EDITORIAL

HOW CAN IT BE DONE

A few good brood sows, some honest-to-goodness cows, and some chickens on every small farm with personal attention and determination to apply business methods in farm expense and family comforts will assure the man on the farm an independence which the rest of the world might hope for. He can have his car—if he economizes—and still live on the farm income. With all our farming handicaps, the small farm in charge of a good manager and one who is willing to work and save, is the most independent business enterprise of which we know at this time.

DON'T MEAN A THING

The second-class townships in Pennsylvania are seemingly out of luck and are bitterly opposed to the present State Aid plan. By it townships can get two or three miles of costly roads per annum by matching the state's money but what does that amount to? What each township needs is money added to its portion and let the respective supervisors make as many miles of better roads as is possible each year. In that manner it wouldn't be long before each township would at least have hard instead of mud roads. What we and everybody else wants is less or no mud roads.
The Bulletin believes in good roads but it does not approve of the state ripping up perfectly good macadam roads and making them concrete. Improve all roads as best you can.

LIDY AND HIS FLYING

President Herbert Hoover has expressed the hope that Colonel Charles Lindbergh will exercise more care about his flying and not take too many chances. This expression by Mr. Hoover will meet with rather general approval throughout the nation. Colonel Lindbergh, because of his achievements during the past two years, has become a highly valuable man to the United States. He is just entering what is hoped will prove to be a long period of usefulness. Only 27 years of age, he has before him at least a half century of active service.
Our nation is just entering the era of aeronautics. Colonel Lindbergh is the one outstanding individual we need at this time to guide us in this line of development. For these reasons, our people have a right to express the hope Lindbergh will exercise judgment in his flying and not give what is known as the "law of averages" an opportunity to take him from us.

REPUTATION

A good reputation is not something that can be put on ice and preserved.
Reputation, like its synonym good will, must be freshly earned each day.
Reputation is a guide to the buyer and a stimulus to the seller. To the buyer it is a sign-post to merit. To the seller, the owner of the reputation, it is a challenge to keep faith.
The business houses that have earned and enjoy enviable good will are the beacon lights of industry. They set the standards high and hold to it against all temptation. It has been said that no great harm is done when a mediocre product is lowered in quality. The shock is in the lowering of high quality-high ideals.
Every house that has won worthwhile recognition among its trade senses the compulsion to go forward, ever aspiring to higher achievement. It is inescapable.
How valuable is this tyranny of idealism to the buyer! His assurance of fair treatment and complete satisfaction rests on something more binding than a good bond, for the responsibility of keeping a reputation fresh and wholesome will conscript the heart and soul and mind of man.

HERBERT HOOVER, PRESIDENT
Herbert Hoover went into the White House as President of the United States because he was the choice of nearly 60 per cent of all of the American people. Today he is the president of 100 per cent of the American people.

No doubt President Hoover realizes that he has been entrusted with the welfare of the entire country, and not that alone of the party which elected him.
Since the majority expressed their preference for Mr. Hoover each one of us in fairness should give him 100 per cent support. His duty to us is matched exactly by our obligation to him. We must not expect the one without giving the other. The election is over, the choice of the people has been established. Now it behooves us to become patriots instead of partisans, and to give our undivided support to the majority selection for leadership.

Such co-operation is our contribution to national prosperity. The measure of our support to Mr. Hoover is certain to be the measure of his usefulness to us.

Let's forget partisanship. Herbert Hoover is not the president of a party, or a section, or a group. He is our president. Let's get behind him as a united people, and support him as a unit.

Prof. Tillman H. Ebersole, supervising principal of the local public schools, announced that the average attendance during the month has been 97 per cent.

The school board is planning to secure a bronze tablet containing the names of the members of the board, principal, architect, builder and information "The Elizabethtown Junior-Senior High School," to be placed on the wall of the corridor to the new building.

Automobile owners Thursday looked to their insurance policies and indulged in some financial mental arithmetic when an alarm of fire came from the Hassinger and Risser Garage, but the sparks were only coming from a chimney and not the garage.

At a meeting Thursday night of the Elizabethtown Lodge No. 128 of Independent Order of Odd Fellows, the following new officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, S. B. Becker, Jr.; Vice President, Edward S. Rutt; Secretary, Albert K. Garman; Treasurer, Joseph Helm; and Trustee, Ambrose S. Plummer.

The tax collector, Mrs. Mary Kuhn, appeared before the school board and requested exonerations of delinquent school tax payers amounting to approximately $350 of 1927 taxes, which were granted, after others on the list of delinquents were refused by the board. Taxes to the amount of $393 of the 1927 duplicate and $650 of the 1928 duplicate were returned to the board by the tax collectors, as collected.

Commencement at Elizabethtown High school will be held on Monday, June 3, it was decided by the members of the local school board at a monthly meeting, Tuesday night. A committee consisting of Prof. Tillman H. Ebersole and Secretary C. E. Balmer, was appointed for the purpose of procuring a speaker. The settlement of a civil suit for damages against the borough by Charles M. Eshleman for damages suffered through the installation of the Sanitary Sewer system at North Spruce and the proposed extension of East Hummelstown streets, was ratified Tuesday night by borough council. Mr. Eshleman will receive $450 out of which the costs of legal negotiations shall be paid by Mr. Eshleman as the prosecutor. A jury of viewers appraised the damages at $377.80, while Eshleman claimed damages of $700.

Many poultry growers in northern parts of the country are finding straw lofts a good investment for the poultry house. Gable-roofed houses are especially well adapted for this, a layer of straw being put in the gable about 7 feet above the floor. The straw keeps the house dry by absorbing moisture and keeps it warm in winter and cool in summer by insulation.

FARQUHAR
"Non-Wrap" SPREADER

MAKES AN Even Distribution THEREBY

Producing Greatest Yield for the Farmer

EVEN DISTRIBUTION is possible only when beaters deliver an even stream to the distributor. The "Non-Wrap" Beaters of this spreader positively assure complete pulverization and regular, even feed no matter how heavy or light the application.

Uniformly increased fertility brings more money to the farmer. He spends less for labor, saves time, and hauls manure when it is most convenient, for no matter what kind or condition of the manure, the "Non-Wrap" makes an even distribution.

It is distinctly to your interest to know about the "Non-Wrap" Spreader. Write today for Big Bulletin.

TAGS TO CAROLINA CARS WOULD REACH TO CALIFORNIA OR

All motor vehicles licensed in Pennsylvania during 1928 placed end to end would reach 4875 miles, the equivalent of an end-to-end line from the Capitol to the Rose Bowl in Pasadena, Calif., and back again.

Compared with the total improved mileage in the State, this gives each vehicle a cruising radius of less than a half mile, although each is entitled to a quarter-mile of dirt road on the system, in addition.

Pennsylvania issued 1,714,306 sets of license plates for motor vehicles in 1928. Tag manufacture consumed 1,288 tons of special steel, requiring fifty-seven freight cars for transportation. Piling these tags in column form would create a stack 4.7 miles high, while end to end the tags would form an enameled steel ribbon linking the Capitol with Raleigh, N. C.

Consistent and NOT spasmodic advertising always pays best. Each time you stop advertising, the public thinks you quit business.

Thousands of dollars last Thursday when it completely wrecked the tobacco shed on the farm on which Charles Ricendorf lives. The entire roof of the Daniel Erb do garage was carried off the street, the large chimney was blown down, Mrs. Susan Wolgemuth was scattered on the roof and the sign boards along the street were leveled to the ground. Numerous out buildings were damaged.
