THREE CENTS TAX AFTER JULY 1ST

A CENT A GALLON COMES OFF GASOLINE ON THE FIRST OF NEXT MONTH

Owners and operators of motor vehicles should not forget that at midnight June 30 the State's gasoline tax automatically is reduced one cent per gallon, Commissioner Benjamin G. Eynon of the Motor Vehicles Bureau advised today.

"No special order is necessary to bring about this result," Commissioner Eynon said. "The law which increased the rate per gallon to four cents provided also that the tax rate to three cents on July 1, 1930. "It is possible that here and there a gasoline vendor may overlook the law's provision; therefore owners and operators of cars and trucks should be on the alert. So far as is possible the Motor Vehicles Bureau will notify dealers of the change in rate."

The three-cent rate places Pennsylvania in the class with California, Delaware, Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Michigan, Minnesota, North Dakota and Washington, all of which levy a three-cent tax.

Pennsylvania inaugurated its gasoline tax in 1921. In that year twelve American states levied a one-cent tax, which Oregon increased its two-year-old levy of a cent to two cents. Colorado, Oregon and North Dakota pioneered in the gasoline levy, placing a penny tax per gallon in 1929. Colorado's tax is now four cents. Oregon's four and North Dakota three. Every American state now collects a gasoline tax, the rate in Florida being six cents per gallon. The cent-tax long ago disappeared.

"The last quarter of 1929," said Commissioner Eynon, "the average gasoline charge in fifty American cities was 21.2 cents per gallon. Nowhere else on the globe was it so low. In the Philippines the charge gasoline tax; in South Africa it was 40 cents, in Persia 51 cents, in Australia 58 cents, Columbia 60 cents, including a six-cent tax, and in La Paz, Bolivia, the charge was 64.8 cents per gallon."

ETOWN CEMETERY CO. MUST PAY THE TAXES

The Mount Tunnel Cemetery Company will be compelled to pay taxes to the Borough of Elizabethtown on its property through which sewers have been laid, it was decided by the Lancaster County Court in an opinion handed down this morning.

The case was reviewed in Argument court here Monday when attorneys for the Cemetery pleaded that since all the land through which the sewer lies has been sold for burial plots, no possible benefits could accrue to the cemetery of the owners. This it would not be liable for assessments, they claimed.

The Court in its opinion upheld the previous decision that there is nothing in the charter of the association which renders it exempt from municipal assessments. The necessity of the improvements is a matter for the city or town councils to decide and does not enter into the case in court.

The frontage on Maytown avenue where the sewers lie is 589 feet, the testimony showed and the claim is for $2,823.05, which is now due to the borough from the Cemetery.

DUNKARDS TALK ABOUT A CHANGE

ARGUE THAT "PARK AMUSEMENTS" HAVE NO PLACE IN CONFERENCE AT CLOSING SESSION

Although Milton Hershey, famed chocolate maker, fifteen years ago financed erection of a conference hall in Hershey Park especially for conventions of the Church of the Brethren, the Dunkards at the close of their 32nd Annual World Meeting there debated whether they should discontinue meeting at Hershey because "outrageous desecration of the Sabbath" took place during the present conference.

"Park amusement and other worldly pleasures" have no place in a church conference, it was argued by those who proposed that future meetings be held in more secluded places. The debate ended when the question should be held less often than annually was recommended to committee until next year.

Resolutions supporting the Eighteenth Amendment and deploring the prevalence of divorce as inimical to the institution of marriage and the sanctity of the home were passed by the conference.

The total amount involved is $185.

This was the first of a series of prosecutions to be started in Lancaster county, according to the investigators, Carl Steinbrook and A. E. Fillman.
