LOCAL GROWERS WILL ATTEND POTATO SHOW

The biggest potato event of the year for Pennsylvania growers will be the holding of the Pennsylvania Potato Exposition at State College on August 19-22, 1929. This exposition will include discussions of seed, fertilization, rotations, and demonstrations in spraying, digging, grading, storing, and marketing. All of the potato machinery firms will be there with the latest and most complete lines; real sales of potatoes will be made with the big buyers on the ground who will explain their preference; all of the evenings will be taken up with pageants and entertainments built up on potato industry; all of the time at the exposition will be taken up with plenty of things of interest to the ambitious grower.

Every potato growing county of the state will be represented by delegations which should total five or six thousand persons. All growers in Lancaster County are invited to join the Lancaster-York Auto tour which will leave Lancaster at 7:30 A. M. on Tuesday, August 20. One stop will be made enroute to the college at the Richter potato farm north of Harrisburg. All growers who contemplate making this trip should make their reservations at once, by notifying Amos Eberly, Chairman, 642 Woolworth Building, Lancaster, Pa. Otherwise they cannot be assured of lodging accommodations at State College. The Lancaster delegation proper will leave Tuesday morning and return Wednesday night, but anyone can extend the visit longer if he so desires.
