TO OPEN BRIDGE MONDAY, OCT. 6

leted in record-breaking time, engineers of the Wiley Maxon Construction company builders of the bridge, said Friday. Rapid strides made since the construction was started already have attracted the attention of builders throughout the nation and several magazine articles have been written lauding the construction company in charge.
The toll houses of English design are rapidly nearing completion. More than half the brick laying upon the completed spans also has been completed.
All but five of the spans of the bridge have been completed. Work upon these is progressing rapidly with three well on the way to completion. As soon as the remaining spans are completed, bricks upon the bridge roadway will be laid and the span practically will be ready for traffic.
According to an agreement reached between the bridge commission and the Pennsylvania Railroad, the railroad bridge over which all Lincoln Highway traffic passes at the present time will be closed to automobiles and pedestrians as soon as the inter-county span is opened.
Members of the commission also were planning to petition the Pennsylvania Public Service Commission within the next few weeks to set the rate of toll to be charged all automobiles and pedestrians using the new bridge.
The toll to be charged, according to Lancaster County Commissioners, will be based upon the cost of the construction, the expense of financing the undertaking and the rate at which the bonds are to be redeemed.
The rate of toll, however, is not expected to be much more than the present rate for car and driver now being levied by the Pennsylvania Railroad or the flat twenty-five cent rate charged to pass over the recently constructed Delaware River bridge in Philadelphia.
