MODERN EDUCATION REVERSES OLD IDEAS

Business Institutes Use the Plan of Getting People to Think Rather Than Merely to Learn.

There is one general principle at e basis of all good teaching and it that a person learns more readily assimilating the experiences which himself encounters than in any her way, says Harold Stonier, Naonal Educational Director of the American Institute of Banking. This stitute is the educational section of American Bankers Association through which 35,000 bank men and vomen are receiving scientific instrucion in their chosen business.

"The most advanced people in eaching today are emphasizing the importance of activity on the part of the student," he says. "In the schoolroom of former days we often heard such phrases as, 'Be still,' 'Learn by heart,' 'Don't do that,' 'What does the say?' The newer education asks, 'What do you think?,' 'What was your reaction to that experiment?," What did you discover?, 'What rea Henry H. Koser, Notary Public ons have you for answer?'
The New School Calls for Action

"The 'expressing' school is taking the place of the repressing and listening school. The classroom is be coming an open forum, a studio of selfexpression, a place of mental growth. The modern concepts of education are personal experimentation, individual investigation, critical discussion and creative self-expression. The pupil really learns only as he is able to assimilate the new meanings of facts and principles with his previous experiences. Activities therefore constitute the pivotal force around which Totals 12 8 32 | are grouped the new factors in educa Referee, Graeff; Scorekeeper, tion. The primary responsibility of the teacher is to furnish a constant stream of activities which will afford the stimulating urge to mental growth

"Education is a process of experi encing, and the program of the insti tute is so arranged as to give the greatest opportunity to gain by such experience. Through this we develop the art of thinking. Thinking has been described as the ability to han-Friday, Apr. 18--At their place of liant 25-20 victory. Misses Auxer, dle experience and to bring it to bear on a problem.
