EDITORIAL

SOCIALISM UNDERMINES DEMOCRACY

If all business men in the land were thoroughly imbued with the fundamental principle, that government ownership in any field is socialistic, destroys democracy, brings an oligarchy into political power, then no local business man would back any such scheme, how ever appealing in its local aspects.

PERIODICAL INVESTIGATION

Consumption of gasoline during first four months of this year exceeded that of any similar period—more than 20 per cent greater than first quarter consumption last year. Surplus stocks have been greatly reduced, and an unusually heavy summer demand is expected. A slight increase in price of crude oil and gasoline has resulted from these unsurpassed demands, and the Senate has directed Federal Trade Commission to investigate the situation, alleging price-fixing methods.

This may be the result in much testimony being taken during the summer, but the industry appears to have become accustomed to these investigations, as they have been in almost continuous progress since the close of the war. They all cost the taxpayers money, but they furnish campaign material and jobs for public employes.

TAXATION

Federal taxes were reduced $1, 974,000,000 from 1919 to 1924, or 39 per cent; while state taxes, during the same period, increased 87 per cent and local taxes, 56 per cent.

In spite of federal economies, total taxes today constitutes a greater drain on our national resources than before.

Ogden Mills says we are confronted with three very definite questions—First, whether costs of state and local governments are excessive judged from the standpoint of whether we could not get the present service at lower cost; secondly, whether existing methods of financing these costs are sound economically; and, third, whether our state and local tax systems are not in need of a thorough overhauling in the interest of a fairer allocation of the burden.

The danger from most "overhauling" scheme, is that new methods of taxation are devised without removing old tax burdens. The great game of states and cities seem to be "how to get more taxes," rather than how to reduce the per capita tax load.

USE HORSE SENSE

In the campaign of education to prevent forest fires, a suggestion is made that campers and picnickers carry with them "long-handled shovels" to be used in smothering camp fires with earth, says an exchange.

A better suggestion would be, for each camper or picniker to carry a little "long headedness" into the fire hazard zones. A camping party plentifully supplied with common sense and longheadedness, will not need other materials with which to cope with the remains of a sensible fire.

Prevent fires through moderate, reasonable use of the forests. Protect the right to renew your youth by occasional contact with nature, unhampered by other men, and there will be no need for carrying creative weapons into the woods.

It is the unthinking, boastful fool who misses the privileges of enjoying nature at her best, and such individuals are a menace wherever they are to be found. They do not have to go camping to demonstrate it.

WHY AMERICA PROSPERS

Mass production, invention genius, elimination of class hatred, and recognition by labor and capital that only a prosperous industry can pay high wages, are among principal factors contributing to the high level of industrial development and prosperity among all classes in Our Country, declares secretary Mellon. In a recent radio address, he said: "Our wealth has come from two sources. It is due, in part, to our great natural resources and in large measure to the efficiency of our industrial organization. That organization, by utilizing labor-saving devices and other inventions and discoveries, has succeeded in keeping wages and profits at a high level, and diffusing prosperity among a larger number of people than has ever known it before.

"As a result, America is now the richest nation in the world. We have a greater income per capita than any other nation. Our standard of living is higher, and we are now the leading industrial nation and the world's greatest creditor. "It is organized industry that has brought about the present unprecendented development in this country.

RHEEMS

The Rheems Rural Telephone Company met at the office of Harry K. Landis, Friday evening.

Miss Hazel Garber, of Rheems, spent the Fourth at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William Hassinger, at Florin. Cherries are an abundant crop in this vicinity. A. S. Bard has disposed of 300 quarts from his cherry hill, with about 400 or more quarts to pick.

As there is no ordinance at Rheems restricting the sale and explosion of fireworks, the Fourth of July spirit continues for about sixty days each year.

Miss Alida W. Greider entertained the following guests in her home in Rheems: Misses Ruth M. Kuhn, Ruth M. Kaylor and Anna H. Winters, of Mount Joy; F. A. Crouse, emergency P. R. R. telegraph operator from Lancaster, filled the vacancy at KU tower 11 to 7 during the absence of Amos G. Brandt, of Elizabethtown.

Church of the Brethren will hold their regular morning services at Florin next Sunday. In the evening they will hold them in their Florin house.

Harry Rohrer, of Rheems, State Board Compensation Clerk, made a tour throughout the western part of the state, accompanied by his wife and son, Junior, in their Overland sedan, covering over 300 miles without any mishap or delay. J. L. Heisey & sons, of Rheems, deserve much credit for the float they displayed in the Elizabethtown Pageant Saturday, July 3rd. As it represented a modern business system, it could not be classed as a prize winner. It had the spirit of 1926, with artistic workmanship.

Some of the oldest farmers in this vicinity claim 1926 has the record for late harvesting. As a rule, whole fields of wheat can be seen on shock about July 1. Last year J. L. Heisey and sons received a car load of new wheat threshed from the fields July 6th. At present there is no indications of harvesting. Record breaking yields are reported from the tall straw that is bending over with golden grain.

The Cope Sweet Corn Evaporating Company, at Rheems, who furnish certified seed for nearly three hundred acres distributed among the leading farmers in a certain radius of their factory. They made tours of inspection in order to have it grown to the best advantage of all concerned. They advise stalks to be separated, the required distance in order to grow large perfect ears that will yield four or more tons per acre.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Barberi and daughter, who were spending some time with friends in the woods, left Thursday for New York.

Here's one would knock you for a row of crutches: One of the High School graduates asked me who this fellow Cy Kology is that Prof. Bair frequently speaks of.

It has made possible a uniform, and therefore, a cheaper production of commodities with distribution and consumption of goods over a wide area, so that in America we now consider as necessities many things which were luxuries to the preceding generation.

Both labor and capital are beginning to realize that they have a common interest in building up the great industries which are sources of wealth for all, and that in America, with the opportunities which it offers and the constant transition from poverty to wealth, there is no place for class antagonisms or class warfare.

"We have found in this country, that by investigating heavily in labor-saving machinery, we can increase the productive capacity per capita of labor, also eliminate waste which is such an important factor in the attainment of national prosperity. In this way, we can pay high wages and still reduce costs, so that the finished products are within reach of the average man."

Life's Turning Point in Wonderful Career

Shortly after John W. Gates—"Bet You-a-Million" Gates—became head of the Illinois Steel company, and was just coming into recognition as an important figure in finance, he lost almost his entire fortune through speculation in grain on the Chicago board of trade. Though Gates made no mention of his loss to his private secretary until many years later, he made no attempt to keep secret from his wife the details of his reverses.

"Dell, I guess they got me at last," Gates told Mrs. Gates that evening as he unfolded the story of his unfortunate speculation, according to O. A. Owen, who was private secretary to the financial wizard, writing in the Saturday Evening Post.

"You are not whipped," she exorted. "Your credit and reputation are intact. I am the only one who knows you are cleaned out. Tell no one else, strain your credit and you can raise enough money to keep you going until the tide turns."

That appears to have been the true turning point in the career of "Bet You-a-Million" Gates. Never again after that time was he within $50,000,000 of destitution, and at the time of his death in 1911 his personal fortune aggregated more than $100,000,000.

Priceless Old Books

The earliest arithmetic published in the City of Mexico in 1623. No copy of this book, which would be worth a fortune, is known to exist. The second, also published in Mexico, came out in 1649 and was also believed to have vanished completely. Recently, however, a copy has turned up in the Garcia library at the University of Texas, the oldest arithmetic of all that have been published in the New world.
