Names Personnel Of New Syndicate

"MIKE" HOFFMAN GIVES THE NAMES OF THOSE WHO WERE BUYING BACK PROPERTIES FOR HIM

The personnel of the Thomas E. Schadt Syndicate, organized to purchase certain properties of the bankrupt Hoffman estate, was revealed last Wednesday and put into the official record at a hearing to the Hoffman bankruptcy investigation before Referee Redmond Conyngham in court room No. 2.

The members of the syndicate, according to Michael R. Hoffman, Jr. are Dr. Schadt, Allentown and Maytown, his brother-in-law; Dr. and Mrs. D. Sherman Smith, this city, an David Borton, Esq., Philadelphia.

Hoffman gave this information after a half-hour's grilling during which time he attempted to disclaim any knowledge as to the personnel of the syndicate.

While every attorney involved knew privately who composed the syndicate, Hoffman was placed on the stand to give the names so they would get into the record.

Threats of contempt of court proceedings and advice of attorneys finally caused Hoffman to abandon his evasive replies.

Hoffman had said he did not know who composed the syndicate, and off the record, Attorney Myers said to him quietly:

"Mike aren't you in trouble enough? Do you want to get into the district court and the penitentiary?"

"I guess I get there anyway," Hoffman replied.

He was then called aside and his counsel together with counsel for the trustees gave him advice, the latter telling him they did not wish to get him into any more trouble.

Hoffman then returned to the stand and gave the desired testimony, saying he had a power of attorney from Dr. Schadt to negotiate with a number of purchasers of Hoffman properties at recent bankrupt sales in an endeavor to buy the properties.

Guy S. Hoffman supplemented his brother's testimony with the declaration that Dr. and Mrs. Smith have raised $17,000 to take care of these proposed purchases so that the properties will return to the possession of the Hoffman family.

DOE HUNTING SEASON SET DEC. 17-21 IN 3 COUNTIES

The open season for hunting does announced by the game commission for December 17, 18, 20 and 21 in parts of Clearfield, Huntington and Monroe counties is due largely to damage sustained by farmers from deer, J. B. Truman, secretary of the commission, said. The abundance of the animals in these sections has produced a scarcity of their natural food with the result they have been grazing over wheat fields and eating the tender shoots of orchard trees.

The sections opened to this special season include Bloom, Brady, Huston, Sandy and Union townships in Clearfield county; Jackson, Oneida and part of Todd townships in Huntington county; and Ross and Tobyhanna townships, in Monroe county.

To take advantage of this shooting, sportsmen will obtain a special license costing $2. Farmers, however, will be permitted to hunt on their own lands without license. Each hunter may kill one deer without visible horns, the secretary said.

TWO COVERED BRIDGES MAY BE REMOVED

Hearings Held On Tobacco Claims

REFEREE CONYNGHAM HEARS PETITIONS FOR GOODS IN HANDS OF HOFFMAN TRUSTEES

The reclamation hearing for tobacco in the hands of the trustees in bankruptcy of the Hoffman Leaf Tobacco Company, was held last week before Referee Raymond Conyngham, at Lancaster.

The greater part of the time was taken up with the hearing of the claim of N. R. Hoffman and B. F. Hoffman, trading as Hoffman Brothers, of Bainbridge, who claim 1,385 cases of tobacco. This tobacco the Hoffman Brothers say they purchased from the Hoffman Leaf Tobacco Company prior to December 1, 1925. N. R. Hoffman testified there were a large number of cases of tobacco in the warehouse at Greenville, Ohio, and some at Maytown, all of which was their tobacco.

M. R. Hoffman, Sr., testified that the tobacco had been sold to Hoffman brothers before January 1, 1926. It was worth over $104,000. On a lengthy cross-examination it was brought out that the tobacco had been in the Greenville warehouse, and it had been left over from the 1917 crop after C. E. Bair and Sons had received their consignment.

W. L. Mains, warehouse foreman for the Hoffman Leaf Tobacco Company, at Greenville, testified he had no tobacco set aside for Hoffman Brothers as was customary with other sales. He had received letters and telegrams from Hoffman, concerning tobacco to be shipped to Rosenwald. After setting aside the Bair tobacco the others were allowed to lay on the floor for some time. Later invoices were sent to the Marietta office but it was shown that the invoices had been made out for the tobacco on the last day it was weighed and packed in Greenville.

M. R. Hoffman, Jr., was called and testified it was not uncommon for invoices to be made prior to receiving the weight from the Greenville warehouse. This was done to expediate matters, he said.

Claim for 351 Cases

A claim was presented by the Penn Cigar Company, of Pittsburgh, for 331 cases of tobacco in (Turn to page 6)

Griest Proposes Lower Mail Rates

LANCASTER CO. CONGRESSMAN INTRODUCES BILL PROVIDING FOR SUBSTANTIAL REDUCTIONS

Reductions in post card rates and handling and special delivery parcel post charges are proposed in a bill introduced in the House of Representatives Monday, by W. W. Griest of this district.

The bill would cut post card rates in half, reducing them from two cents to one cent and cut special delivery and handling charges on parcel post to the following:

Not over two pounds, 15 cents.
Two to ten pounds, 25 cents.
Over 10 pounds, 35 cents.

Parcel post will be given the status of first class mail when it contains special delivery and handling stamps, under the bill.

Present rates on post cards are: One cent on government post cards; and one-half cent on private mailing cards containing advertisements, and two cents on picture cards.

All of these charges, now made to discourage the use of old size cards which hinder handling mails, would be reduced to one cent under the Griest bill.

Under the present law, special delivery and handling. Mail is especially handled for 25 cents, regardless of weight, in addition to the usual postage per weight. Parcels weighing from two to ten pounds are especially delivered for 15 cents and over 10 pounds for 20 cents. The special delivery charge on letters is 10 cents.
