Two Valuations On Nissly Firm

MEMBERS OF COMPANY DECLARE BOOK VALUES WERE IGNORED IN REPORT FOR CREDITORS

A new valuation was placed on the assets of E. L. Nissly and Sons, of Florin, when members of the firm were preparing their statement for creditors. H. Roy Nissly declared Wednesday during a hearing in bankruptcy before Redmond Conyngham in Court Room No. 2.

Nissly said the statement given to banks in November contained assets as listed on the company's books, but denied there had been any attempt to create a false impression relative to the company's financial condition. Book values, he said, were ignored in drawing up the final statement.

The witness further revealed that the firm's books had been consulted in making out the income tax, and that those returns might have been incorrect.

The books showed the merchandise of the firm worth $240,000, a difference of $140,000 from the statement given the creditors. The

MR. JOSEPH SHEAFFER MAKES NARROW ESCAPE

While driving toward town last Tuesday evening Joe Sheaffer a resident of this borough, had a narrow escape from what might have been instant death.

Driving at a moderate rate of speed a few hundred feet west of the Florin arch the wind blew a large tree branch on the concrete. Unable to stop Joe turned his car to the right to avoid hitting the obstruction and discovered that a high tension wire had been torn from one of the poles and was hanging across his path. Upon hitting the wire, it tore it in two showering the car with sparks which made a good contact. Lucky for Joe as there was no damage done except where the wire burnt the top of the car. The hood, radiator lights and fenders show marks on the wire.

Co. May Collect Tolls on Bridge

ONE OBSTACLE WAS REMOVED WHEN COMMISSIONERS WERE GRANTED PERMISSION BY HIGHWAY DEPT.

Commissioners of Lancaster and York counties have been granted permission by Acting Secretary of the State Highway Department William H. Connell, to collect tolls on the proposed bridge over the Susquehanna between Columbia and Wrightsville.

The permit authorizes the counties to collect tolls under the Act of Assembly of June 25, 1923, in amount sufficient to pay the interest and sinking fund charges on bonds proposed to be issued by the two counties to the amount of $3,000,000.

This announcement was made recently in a letter received from Connell by Walter B. Hays, solicitor of York county.

The granting of the privilege to collect tolls removes one of the obstacles in the plan of the counties of York and Lancaster to build the bridge under the Act of 1923.

The status of the bridge project in Lancaster county is at a standstill pending the decision of the local court on the injunction proceedings instituted by two taxpayers protesting against the building of the bridge under the Act of 1923, on the grounds that this act is unconstitutional.

The grounds of the new building have been graded and grass sown. The walk was extended from the building to the street and pavement was laid in front of the building to the street. The borough is now filling up to meet the grading.

Salunga People Terror-Stricken

FOUR CURIOUS YOUTHS EX-PLODE SIXTY STICKS OF DYNAMITE ON FARM NEAR THAT VILLAGE

The origin of the terrific blast which shook houses and buildings in Salunga and vicinity was solved when state police from Manheim arrested four young men for exploding about sixty sticks of dynamite on the farm of Howard Peifer, near Salunga.

After their arrest, the quartet, Earl Hess, 23 years old, Henry Breneman, 22 years old, and Earl Way, 18 years old, all of Salunga, and Richard Shuman, 21 years old, of Lancaster R. D. 1, pleaded guilty before Justice of the Peace George C. Danner, of Manheim, to charges of malicious mischief.

They were released when they made good the amount of damage they did to Peifer's farm and also paid fines and costs.

Last Friday about the usual quietness which pervades the village of Salunga was rudely shattered by a violent blast, followed by the trembling of houses.

The Peifer household, which was already in bed, were thrown to the floor, every window in the house was broken, the fence knocked down, and a hole torn in the field large enough to bury an ordinary barn.

People living within a half mile also were shocked by the concussion and many window panes in the vicinity were broken.
