The plans call for the new structure to be erected 125 feet further toward the river from the present bridges. It will be one single span as the fork of the creek is to be removed permitting the stream to flow in one cannel.

The southern approach will begin on the side of Chickies hill above the large brick house at the sharp curve at the top of the steep grade several hundred feet from the present bridges.

The bridge will be constructed diagonally from the present road to come out on the boulevard recently constructed to eliminate the

HAILSTONES AT E'TOWN— BUT NEARLY YEAR OLD

H. T. Horst, Center Square Elizabethtown, has in his possession a number of hailstones which he gathered after the severe hail storm we had in July, 1926. The stones now range in size from an inch to Landisville and Mount Joy, near an inch and a half in diameter, and are practically the same as they were when he picked them up in his yard last July, with the exception that they have changed color, which Mr. Horst says occurred within a few days after the storm. Mr. Horst placed them in a new refrigerator just for curiosity to see how long he could keep them.
