Lititz High School; the second prize of ten dollars in gold was awarded to Beulah Weaver, a high school pupil, of Harrisburg, Pa.; the third prize of five dollars in gold was awarded to Beulah Ziegler, of Lederach, Pa., who is a junior in Souderton High School. On account of the sudden illness of Dr. Edgar Fahs Smith, Ex-Provost of the University of Pennsylvania, he did not speak at the Saturday afternoon program. Dr. Harold, of Franklin and Marshall College substituted for Dr. Smith.

A very salient feature of the Friday Bible Institute was the period in which Elder Samuel Zug, of Palmyra, Pa., and Elder James Sell of Holidaysburg, Pa., gave very interesting addresses. Both of these men have served in the ministry for a period of sixty years. Elder Zug is now ninety-four years old, and Elder Sell is eighty-eight years old.

The second semester of the school year opened on Monday, January 24th, at 1 P. M. A few new students have enrolled for this semester. Any high school graduates finishing in mid-year can enroll for work. Prospective teachers are especially interested in this opportunity.

Mr. Charles C. Young '27, of Vernfield, Pa., and Miss Mabel Bomberger '26, of Lebanon, Pa., were quietly married by the Reverend James B. Shisler, at Vernfield, on Saturday evening at 8 P. M., at the home of Mr. Young. After the couple returned the students felt that there still remained an unfinished task, and in view of that opinion, serenading began at ten P. M. and continued for a short time without interruptions.

The Junior and Senior classes, of which the couple are members, also gave them a very fine reception and a kitchen shower in the college dining room, on Monday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Young now have their residence in the cottage on the college campus.

The sudden change in temperature has again made possible the all desired form of recreation, namely skating. Even though the transparent solidified precipitation is not very smooth, students are seeking their recreation on the lake.

Some of the students and faculty attended the funeral of Mrs. J. H. Longenecker, of Palmyra, on Saturday afternoon at two P. M.

SIXTY YEARS OF HAPPINESS

Mr. and Mrs. Reuben S. Risser, formerly of this place, celebrated their sixtieth wedding anniversary at the home of their daughter, Mrs. W. L. McKay, 2308 Central street, Evanston, Ill.

Their many friends here will be more than pleased to learn that Mr. and Mrs. Reuben S. Risser, former residents here but now living at 2308 Central street, Evanston, Ill., celebrated their sixtieth wedding anniversary just recently.

Mr. Risser for many years conducted the Elkhorn Laundry here, being quite successful. We reprint the following from the Evanston Review: While the greater part of their married life has been lived in Pennsylvania, where both were born, they have made their home here for the last seventeen years with their daughter, Mrs. W. L. McKay. There is but six months' difference in their ages. Mr. Risser being 85 years of age and Mrs. Risser six months younger. Both were born in Mt. Joy, Pa. They retain their membership in the Presbyterian church there. With the exception of a few years' residence in Nebraska, that place has been their home throughout the greater portion of their married life. Mr. Risser is a G. A. R. veteran, having served during the latter part of the war with 10th Pennsylvania Emergency brigade. They are parents of two children, Mrs. McKay and Phillip Risser. The families of the two joined in a quiet, informal celebration of the wedding anniversary with a holiday dinner Christmas Eve at the McKay home. Both the celebrators are in good health and alert to matters of the moment in their community and the world at large.

Mrs. Harry W. Eshleman, on Delta street, in this place, is the only surviving niece on the Risser side of the above couple and Mr. Frank Hershey, on East Main street, local health officer, is the only nephew on Mrs. Risser's side.

DEER THOUGHT TO BE FREE OF FOOT-AND-MOUTH DISEASE

The eradication of foot-and-mouth disease among deer in California is apparently complete, says the United States Department of Agriculture. During the 1924 outbreak of the disease among domestic animals in that State the infection reached deer in Stanislaus National Forest. At that time many persons considered efforts to eradicate so virulent a disease from wild deer on the open range would be futile.

In undertaking the task Federal and State authorities faced a new problem, which was further complicated by public sentiment both for and against the destruction of the deer. But consideration for the safety both of domestic animals and of wild life resulted in the official decision to reduce the number of deer in the limited area infected, thereby preventing the disease from taking a heavy toll later over large areas.

The systematic campaign of hunting deer in the infected area has apparently stamped out the disease, as no case of infection has been observed since June 10. Since the disease had been eradicated from domestic animals in Calif., several months earlier the eradication of it from the deer finished a very difficult veterinary task.

MANY TALK AT MEETINGS DURING STATE FARM SHOW

One hundred and fifty speakers, many of them representing the Pennsylvania State College, talked to the 25 farm organizations which held educational meetings in Harrisburg during the State Farm Products Show. Besides the speeches there were scores of reports submitted, and discussions brought many others to their feet in the programs.

SHEEP MAY BE CARRIED ALL SUMMER ON FORAGE CROP

Use of forage crops for pasturing sheep in summer is a practical means of feeding them, according to the results of experiments conducted by the United States Department of Agriculture on its experiment farm at Beltsville, Md. Observations were made not only of the gains in weight but also of the general condition of the animals, including resistance to disease and parasites.

The crops used in this system of pastures in the order of use were as follows: Fall-sown rye, wheat, winter barley, oats, and Canada field peas, soy beans, corn and velvet beans, fall-sown winter barley, and winter wheat. It was shown that sheep can be raised successfully by using such crops as cowpeas, soy beans, and like plants to provide the entire summer pasturage. The method was beneficial also in the control of stomach worms and other internal parasites. By the method lambs can be grown to market weights without being visibly affected by parasite infestation. A frequent rotation of pasture made possible by this system is beneficial, but not entirely adequate, in controlling parasites of sheep carried on the farm throughout the year.
