According to scientists, discoveries in Egypt prove that the flapper's rouge and lipstick are six thousand years old. But we still maintain that the rumble seat is a modern invention.

The Illinois farmers are said to be equipping their scarecrows with radio loud speakers to frighten the birds away—which indicates that crows must have musical ears if not musical voices.

HEALTH TALK

WRITTEN BY DR. THEODORE B. APPEL, SECRETARY OF HEALTH

"The term 'high pressure' is so commonly used these days that its real significance is 'oft' times unappreciated. One frequently hears of the high pressure salesman, of high pressure business and of our high pressure civilization. And in nine cases out of ten, if a person gives the matter any thought at all, he is inclined to be excusably proud of the magnificent results along many lines that have been more or less due to this high pressure principle," said Doctor Theodore B. Appel, Secretary of Health.

"And while there is no desire to minimize the value of highly concentrated and sustained effort and the outstanding achievements that have resulted therefrom, there is on the other hand such a thing as riding a good horse to death."

"There may be some excuse, and in many instances a real necessity, to keep business in high gear by driving at top speed. But the point is that in this process machines rather than human flesh and blood are most likely to be called upon to bear the brunt of the strain. And if they crack, as all machines will, others can readily be substituted for them."

"Unfortunately, however, this high pressure idea has so gradually and fully invaded present-day life that many hundreds of thousands of Americans have developed a well defined and easily recognizable high pressure complex."

"Hence, we find the highways filled with automobile drivers who sit tensely at the wheel, with the foot on the gas and with the indicators way past the reasonable driving limit. Follow, accidents and a painfully increasing automobile mortality rate."

"Again, the art of eating has been reduced in countless instances to the unfortunate level of a quick luncheon or hurried meal to the end that valuable time may be saved (for an unascertained purpose) with consequent indigestion and kindred ailments."

"Also, many so styled recreations are so high pressured that loss of sleep and energy is an inevitable result. Indeed, individual habits have been so keyed up that many people rely on coffee, and other mild stimulants to keep them up to scratch, thus throwing moderation completely to the winds."

"What such persons forget is that human bodies, in themselves machines, have limits as well as have the mechanical types, but that unlike man-made ones, the replacement factor does not exist."

"It follows that the high pressure idea which causes the individual constantly to lose sleep, to keep his nerves forever on edge, to outrage his system with hurried meals and to use mild stimulants excessively is a most unwise, unhealthy and unsafe one."

"High pressure business if you will and must, but take the high pressure out of your living if happy, healthy and lengthy life is desired. Press down on high pressure by keeping it in its proper and logical place."

AUTO CLUB TO SHOW "CROSSROAD PUZZLE" FILM

Borough officials, teachers, parents and others in this section who are interested in highway safety are invited to attend the meeting of the Lancaster Automobile Club to be held Friday evening, January 24, in Odd Fellows Hall, West Chestnut street, between Water and Mulberry streets, Lancaster. At this meeting there will be a special showing of the motion picture, "The Cross-Road Puzzle," sponsored by the American Automobile Association and the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce in the interests of uniform traffic regulations throughout the nation.

The picture deals with the traffic problem in a graphic way and has all of the interest found in films of the better sort. Professional experience has been drawn on for the characters, and the faces of those in the leading roles will be familiar to most movie fans. The picture was directed by experts.

The story has to do with Dad and Mother Miller who, inspired by the departure of their daughter on her honeymoon, decide to have a belated one of their own. Niagara Falls and New York City are their destinations, although a long way from their home in Iowa. With enthusiasm at a high mark they start but, the eternal tangle has not been reckoned with. Actual traffic snarls, "hard-boiled" and mild-mannered policemen, including a home-town boy; lack of uniformity in regulations, and signs by the thousands form the basis for the story.

Realizing that it is a picture all who are interested in motoring should see, S. Edward Gable, president of the Auto Club, arranged for a special showing in Lancaster. The spacious Odd Fellows Hall provides ample seating accommodations and there is plenty of parking space in the vicinity of the building, which is located less than a block from the Post Office in Lancaster.

The business meeting of the Club, which will precede the showing of the film, will start at 8 o'clock. The general public is invited to attend.

WEASELS INCREASE DESPITE SLAUGHTER

Despite man's constant warfare on weasels, bounty claims handled by the Game Commission indicate a steady increase in the number killed. A weasel is one of the few animals which has no natural enemies.

During the first half of the present fiscal year 36,352 bounty claims for weasels were received. That number exceeds the usual total for an entire year prior to 1926.

Claims for gray foxes average about 7000 a year. Although 278 claims for wild cats were paid in the last fiscal year, officers believe they are slowly being exterminated, except in the most rugged sections of the Commonwealth.
Miss MacDonald, returning home, tells the Britishers they shouldn't come over here with a superiority complex. That's probably true, but if they didn't have it our internationalists would give them one before they had given her very long.

THE COUNTRY NEWSPAPER OF GREAT VALUE ACCORDING TO STATEMENT OF NOTED EDITORIAL WRITER—PROVEN BY FACTS

Arthur Brisbane, one of the best minds of the time, says:
"H. Z. Mitchell's 'Sentinel,' published at Bermidji, Minn., wins the prize as best weekly in the National Editorial Contest. This is a good time to remind the public in general, and national advertisers in particular, that country weekly newspapers are the most important organs of public opinion and protectors of public welfare.

"And, their advertising per mill line, is not exceeded by any publication, of any kind.

"The reader of a country weekly buys everything from shingles on the roof to cement in the cellar floor, and every advertiser has in him a possible customer."
