Happy Family in Stable Animals of many kinds and dispositions are living happily in the stable of a London milk distributing company. They are not only on friendly terms with the 100 horses, but with one another included in the private zoo are two Indian monkeys, a wild hare which has been tamed, a fox which accompanies her owner on walks about the city, and a number of rabbits, pigeons, canaries and foreign birds.

Oval Superstition The oval has not always been regarded as an unlucky stone. The superstition regarding its bad luck began in the fourteenth century at the time of the Black death, particularly in Venice. At that time the oval was a favorite of the Italian jewelers, but with one another included in the private zoo are two Indian monkeys, a wild hare which has been tamed, a fox which accompanies her owner on walks about the city, and a number of rabbits, pigeons, canaries and foreign birds.

Must Collect Life's Debt The world owes every one a living, that is true. But you're not going to get it unless you go out and collect it. The best apples are those that have to be picked from the tree; it's the poor ones that drop into your lap. —Grit.

A Chicago husband is asking the court for an injunction to restrain his wife from kidnapping him. We know a lot of husbands who would give a lot to know how he keeps so popular with his wife.
