EDITORIAL

BANK ACCOUNTS Everybody understands that the business of the country could not be carried on without banks. And people are rapidly coming to realize that every individual who has any business worth the name needs, the facilities which the bank alone can afford. Every young man, especially, should open an account with a local bank at once if he hasn't done so.

CAMPING SEASON

Isn't it funny, how the people that fuss and fume for perfect convenience in every day life, are the strongest for camping at this season. At home, things must run as smooth as a pleasant thought, but in camp, the rougher and more crude the arrangements the better they like it. At home it would be a hanging offense for a fly or mosquito to invade the room, but in camp life the red bugs are relished.
