The belief was expressed that the fire was caused by sparks from a Pennsylvnia Railroad locomotive, as the land is along the tracks.

After burning over quite an area of land on the Stoll farm, the fire ignited a woodshed standing at the edge of a group of small buildings near the farmhouse.

Section Foreman Herman, town, was passing the place and first discovered the fire. He immediately reported it here and Friendship Fire company responded. The firemen pumped a well dry and a cisroof of a brick smoke by the flames were saved by the firemen. The Salunga Fire Company also
